MALADJUSTMENTS

"Where can I get a job?" How often we hear this question. Since the present economic reversal made itself felt, the need for employment has reverberated throughout the world. The United States was among the last sovereign powers to feel the effects of overproduction exceeding demands. For the past three years the depression has increased unemployment problems. During the first year about five million people walking the streets. The second year the figure increased to approximately seven and eight million. And the third year finds twelve to fifteen million individuals looking for a job, according to certain statisticians.

In the face of human misery, deprivation, eviction from homes, the populace has been waiting patiently for better times to come. The old proverb, "While there is life, there is hope," is no better background to exemplify its point, for human beings continue to be optimistic in what the future holds for them.

This depression can't last forever. There is bound to be a break for the better." Such expressions reflect the frame of mind with its everlasting hope.

Unquestionably, the cycle of events comprising history will eventually bring forth improved industrial conditions. Demand for steel, the business barometer of this country, will gradually increase, and unfilled tonnage cause the steel mills to operate full time.

Popular demand of the labor unions throughout the country for a six-hour working day, and five days a week. The common belief is that shorter working hours mean more men employed, which means more people have money to spend, which in turn increases demand for food, manufactured products, etc. There is logic and common sense behind this point of view. If more people are gainfully employed it means increase in purchasing power. Thus, demand for commodities would soon equal the production, stabilize prices, and bring back normal conditions.

The working class of this country, part of which comprises the membership of our South Slavonic Catholic Union, is not making exorbitant demands in asking for an opportunity to make a living. Requirements of this group are small, for they are contented to have only the simple things of life.

Included in the simple things of life are compensation in case of sickness, insurance against death, so that dependents may be protected, and insurance against disability and accident.

That is why the working man is so eager and anxious to now just where he can find a job.

Two Public Weddings Will Be Held at Exposition

Monday Is the Deadline

In submitting articles for publication in the New Era, please keep in mind that your letter must reach the editorial office Monday of each week at the very latest, in order to have it appear in the same week's issue.

It is advisable to submit correspondence as early as possible, and thus eliminate any possibility of delay in the mails. If the article reaches the New Era office Tuesday, it means that it will appear in the following week's edition.

Most of the mail reaching this office on Tuesday has news that must appear in the next edition. All the editor can do is write a letter to the sender explaining why that particular article was not published in the same week's issue.

Please keep in mind the deadline—Monday of each week.

G. W. Member at Home

Cleveland, O.—Theresa Bajt, member of George Washington Lodge, No. 180, SSCU, has returned home from a two weeks' stay at Emergency Hospital, where she had undergone an emergency operation for appendicitis. She is now convalescing at her home, 979 Addison Rd. Members and officers of G. W. Lodge wish her a speedy recovery.

will be given after each of the weddings by the various foreign language groups participating in the staging of the exposition. Applications from young couples are now being received at the show headquarters, 1615 Guarantee Title Bldg.

The two couples selected by the Nationality Group Council, whose auspices the International Exposition is being staged, will be furnished with white gold wedding ring, an order on the Bing Furniture Co. household furnishings valued at $150 and a cash award. Various exhibitors at the show also have signified their intention of presenting gifts to the couples.

PATHFINDER NEWS

Gowanda, N. Y.—California, here we come! Just arrived from a hard-time party, but you'd never think there was hard times the way they were dressed. I'd certainly like to see a good-time party. It probably would be fit for a king in all its splendor and beauty.

Saturday night, Oct. 29, about 30 Pathfinders packed themselves in a bus, the noisy bunch taking seats at the rear end and the rest watching the driver and seeing that he goes the right way and not in the ditch. As soon as we were on our way some noise came out of a "cheese-box" and all the duets, quartets, doublets and what-nots harmonized with their sour notes, causing everyone to plug their ears with cotton. Who wouldn't? Well, we all arrived there on time to see the fireworks. Fireworks? Oh, yes, the stove was red-hot and everybody huddled around it. Looking around the dance hall I spied another "cheeser" with a "cheese-box." As soon as the music escaped the "cheese-box" the floor was crowded with couples (two couples—or was there one?).

Before the night was over, however, practically all were on the dance floor, having a merry old time. Those that were not dancing were probably in the kitchen, discussing politics.

Eats were served later in the evening and many became "hams" from stuffing themselves with "ham" sandwiches. When everybody had their fill of delicious home-made cakes, etc., someone, by mistake, overturned the table and everything went all over the floor, making the floor quite slippery. Mary Sladich, thinking it was a skating pond, slipped and fell. In a few minutes, however, all was quiet on the "western front" and dancing was resumed until the wee small hours of the morning (1 o'clock).

Soon after the party broke up and the bus driver started tuning up the motor for a return trip. After a few minutes' delay everybody was seated in their respective corner and homeward bound were we. Most everyone was tired and our trip home was very quiet compared to the trip to Buffalo. A snore here and there was heard by those trying to catch up on their sleep from the night before. Before long everyone except the night crawlers were fast asleep in their own homes, dreaming about the wonderful time they just had.

