VTISI IZ OBISKA V CHICAGU

(Nadaljevanje iz 1. strani)

vu "Zračna cesta" sta se dobro izkazala Annie Turk in Johnny Kovach; Anica je bila še posebno dobra v kretnjah.

Pevski zbor Adria je dvakrat nastopil in obakrat je izval tak aplavz, da je moral še po eno popevko dodati. Zbor ima zelo dobre moške in ženske glasove, sigure nastop in, med nami povedano, pevke "not hard to look at." Torej vsi počaji za vsestranski užitek.

Sobrat Anton Zbašnik, glavni predsednik J. S. K. Jednote, je nastopil z daljšim govorom, v katerem je povdral cilje in ideje naše organizacije, njeno nepristranost in njene naloge za bodočnost. Dotaknil se je tudi razprav o pravilih in priporočil članstvu, da razmisljajo in debatirajo posebno o rešitvi problema naših bolniških skladov, o spremenitvi imena, ki danes ne odgovarja nepristranskemu stališču organizacije, njenemu delu in duhu pravil; povdral je tudi, kako važno je, da pridobimo mladino in jo tudi obdržimo v organizaciji.

Ker se sobrat Joseph Pishler, glavni tajnik, ni mogel udeležiti prireditve, je moral na poziv glavnega predsednika in predsednika pripravljalnega odbora mesto njega nastopiti sobrat Matija Pogorelec. Kako ga je izrezal pa ne vem, ker me sosed W. B. L. istočasno motal z neko storijo. Mislim pa, da je dobro povedal, ker je bilo ploskanje "frenetično," če veste, kaj je to; (jaz ře).

Kaj je govoril urednik Nove Dobe, vam ne bom pravil, ker sam sebe hvaliti ne morem, grajati se pa nečem. To zadnje bodo že drugi opravili.

Po završenem oficijskem programu so dobili besedo godci in sledilo je tisto, kar se navadno imenuje prosta zabava.

Občinstva je bila polna dvorana, tako da je bilo komaj prostora za ples. Pri tem je bilo seveda živahno živiljenje tudi tam zadaj, kjer so se dobivala okrepčila. Skupno vzeto je prireditve dobri izpadla, udeležba je bila prav povoljna in zabava razigrana in neprisiljena. Društva J. S. K. Jednote, ki so priderila to zabavo, so gotovo lahko zadovoljna z moralnim in upam, da tudi z gmotnim uspehom. Pokazalo se je pa tudi, da imajo ta društva agilne moči, ki so zmožne in voljne mnogo storiti za napredok J. S. K. Jednote. Kar se moje malenkosti tiče, moram priznati, da sem vel vesel presečen nad agilnostjo naših članov in članic v Chicagu. Presenečen sem bil pa tudi, ker sem našel toliko starši in novih znancev v prijeteljih. Veselilo me je spoznati naše vrle mlaadinske dospovalke, sestri Jurečič in Jeanette Šega. Dalje sem bil vesel, da sem mogel pozdraviti nekatere moje prijatelje iz Waukegana in Jolija. Na omenjeni zabavi sem se sestal tudi s sobratom Johnom Pezdircem iz Reading, Pa. Na kratko povedano, našel sem v Narodni dvorani toliko starši in novih znancev, da so me bile nazadnje že skoro same oči, ker sem jih tako na široko odpiral. Mogoče je bilo to vzrok, da potem nisem mogel tako dolgo zaspasti, ali pa je bil premočen čaj, ki smo ga pili še ob štirih zjutraj. Posledica vsega tega je bila, da je postal nedelja zelo kratkat, da je bilo kosiš zelo po gospodsko šele ob štirih popoldne. Potem smo še nekoliko posetili družino pokojnega Mohorja Mladiča, nakar je glavni predsednik odbrzel proti Minnesoti, jaz pa s slikarjem Peruškom v Evanston, kjer sem si ogledal nekaj njegovih najnovnejših umotvorov, deloma iz zgodnjih let.

