"HEIRESS" FINDS WEALTH MEANS JAIL, SCANDAL, — EVEN SUICIDE?

Slovene Woman From Chicago Has Merry Time With Supposed Millions, But it All Ends in Arrests, Calamity and Suspected Drowning

By THOMAS GRADGRIND His best riches, ignorance of wealth — Golsmith

This philosophy is sound you'll admit after reading the adventures of a Chicago Slovene woman.

The story beneath the picture explained that Mrs. Taucher had fallen heir to her uncle's millions, made in a macaroni factory in Italy.

Sometime later we heard from Ljubljana. The Slovene metropolis had received Mrs. Taucher, gave dinners in her honor, interviewed her and showed her every other courtesy.

Then, suddenly, reports came that a Mrs. Taucher, along with a Cleveland Slovene girl, was arrested in Ljubljana, suspected of being an Italian spy.

Almost two years ago a dignified, well-bearing woman, somewhat stout, well dressed and platinum blonde came into our office with a young man.

Mrs. Taucher she was, she told us. And she was to exhibit the first Slovene movie in Cleveland.

Our last report came recently. A Joseph Allison signed bond for the blonde heiress.

Band "Bled" Plans Open-Air Concert

Bandmaster Writes On Music Slovenes Always Liked Here and At Home; Invites to Picnic.

Music has been one of the outstanding arts of the world throughout the ages. So it was with the Slovenes, for they were true lovers of music.

Slovenes migrated to the new country and with them they brought their love for music. Here they established musical organizations, among which remains our present Slovene band "Bled."

This band has done much to put Slovenes into the eyes of the public. The band will hold a picnic at the Slovene Society Home grounds, Recher avenue on July 15.

Mother of Slovene Judge Is Dead at 61

Mrs. Frances Lausche, Beloved Pioneer Woman Among Cleveland Slovenes Succumbs After Long Illness.

Mrs. Frances Lausche, head of the well-known Cleveland Slovene family died July 4 at 5 p. m. at a private sanitarium.

She is survived by Judge Frank Lausche, Dr. William J. Lausche, Josephine Wolf, Charles, attorney, and Harold and Mrs. Frances Urnaker.

Mrs. Lausche was one of the first pioneers in Cleveland among Slovenes. The saloon managed by herself and her husband was a haven for hundreds of immigrants who came here.

She was active in most all fraternal organizations, and always worked for the welfare of the community.

To Judge Frank Lausche, Dr. William Lausche, Charles and Harold Lausche, Mrs. Josephine Wolf and Mrs. Frances Urnaker we extend our deepest sympathies at the bereavement of their mother.

Slapniks in Tie for First in Class "Sea"

Defeat of Terminals by Kozans With Accompanying Slapnik Win Over Mutuals Brings About Tie.

Serb "Witch" Runs Into Milwaukee Law

Woman Who Practiced Abortion With Magical Formulas Is Arrested After Failing to Succeed.

MILWAUKEE — A Serb woman, Ana Juric, of this city, was the official witch of the Serb colony here, it was revealed after she was arrested for an illegal operation.

When Sophie Obradovic wanted an illegal operation performed on her, Juric used the methods once used by witches in "driving out the devil."

But after all this "witchcraft" didn't help the situation, Sophie refused to pay the agreed $50. The witch threatened her that she would wipe out the entire Obradovic family with her "prayers."

This incident clearly shows that Serbs are still superstitious, not only in Europe but in America as well.