We wish to thank the Buffalo Big Four SNPJ for their kind hospitality and hope to return a good time sometime in the near future. Our hard-time party scheduled for Nov. 19 was postponed on account of Dan Cupid, who is making a visit to the Slovenian Hall on that date.

Shamokin: Yes, that's why it can't trouble me.

BRIEFS

Popular opposition to Yugoslavia's dictatorship form of government was manifested last week when the whole cabinet resigned, which is construed as the downfall of the Jugoslav government. The power of the crown will have to be limited before the Croat leaders will be appeased, and in such a way as to give them virtual autonomy, according to reports. King Alexander faces a crisis and must decide on transforming the constitution so as to assure the three powers—Serbs, Slovenes and Croats—of authoritative and guaranteed self-government.

During the Balkan Olympic games held recently at Athens, Greece, Kozic, a Slovene, broke all Balkan records in putting the weight, with Zupan, another Slovene, second. Kozic put the weight a distance of 46 meters (approximately 138 feet). Jugoslavia came second in the meet with 32 points.

Frankie Simms, popular Slovene heavyweight boxer of Cleveland, met a reversal last week in Boston, losing to his opponent at the end of the sixth round.

John Strukel, member of Lodge No. 1, SSCU, Ely, Minn., passed away recently. The deceased was a pioneer of Ely, and well known in the community. Born in Jugoslavia in 1866, he immigrated to the States, settled in Cleveland in 1891, and then migrated to Ely the following year.

Singing Society Zarja will stage the opera "Martha" next Sunday, Nov. 13, at the Slovene National Home on St. Clair Ave., Cleveland, O. Zarja has earned an enviable reputation for presenting operas in Slovene, three of which were presented at the Public Auditorium in the past.

California Supreme Court will have to decide when the World War ended, as a small group of veterans contend that the United States was in a "state of war" until July 2, 1921, when Congress officially terminated it. The reason is property exemption of veterans up to $1,000, who had enlisted in their country's service between Nov. 11, 1918, and July 2, 1921. California Legislature has decreed that the great conflict officially ended on Nov. 11, 1918, with the signing of the armistice.

The District of Columbia is not a state. It is usually classed as a federal district as distinguished from a federal territory.

BALL LIGHTNING

For a long time scientists were loath to admit the existence of ball lightning as a genuine form of electrical discharge, preferring to ascribe the phenomenon to an optical illusion of some kind. Although the phenomenon has not yet been satisfactorily explained, the Weather Bureau states that the existence of ball lightning as a peculiar but comparatively rare form of lightning is now generally admitted by scientific men and a considerable fund of knowledge concerning its characteristics has been collected.

The occurrence of ball lightning has been reported in different parts of the world for more than 150 years and the descriptions of the phenomenon bear a remarkable similarity to one another. Hundreds of persons testify that during thunder storms they have seen luminous balls or globes which floated slowly through the air near the surface until they came into contact with a solid body, when they exploded sharply without doing much damage.

Apparently, the Weather Bureau asserts, there are two distinct types of ball lightning. One type floats freely through the air, while the other moves along terrestrial objects as if attached to them. The ball of fire, which in some cases precedes an ordinary flash of lightning, is generally only a few inches in diameter, and in the majority of cases remains visible only a few seconds, although it has been known to last for several minutes. These balls, which vary in color from brilliant red through blue to dazzling white, occasionally enter buildings, coming down chimneys or entering through windows, doors or cracks as if drawn by a draft of air.

No acceptable photographs of ball lightning have been made, although a number have been reported, but very small electrical discharges somewhat analogous to the phenomenon have been produced on a small scale in the physical laboratory. The Weather Bureau suggests that ball lightning may be a form of rocket lightning in which the progress of the flash is very slow and the conditions such that the ionization at the end of the discharge is barely able to maintain itself.

Zvezda, No. 170

Chicago, Ill.—Members of Lodge Zvezda, No. 170, JSKJ, are asked to please make note of my new address, which is 2214 S. Hamlin Ave., effective Nov. 1. Please keep this in mind when forwarding any lodge matters to me.

Tree's Commercial Value
The Spanish cedar is one of the most highly esteemed lumber trees of the West Indies. Its most important commercial use is the manufacture of cigar boxes. Planted as a protection on the coffee trails, it grows rapidly, but not so large as to completely shade out the coffee plants.

Many of the large coffee-shading trees of various species were blown down by hurricanes of recent years. Old cedro trees 4 to 6 feet in diameter and 50 to 100 feet high were common in Porto Rico before the virgin forests of the island were cut.

"NEW ERA"

The New Era. What is your opinion of it? Do you find it interesting, or is it just another publication to you? Let's hope it is the former. But how do you expect to find it so if you fail to contribute your share.

Last week you read, or ought to have read, an earnest plea from our Editor for Contributors to fill up the pages that are extended to you for this purpose. It is hoped that the plea struck home and will arouse the members from the depths of sleep. It is obvious that there should be more items of interest in the columns than there are at present, considering the number of lodges under the banner of the S. S. C. U.