Nekaj izdelovalec papirja je po naključju iznašel pilnik (pilni papir) in si z njim napravil večno bogastvo. Vzrok te sreče je bil leni delavec, ki je z ne-pazljivostjo pokvaril zvitek na-vadnega papirja. Ta pokvarjeni papir nam je dal pilnike.

Krištof Kolumb, ki je preko

Atlantika upal priti v Indijo, je odkril Ameriko. Ko je za

svoje potovanje skušal dobiti

potrebna sredstva na španskem

dvoru, so ga kot sanjača od-

pravili. Na potu iz dvora, se je ustavil pred vratim nekega samostana v prisilu za požirek vode.

Menih, ki mu je postregel, se

je spustil z njim v razgovor in temu je Kolumb povedal o svojem neuspehu. Dotični menih pa je bil izpovednik kraljice Izabele in mu je s svojim vplivom izposloval še enkratno avdijenco na dvor. Ta je bila uspešna in Kolumb je postal največji odkritelj vseh časov.

Nedavno je v nekem nevykri-

šem gledališču malo obolela

primadona, ter je morala v nje-

ni vlogi za en večer nastopiti

njeni učenki Miss Helen Farez.

V avdijenci je tisti večer slučajno sedel Norville Walker,

zelo bogat oljni magnat iz

Oklahoma. Miss Farez mu je ugajala in prišel je zopet drugi večer. Takrat pa je zopet nastopila prava primadona v

vsej svojem sijaju, toda oljni

bogataš je nevoljen odšel.

Konec storije je bil, da se je Miss

Farez zaročila z Walkerjem.

Zdaj se mi pa in na to bi rad opozoril članstvo, da se kandi-datje za v glavnem urad kaj rabite sklep, da se vse sklicujejo na svoje

zmožnosti, katere na široko

navajajo v svojih okrožnicah.

Delo pred. nadz. odbora ni ka-kakor ni tako komplikirano in ne zahteva visokih šol. Zgodovina pri naši Jednoti nam kaže, da

je določno v pravilu, da se

je določeno, da se imajo naši oponenti

slabnamene.

Osebnosti ne spadajo v noben

dostojen list, najmanj pa v

glasilo bratske podporne organizacije in v razprave o pravilih.

Pri razpravah o pravilih organizacije, v kateri smo vse bratje in sestre, naj bi se poslagalo večjo važnost na to kaj je pisano, kot kdo je pisal.

Glasom obstoječih pravil se ne more niti priporočati in hvaliti, niti napadati ali zasmehovati nobene politične ali verske skupine.

Dopisniki naj izvolijo tudi vpoštovati določbo glavnega odbora, katera je bila sprejeta na polletni seji meseca julija 1927, o pravilih.

DOPISI

RAZPRAVE O PRAVILIH

Puyallup, Wash.

Kot je razvidno iz našega uradnega glasila Nova Doba, so odprte kolone lista za razpravo o pravilih, namreč kako naj se ista izboljšajo o priliki bodoče konvencije. Iz tega vzroka namenil sem tudi jaz napisati nekaj priporočil v razmišljavanju članstvu in delegatom prihodnje konvencije. Prepričan sem, da članstvo želi gotovih izpreamemb in izboljšanj v pravilih. Seveda, mi delavci, ki nismo preveč oblagodarjeni z zlatim mamonom, si največkrat želimo nižjih asessmentov in višjih podpor. Vendar pa so nas mnogoletne izkušnje naučile, da ne moremo vzeti dolarja od tam, kamor smo položili samo 50 centov, zato bomo pač morali gledati, da se uredi asessment, ki bo odgovarjal novim razmeram. Moje mnenje je, da dolar za dolar bo najbolj svirno in pravično.

Nekaj Mrs. Roseta Hauss je posodila Jamesu Couzensu sto dolarjev in je dobila od njega v povračilo eno Fordovo delničko. Njeni prijatelji so ji pravili, da delnica ne bo nikoli nič vredna in ji svetovali, naj da Couzensa arjetira radi goljufije. Žena pa je delnico obdržala in dobila pozneje zanjo $245,000.