Have you ever heard the phrase, "A newspaper can make or break you"? Well, that can also apply to your lodge. Have one or more of the members appointed as reporters, that is, send reports of the lodge activities and affairs to the New Era. Not only the dates of the coming events, but any and all topics of discussion that may benefit the brother and sister lodges are also welcome. Members not attending the meetings will be enthused to attend them in the future, after reading the interesting articles from their respective lodges in this New Era. It is through this medium that you can bring them together once more. If there is not anything of interest in your regular meetings now is a good time as ever to begin the ball-rolling. Have the members suggest new methods that may draw them regularly to the meetings and cause them to look forward to the coming of the next scheduled meeting; then have the reporter submit these ideas to the editor. This will serve a twofold purpose. It will enable others to follow your example, but more important, your own members, reading of the improvement, will gradually return to the meetings.

Remember, that the lodge which is represented weekly with important and interesting columns is the one that progresses the most rapidly. For instance, take the Pathfinders of Gowanda, N. Y.; the George Washingtons of Cleveland, O., and a few others can be mentioned. Are these asleep and passing out of the picture? No, quite the contrary, they are the most wide-awake lodges at the present time. Their affairs are always well attended due to the publicity received through this medium. Your lodge can do likewise. No affair can be a success without publicity, so why not make use of the advantage extended it through this medium. Have the features of interest mailed promptly each week and watch your lodge grow.

Each member should take an active part in his lodge, business or otherwise. Remember that you are a part of it, by paying your monthly dues. This makes you a stockholder of the organization. Now it is up to you to share in the building of the organization. I'm sure that in reading the paper weekly you have formed opinions of your own on one thing or another. Probably at your lodge meeting there may have been a topic debated that might be of vital interest to others. Well, do not wait to be told, but put it in writing and forward it to the New Era office. Let's see new names added to the list of contributors. This scribe is of the opinion that there are many Brisbanes and Hellingers among the members, so here's hoping. Spare a few moments of your time for the promotion of lodge affairs, and may I again inform you, become a contributor. Here is your chance for filling the shoes of either Brisbane or Hellinger. Come on, let's go!

Orels to Sponsor Boxing Show Nov. 17

H. M. Antoncic Is Promoter

A few years ago Slovenes of Cleveland gave very little thought of promoting their own boxing shows. But with the passing of activities from the pioneers to the younger generation, ideas began to take form, and soon the colony had every advantage possessed by other nationalities.

On Nov. 17 Orels Club will sponsor a boxing show. The card prepared to date includes some top-notchers. Amateurs, of course, but the type that will give the customers their money's worth, and then some.

Heading the card will be Eddie Novinc, Slovene, Golden Glove novice heavyweight champion. Then there will be Lou Champa, Golden Gloves 160-pound champion fighting with Mickey Komar, a Slovak. Others scheduled are Tony K. O. Zagar vs. Al Hejna, "Pop-Eye" Modic vs. "Batty" Balabuda, Danny Schalk-Chuck vs. Costello, Russell Frank vs. K. O. Swanson.

Bro. Heinie Martin Antoncic, member of George Washington Lodge, No. 180, SSCU, and president of Orels, is the promoter. Bro. Antoncic needs very little introduction as a fraternalist and fight promoter. As president of the Interlodge League, he has brought together various lodges and clubs of the community for friendly competition. As a fight promoter, Heinie has successfully carried through a boxing show for the Orels and will repeat again.

Price of admission will be only 60 cents for reserved seats and a general admission of 40 cents. Certainly a bargain for lovers of the fisticuffs. Dancing will follow the show, with a small charge of 10 cents.

"I am taking reduction exercises, Reginald dear."

"I wish you could induce the household expenses to join you," responded the worried husband.

"TENTH BROTHER"

By Josip Jurčič

Translated from the Slovene Text by Joseph L. Mihelic

(Continuation)

You shall experience something over there, something about which you do not even dream. Observe well the castle, the moon shines beautifully, you shall remember it till death, remember you shall also the Tenth Brother, even though you do not believe him, nevertheless, till the grave you shall remember him."

The voice of Spak was, at these words, entirely different of what it was before, somewhat gloomy and sinister, so that the young man became startled. And since the moon had hidden itself behind a cloud at that very moment, a queer sensation pierced through him. He would have much rather preferred to be already in the castle than here out on the lonely field, with this half-witted man. Although he was a cultured man and did not believe a particle about superstitions, nevertheless, the thought occurred to him that Martin Spak might know, in truth, something more than ordinary people.

When the moon had reappeared from behind the cloud, Lovro carefully observed the place around the castle's linden tree. A narrow but long meadow was stretching itself through the valley. Besides, the linden tree, there grew only some dense willow bushes on the banks of a small murmuring brook which was winding itself beside the beautiful tree. Under the linden tree, the trunk of which could be hardly surrounded by two men with outstretched arms, was made a small bench around the trunk. The ground was trampled down, a visible sign that Spak told the truth when he said that the gentility from the castle came here often, especially Manica. "Pleasant strolling grounds I have already, if only all the other things would be as good," thought Lovro to himself.

"It is very bothersome to come at night, could I not stay around here in some inn over the night?" asked Lovro.

When he did not receive an answer, he glanced back and looked for Martin. But he was nowhere. Lovro could explain to himself neither where, nor why, nor when he disappeared. There was nothing else left for him to choose, but to ride to the castle over the white graveled road that he had before his eyes.

The road to the Slemenice led him toward the end a little uphill. The castle was quite large, square and two stories high. Although it had been built, as it could be judged from the structure, in the newer, that is not in the middle age, nevertheless it could be seen that the builders had in mind a little about such times in which it is well to protect the home. For this reason the whole lower part of the wall had the appearance of a small fortification with small, very barred windows. Dense fruit trees were growing over the hill and around the castle. Only toward the north was the ground a little more rocky and barren, and there were situated the stables and other farm buildings. The ground was now rising quickly to the steep hill upon which, Kvas, with a quick glance, noticed the irregular walls.

The light which burned below and in the first story of the castle convinced Kvas that the family and the gentility have not retired yet.

CHAPTER III

In the upper room of the Castle Slemenice, there was gathered a small company around the table consisting of the lord with his wife, the daughter, the small son, and Marian Piskav, the son of the neighboring owner of the adjacent property Polesek, which was barely a quarter of an hour from the Slemenice.

On the middle of the table burned a wax candle, and around the candlestick were scattered the play-cards.

"Are we going to throw them once more?" asked the young man, gathering the cards.

"I have already enough of this play," said Manica, taking a book. It could be seen that she would rather read.

"How can you continually gaze into the books? The whole day you pore over them, and even in the evening you do not tire of them," said Marian.

(Since he was a playmate in her childhood, and thus an old acquaintance, and almost more at home at the Slemenice than in the home of his father, he addressed her by her first name.)

"I have also said already that Manica would have become a doctor if she were Baldwin," added Mother to this.

"But, mother, will I not be a doctor?" asked the boy.

"You are not diligent enough, you pay too much attention to all other things but to the books," replied the mother. "Just wait, when the teacher comes, he will see that you will study more than you have done thus far."

"The teacher will hold you strict," said Marian in order to tease the boy.

The little Baldwin believed, and he already pictured, in his imagination, the teacher as old and ugly, who will pull him by the hair and ears, just as he had seen in the village school the schoolmaster do to the peasant boys, and he began to purse his lips into crying.

"Do not believe, Baldwin! If you will be a good boy, the new teacher will not harm you. We two will study together," whispered the sister into the ear of her little brother, and stroked with her delicate hand his blond, curly hair from the face.

"When is he coming?" asked Marian.

"He ought to have been here today, according to my friend who is a professor in Ljubljana, and who has recommended him to me. He is supposed to be a very good young man; he has been one of the best students," answered the landlord.

"This will be good," said Marian. "If he only will not be some weakling, because then I will, at least, have a hunting companion. There are plenty of foxes this year; down in the village one of them carried away quite a few hens already.

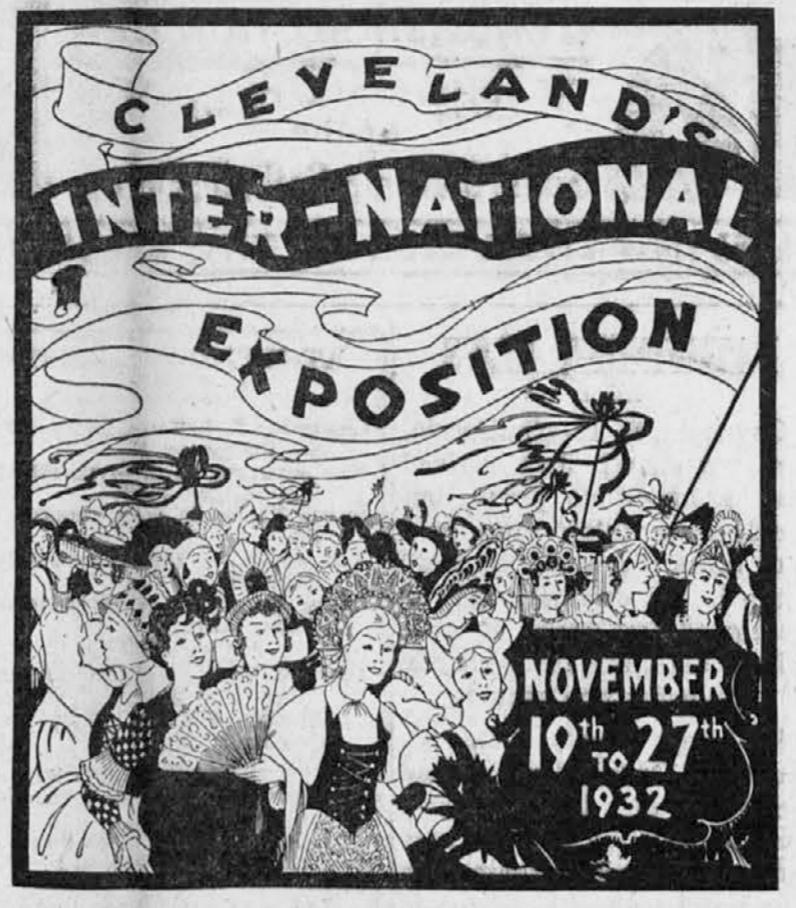

Night before last I went to wait for her, for two hours I sat in the crossing, but for one alone to watch at night it was too lonesome. Also I began to get too cold, and so I hanged the gun over my shoulder and went to sleep. If I had someone along with me, we would have caught a nice fox. Also there are plenty of rabbits this year. God knows, how it comes that this year is so lucky and fertile for the wild game."