Velika Carson Pirie department trgovina se ima za svojo rast zahvaliti srečnemu slučaju, da je Carson imel skladisča svoje male trgovine na kraju, ki ga veliki chicaški požar ni dosegel. Ker mož za dogleden čas ni imel nikake konkurenco, se je njegova trgovina v kratkem času silno vzdignila.

Tex Rickard je imel salun v Reno, Nevadā, toda kupčija je bila tako slaba, da mu je neki prijatelj svetoval, naj kot posranski zasluzek prične vpravljati rokoborbe. Tex je kmanu pronašel, da je v rokoborbah velikanski dobiček, opustil je salun in si z aranžiranjem rokobor napravil milijone.

Cecil Rhodes je lastoval neke srednje vrste trgovino v Londonu. Začel je kazati znake tuberkuloze in zdravnik mu je svetoval, če hoče ozdraviti, naj se poda v Južno Afriko. Tam je napravil ogromno bogastvo.

Srečo je delil z njim njegov tovariš Barney Barnato, ki je odšel v Južno Afriko razočaran, ker ni mogel v gledališču doseči nikakih uspehov.

Neki izdelovalec papirja je po naključju iznašel pilnik (pilni papir) in si z njim napravil večno bogastvo. Vzrok te sreče je bil leni delavec, ki je z ne-pazljivostjo pokvaril zvitek na-vadnega papirja. Ta pokvarjeni papir nam je dal pilnike.

Krištof Kolumb, ki je preko

svoje potovanje skušal dobiti

potrebna sredstva na španskem

dvoru, so ga kot sanjača od-

pravili. Na potu iz dvora, se je

Menih, ki mu je postregel, se

je spustil z njim v razgovor in temu je Kolumb povedal o svojem neuspehu. Dotični menih pa je bil izpovednik kraljice Izabele.

Vzrok te sreče je bil, da se je zadnje dočakal.

MLADINSKI ODDELEK -- JUVENILE DEPARTMENT

PLES GOZDNE VILE

Ko se je poslavljalo poletje, splozala je gozdna vila v najvišji smrekov vrh in mu mahala pozdrav, dokler ga je le mogla videti. Nato je vrgla raz sebe svoj zeleni, baržunasti plastič, da je obvisele na smrečnih vejah, in počasi zdrsnila na tla.

Sedaj je bila odeta v rmeno vrlelo oblačilo z zlatozolitimi žipkami. Vpletla si je bledega podleska v lase in si pripela za pas šop krvavordečih bodečih jagod. Tako okinčana je sedala naslonjena ob mahovito skalo in pričakovala nekaj izrednega. V tajinstveni tišini je čakal ž njo ves gozd . . .

Naenkrat se bliža nekdo srečnih korakov po cesti in si poglasno žvižga napev . . . Bil je jesenski veter.

Ko urez gozdnino vilu, se ji gloko prikloni. "Dražestna si," reče, "ali hočeš zaplesati z menoj?"

"Bada," mu odvrne gozdnina, "ali kdo naj nama zasvirja ples? Moji godeci — ptički so že odpotovali na jug, ali pa so na dopustu."

"Ako nimam drugega ugovo-zusmeje se jesenski veter, vijogo plesno melodijo zažviž-

jam si sam."

"Potem je prav," reče gozdnina.

"Toda povabim še me-

gospodične, ki tako radeteka — in striček mah in so starejši navzoči, je vse

dostojno."

Veverica je torej prenašala

naokoli, in ko so se bili

zbrali, je započel ples.

Med gospodične so švigatele sem

ja, da so jim plapolal sviši na vse strani. Striček

in tetka gliva sta plesala

upaj; delala sta silno drobne, korake in se obračala v

zadružu, da je vrsalo listje, kjer

se vrtela.

Jesenski veter pa je pogra-

z njo nizadol in vkreber;

njevečka je pometala po tleh

on je žvižgal napev, da so klanjali dreves vrhovi . . .

to vam je bil diven ples!

Soje je bil spremljstriček počutil si kučemo preko ušes in zadremal. Meglene go-

so utrujene posedale

je plesala gozdnina vila

in jesenskim vetrom.

Niti opazila ni, da ji je blebleka, da so ji rdeče ja-že, da je njen venec povenel ..