"You are a hunter, and ought to know that it is because last winter was so warm, and was, therefore, in the spring a great deal of offspring," explained Mr. Benjamin.

"But this year there will be a great deal of snow!" said Marian.

"God knows, probably not," replied the landlord, and leaned back in his chair.

"Certainly, I know that it will be," insisted the youth. "There was this year full of mushrooms; the lichens on the oaks grew quite large; there was little rain this summer; the storks flew away already—"

Nationality groups of Cleveland, O., are co-operating in preparation for an extensive international exposition in the Cleveland Public Hall, Nov. 19 to 27.

At this exposition will be displayed products of many lands and reproductions of scenes from life in other countries. Each nationality group is striving to present the most attractive exhibit. Many large committees have been named to have charge of the arrangements and an excellent spirit of co-operation is being displayed. Attendance approaching 100,000 is almost assured, judging from the interest shown.

The accompanying picture is a reproduction of part of the exposition's advertising material, showing the many nationalities which will be represented. J. H. Gourley, 1615 Guarantee Title Building, is chairman in charge of all arrangements. Nine gala days and nights are in store for the Cleveland nationality groups, he has promised.

"Go on, out of all this you cannot explain anything. You must think more intelligently. Leave the superstitions to Martin Spark and to the peasants down in the village!"

Manica did not listen to this argument, as she had opened the book and began to read, while the mother was busy with sewing.

"These are not superstitions," retorted Marian, and was at the point of explaining further his convictions, when the house maid, the old Ursā, looked into the room through the half-open door, and announced that a gentleman had come who evidently wished to stay over night.

"Who could it be that comes at night?" said the lady, quickly lighting a candle.

"It could not be anyone else but the teacher, who should have come today; evidently he was delayed somewhere on the road. Get ready the room, the supper and whatever it is needed, I will go down."

So saying, Mr. Benjamin took the light from his wife's hand and walked out.

"What kind is this gentleman?" called Marian after the servant.

"Oh, the gentleman, he is young and handsome, very handsome," replied Ursā, and stuck her head once more into the room. "He came riding on a horse, and the Tenth Brother came with him; this means, that he has brought luck into the castle."

"This is nice company, is it not Manica? Mr. Teacher and the bum the Tenth Brother!" And just as if he has expressed himself, God knows, how cleverly, the young man laughed heartily.

"Why, is not Martinek just as human as we? What can he help if he lacks, at times, in intelligence. Also we should not despise the poor man. Perhaps, he is a better guide than someone else."

On the stairway were now heard footsteps, and Lovro Kvas entered with the lord into the room.

DOPISI

Pittsburgh, Pa.

Člane društva sv. Jožefa, št. 12 JSKJ vabim, da se polnoštevilno udeležijo seje, ki se bo vršila 13. novembra. Na omenjeni seji se bo pobiralo tudi za venec za umrlo članico Terzijo Nagode. Želel bi tudi, da bi člani, ki ne plačajo svojih asesmentov na seji, plačali iste do 25. novembra in ne pozneje, ker to je zadnji dan. — Z bratskim pozdravom,

Frank Alič,
tajnik društva št. 12 JSKJ.

Chisholm, Minn.

Med dopisi, ki jih čitamo v Novi Dobi, je največ protestov proti gradnji jednotinega urada na Elyju, Minnesota. Po našem mnenju so bili delegati in delegatinje zadnje konvencije prepričani, da je mesto Ely dovolj pripraven kraj za graditev urada in da Jednota istega potrebuje. Članice društva Daniča, št. 150 JSKJ smo proti takim protestom, ki po našem mnenju niso umestni in v korist Jednoti. Naše priporočilo je, da se dom JSKJ zgradi na Elyju, kjer je bila organizacija ustanovljena.

Za društvo Danica, št. 150

ZELO VAŽNO NAZNANILO
— Vse članice društva Zvezda, št. 170 JSKJ tem potem obveščam, da sem se preselila dne 1. novembra. Moj novi naslov je: 2214 S. Hamlin Ave.

Prosim članice, da to vpoštevajo in da se v vseh društvenih zadevah obračajo na moj novi, gori označeni naslov.

Obenem pozivljam članice, da se polnoštevilno udeležijo prihodnje seje, ki se bo vršila v četrtek 17. novembra zvečer v navadnih prostorih. Prosim tudi članice, da po možnosti povrnavajo nekaj na asesmentu, ker blagajna je popolnoma izčrpana. — Pozdrav vsemu članstvu J. S. K. Jednote!

Zopet je prišel čas, ko se bomo zabavali v šolski dvorani na 22. in Lincoln cesti. In sicer bo to na Martinovo soboto, 12. novembra, ko priredi društvo Zvon, št. 70 JSKJ, tam svojo jesensko veselico. Na to zabavo vabimo vse znance in prijatelje, ki so radi veseli in dobre volje. Zabave bo dovolj in prigrizek bo izvrsten. Seveda bomo tudi navzočega Martina kristili. Kdor ne verjame, naj pride pogledat. Se to naj omenim, da bomo imeli prvoravnino godbo. Igrali nam bodo Gradšarjevi Diamond Dukes. Res, da so mladi fantje, toda igrali bodo za stare in mlade. Vstopnice k zabavi so pri članih v predprodaji samo po 15 centov, na večer veselice pa bodo pri vratih po 25 centov. Pričakujemo velike udeležbe, ki je običajna pri prireditvah društva Zvon. Veselični odbor ima pravljeno tudi neko tajnost, ki bo pomenila srečo za nekoga.

Člane in članice društva Zvon, št. 70 JSKJ pozivljam tudi, da se polnoštevilno udeležijo seje, ki se bo vršila 16. novembra v navadnih prostorih. Prosim vse, da poravnajo svoje asesmente, ker je vsakemu znano, da iz društvene blagajne se ne more zakladati za nobenega.

Z bratskim pozdravom,
Joseph Bevcic,
tajnik društva št. 70 JSKJ.

Zivimo v časih, ko se stiska vseposvod. Ne samo po kleteh, ampak tudi po dvoranah, shodi itd. Stiskajo in ožemajo, hvalijo in grajajo sebe in druge, lažejo in pretiravajo, da opusti, kot pa da bi se gradil jednotin dom. Vsakemu je značne 8. novembra bo konec tega, da starši težko plačujejo obrekovanja in hvale, in pokazali nam bodo tisti "korner," za katerim naša ljuba prospireta leži in spi, ako ni mrtva obesena na kakem drogu. Pa naj bo tako ali tako. Mi v Chicago smo ali bomo pripravljeni na vse. Na večer 12. novembra bomo z veseljem praznovali sv. Martina. Dotični večer bo društvo Zvon, št. 70 JSKJ pokazalo svojo staro plemenito družabnost svojih gostom, ki se bodo zbrali v šolski dvorani na Lincoln, in 22. cesti.

Vemo, da so slabčasi, in vemo, da komaj vsaki deseti nekaj malega zaslubi, vemo pa tudi, da brez vse zabave človek ne more doživeti. To je vse vpoštevalo društvo Zvon. Vstopnina je tako nizka, da jo lahko vsak otrok zmore, namreč samo 15 centov. Izgovor, da je previsoka vstopnina, torej ne velja. Samo dobre volje je treba in par kvodrov v žepu, pa bo dovolj zabave in okrepila. Že duh, katerega sem bil deležen zadnjo sredo, je bil nekaj imenitnega, kako izborni je pa še tisto, kar je v polovnjaku!

Dne 29. oktobra nas je bilo iz Chicaga kakih 20 na pogrebu v Ottawi, Ill., kjer je preminil med Slovenci dobro poznani Nick Kazarich, po rodu Hrvat. Pri tisti priliki sem se sestal z večjim številom članov JSKJ iz Jolijeta in La Salle in Aurore, katere sem povabil na veselico društva Zvon v Chicago. V Aurora, kjer smo se spomotoma ustavili, povabil sem obe JSKJ društvi, namreč moško in žensko, na našo Martinovo prireditvijo. Časa je zdaj dovolj in razdalja ni prevelika.

Apeliram na člane, pa tudi na naše drage goste, ki so že večkrat posetili naše prireditve in se zabavali z nami, da naj ne pozabijo naše Martinove veselice na večer 12. novembra. Naš "secret six" (veselični odbor) je na delu od jutra pozno v noč, da bo vse kar najboljše uredil za naše Martinovanje.

Raca ali gos, kateri jima bomo kos, se bomo lahko preprečili, da bo imela imenitni okus. Tisti z obilnim trebuhom nam bo rezal kruh, tisti, ki je stiskal, bo kazal moč in okus, tisti pa, ki zna svoje prste tako hitro premikati, da ga Edisonov aparat ne prekositi, bo pa dal starim in mladim dovolj prilike, da si ugrejemo in ugradimo naše podplate. — Torej na svetnico na večer 12. novembra v šolski dvorani na 22. in Lincoln cesti!

John Zvezich.

Claridge, Pa.

Ne spuščam se rad v javnost z dopisi. Iz številnih dopisov se vidi, da je vsak dopisnik drugačnega mnenja. Neki dopisnik celo trdi, da mora vsak prej umreti, predno kaj dobi. Taki dopisniki bi moral vpoštevati, da to je slaba reklama za pridobivanje mladine.

Veliko se protestira proti gradnji jednotinega doma v Elyju, Minn. Tudi društvo št. 40 JSKJ je proti temu, in sicer iz razloga, ker se to ni dalo v javnost pred 14. konvencijo, da bi bila društva o tem razmisljala na svojih sejah in dala delegatom navodila, kako naj volijo. Nekateri dopisniki trdijo, da kar je odločilo 150 delegatov, mora držati. Jaz sem pa čisto drugačnega mnenja, namreč, da je 14,000 članov odraslega oddelka mora imeti več besede kot 150 delegatov, ki niti niso bili vsi poklicani na razpravo. Zato naj glavni odbor da zadevo članstvu ne splošno glasovanje, da se reši po željah večine, pa bo zopet zavladala složnost med članstvom.

Poudarjano je bilo, da radi tege ne bo izrednih asesmentov, ker je mladinski fond toliko nadsolventen. Po mojem mnenju bi bilo boljše, da se mladinske asesmente za par mesecov opusti, kot pa da bi se gradil jednotin dom. Vsakemu je zna-dovala složnost med članstvom. Poudarjano je bilo, da radi tege ne bo izrednih asesmentov, ker je mladinski fond toliko nadsolventen. Po mojem mnenju bi bilo boljše, da se mladinske asesmente za par mesecov opusti, kot pa da bi se gradil jednotin dom. Vsakemu je zna-svoje asesmente v teh slabih časih in mladina nas zapušča, ker ne more vzdrževati svojih asesmentov.

Torej, bratje in sestre in glavni odbor, začnimo novo kampanjo za napredok J. S. K. Jednote!

Z bratskim pozdravom,

Nekoliko komentarja k protestu radi' zdave jednotinega doma na Elyju, Minnesota, da se razumemo in ohladimo za svetega Martina, ki je tudi patron našega društva št. 44 JSKJ. — Protest proti zdavi domu je bil sprejet na naši društveni seji dne 28. avgusta. Protest je spisal naš sobrat F. Poje ter ga predložil in prečital na omenjeni seji. Ni ga pa spisal noben delegatov zadnje konvencije. Članstvo našega društva je protest sprejelo in skupno vpošteval in protest podpisal, isto je storil tajnik, ne glede na to, če sva prav na zadnji konvenciji glasovala za zdavo jednotinega doma. Pojavili in obredniku JSKJ ne bi bilo umestno, da bi sobrata, ki predloži kakšno iniciativno ali protest predsednik društva in se zavzemati, da je na 14. konvenciji nekateri delegati, ki niso trobili v en in istrog.

Naj mi bo kot 27-letnemu članu JSKJ dovoljeno, da odgovorim dotičnim dopisnikom, ki sumijo in pišejo, da je pri društvu št. 44 JSKJ protest povzročil kak prevoč delegat zadnje konvencije. Protest je spisal in predlagal gori omenjeni sobrat, ki je tudi podpisani kot predlagatelj protesta, kateri je bil priobčen v našem glasilu 7. septembra v zadavi zdave jednotinega doma na Elyju, Minn. Kot društveni predsednik sem protest podpisal, s pripombo na omenjenega sobrata, da 'če pride prevoč delegat zadnje konvencije. Protest je spisal in predlagal gori omenjeni sobrat, ki je tudi podpisani kot predlagatelj protesta, kateri je bil priobčen v našem glasilu 7. septembra v zadavi zdave jednotinega doma na Elyju, Minn. Kot društveni predsednik nadzornega odbora. Zastopniki ostalih društva se niso odzvali iz kateregakoli razloga, upati pa je, da prihodnjo sejo gotovo obiščejo. Bili so navzoči še nekateri drugi sobrati bližnjih društiev, katere federacija zanimala v delovanje iste. Od št. 137 se je udeležila sestra Mary Bradač.

Predlagam, da se prihranili na dnevnih glavnih uradnikov, kateri se shajajo dvakrat na letu v prijaznem letovišču — Elyju. Mi vso vemo, da so nekateri glavni uradniki, ki bi se radevolje odpovedali takemu izletu v korist članstva, ako bi imeli le priliko tajno glasovati.

Od strani federacije se zahaja, da se vključi v zapisnik tudi zahteva, da glavni uradnik se zavzemati, da dolžen je biti jednotno državno pregledovalci?

Prihodnja je bila svoječasno v glasilu od glavnega urada, da bodo državni pregledovalci napravili velike stroške delati. Federacija apelira na glavni urad, da tako natolicevanje prekliče, ako nima dokazov na razpolago.

Predlagano, podpirano in so-glasno sprejeto, da se pošlje predsedniku potrobnega odbora pismo, v katerem naj se apelira, da podvzame resne korake v preiskavi sobrata glavnega tajnika, glede preklica njegovega poročila, da bi smel biti glavni uradnik, in da je ustavno, da bi si glavni uradniki drugi drugemu poročila.

Nadalje o svoji federacija predlog, v katerem protestira, da sobrat glavnega tajnika sej je najel še dve pomoči v glavnem uradu, ne da bi vprašal vse glavne uradnike za dovoljenje.

Prihodnja seja federacije države Ohio se bo vršila prvo nedeljo v mesecu decembru, to je 4. decembra v S. N. Domu na St. Clair Ave. (staro poslopje, št. 4). Cleveland O. Vabljeni so tudi člani, da se iste udeležijo, kakor tudi sobrat urednik bi bil dobrodošel, aka ga kam drugam pot ne zanes.

Ker je ves dnevni red izčrpan, predsednik zaključi sejo ob 5:25 popoldne.

Ivan Kapelj,
tajnik in zapisnikar.

Ostat je v nezavesti do 14. oktobra, ko je preminil ob eni uri in 10 minut zjutraj. Star je bil 83 let. Pokopan je bil 16. oktobra. Zapusča sina F. Previa in Girard, O., in tri hčere, namreč Elizabeth, omogočeno Medic v Clevelandu, Marijo, omogočeno Lenaršč, in Ano, omogočeno Prijatelj v Little Fallsu, N. Y.

delo dovrši tako, kot je želja nekaterih.

Sklep federacije je, da se deluje na to, da se nikdar in nikjer ne dela jednotinega poslopja, iz razloga, ker uprava takšnih poslopij, davki in govorina izdana v takšna stavbiča, so vselej višja, kakor če organizacija, kot J. S. K. J., najme prostore. Vsak lahko ve iz lastne skušnje, kdor poseduje nepremičnine, da koliko dela mora storiti, ne da bi bil nikdar plačan; pač pa stori to, ker mora, ker ima zavest, da je gospodar, obratno bo imel zgubo toliko večjo. Če si pa npravite organizacija lastno poslopje, lahko z mirno vestjo računamo, da ne bo nikdo niti enega želbla zabil za "božjol." marvēc ga bo cenjeno in intelligentno članstvo dobro placa.

Cleveland, O.

Zapisnik seje skupnih društev J. S. K. Jednote v državi Ohio, z dne 30. oktobra 1932, vrše se v S. N. Domu na St. Clair Ave. Predsednik John Zalar otvoril sejo ob 2. uri po pooldne. Prva točka dnevnega reda je volitev federacijskega odbora, ker na seji meseca septembra je bil izvoljen le začasno, to je, dokler pošljemo državni.

Federacija apelira na vse društva J. S. K. J., da dobro vso stvar premislijo ter delajo zaključke tako, da bodo v korist članstva in ne pa posameznikom. Federacija je prišla do zaključka, da ako bi bil glavni uradnik v Duluthu, Minn., bi se na leto prihralnilo približno $1,000 članskega denarja, kar je gotovo vpoštevanja vredno. Ta vsota bi se prihralnila na dnevnih glavnih uradnikov, kateri se shajajo dvakrat na letu v prijaznem letovišču — Elyju. Mi vso vemo, da so nekateri glavni uradniki, ki si moža vzamejo s silo in ga najčešče po poroki še bolj preprosto — požrejo. Na primer pakinja in neke ribe. Tudi pravcati dvoboji za samico in celo navidezni dvoboji, kakor jih poznajo otočani Južnega morja, niso nič redkega. "Podoknice" pa itak poznamo v prikernu ptičev pevec in — mačkov.

Vrstne zakonov kažejo pri živalih isto mnogolico, kakor pri ljudeh. Otroške zakone, to se pravi skupno življenje nezrelih mladičev obeh spolov, kakor pri ljudeh še dandanes v Indiji, sklepajo nekateri raki.

Kar se tiče pravih zakonov, vedo tudi živali za tiste, v katerih živi eksemplar enega spola z enim samim eksemplarjem drugega spola, pa tiste, v katerih živi pač z več eksemplarji. Zakoni mnogih ptic, gołobov, papig, vrabcev so naravnost "neločljivi," sesalci so v tem pogledu seveda običajno bolj "liberalni." Pri teh se zakonsko soživljenje konča čestokrat takoj potem, ko mladiči odrasejo in postanejo samostojni. Običajno pa so zakoni sesalcev poligamični in poliantrični. Petelinji so na primer tipični poligamisti, isto tako razne opice in parkljari, dalje mroži, ki imajo često do 40 "žen" in se v tromeščem času svojega zakona postijo, pa ni cudno, da nočajo po tem času o samicah nič več "ne slušati ne videti." Tipično poliantrične so mravljive, krapin — kukavice, pri katerih je krov "liberalni." Pri teh se zakonsko soživljenje konča čestokrat takoj potem, ko mladiči odrasejo in postanejo samostojni. Običajno pa so zakoni sesalcev poligamični in poliantrični. Petelinji so na primer tipični poligamisti, isto tako razne opice in parkljari, dalje mroži, ki imajo često do 40 "žen" in se v tromeščem času svojega zakona postijo, pa ni cudno, da nočajo po tem času o samicah nič več "ne slušati ne videti."

Pričelo je, da se je v tistem času v glavnem uradu, da se je vpršal vse glavne uradnike za dovoljenje.

Nadalje o svoji federacija predlog, v katerem protestira, da sobrat glavnega tajnika sej je najel še dve pomoči v glavnem uradu, ne da bi vprašal vse glavne uradnike za dovoljenje.