Tedaj je stala mahoma zima

pogladila si je kuštrave,

"Dosti je, dete moje," ji re-siličas je, podati se k počit-čju.

So a certain soldier was chosen to take charge of Old

Abe and carry him alongside of the company flag, which naturally was the Stars and pany went, Abe and his pole went too. Whether on the march, in camp, or on the battlefield, the eagle always occupied a position of honor —

right with the flag.

He soon became so tame that he was allowed to wander

about camp at his own sweet will, and was never chained to his perch except when the Eighth Wisconsin regiments

went into battle, and even then, it was only to keep him from getting into unnecessary danger.

OLD ABE

Many years ago a Chippawa Indian while hunting, found an eagle's nest right on the tip top of the tallest tree in sight; it was out of the question to reach the nest by climbing, so the Indian cut the tree down, and after a desperate battle with the enraged parents, finally secured the two young ones.

One of them only lived a short time, as it was probably hurt when the tree came crashing down; but the other, a bushy youngster, was swopped to a white man for a bushel of corn. The owner carried the eagle to Eau Claire, a town in Wisconsin, and gave it to a company of soldiers who were just starting to the war; they adopted the bird as a company mascot, and christened it "OLD ABE," in honor of Lincoln, who was then President of the United States.

The soldiers made a great pet of the lusty orphan, and gave it more beef than it could eat, so no wonder it grew at a great rate, and it was not long before it put on its grown-up feathers, and was looking every bit the splendid bird it was, with flashing eyes, and bearing of a king. When fully grown the head and neck of this eagle turns white, giving it at a distance the appearance of being bald—hence the popular name of Bald Eagle.

As there was no more fighting to be done, the remainder of his life was a peaceful one and the old war-worn bird had nothing more exciting to do than sit on his perch, and gaze at the sun without blinking, while he allowed the State to care for him as long as he lived.

But really it does not need them, as all its food is found on the ground, and in the country where it lives are no natural enemies to molest it, so there is no need of it flying.

The bald eagle is known the world over as the national emblem of the United States, and its picture is stamped on all the gold coins issued by the Government. It appears on the Great Shield of the United States, with outspread wings, clasping as olive branch with the talons of one foot, and a sheaf of arrows with the other.

So whenever you see this splendid bird, you naturally think of our great country.

THE TEARS OF NIGHT

There is a drooping star in the west, tonight,

It is twinkling alone in the dark.

Shadows fall softly, and whisper it seems,

Of the sadness I feel in my heart.

In a garden a red rose droops its head,

For its heart is broken with sorrow,

And the evening gathers it in its fond embrace,

And the world awaits the tomorrow.

When a new day dawns the rose is dead,

But in its golden heart, glowing bright,

Is a silvery dew drop, a silvery tear,

A tear of the silent night.

Christine Troya.

A BIRD THAT NAMED ITSELF

This curious bird, for we suppose we shall have to call it a bird, lives in New Zealand, and is the only living descendant of the Moa, a giant bird that lived thousands of years ago, then went out of style. We know that such a creature did live, as its fossilized bones have been deep down in the ground. And when the bones were put together where each belonged, we know just how the bird looked when it was alive. And wonderful to say, it was eighteen feet high—three times as tall as a six-foot man. It must have been scary times when such a huge bird wandered over the earth. Think what an awful thing it would be to meet a bird big enough to pick you up in its bill, and swallow you just as a hen can pick and swallow a grain of corn.

But the Ki-wi, as we know it today, is a harmless creature, about the size of a goose, shaped more like a Quiena fowl. The most unusual thing about it is the absence of wings—if you can think of a bird without wings!

The fact of the business is, a very, very long time ago, it found out it could get along without wings, so little by little it quit using them, and they kept on growing smaller and smaller, until they gradually dwindled away altogether, and now it has no wings at all.

But really it does not need them, as all its food is found on the ground, and in the country where it lives are no natural enemies to molest it, so there is no need of it flying.

Its feathers are unlike those of other birds—in fact they could hardly be called feathers, as they are long, loose, stringy, more like coarse hairs than feathers. It reminds one of a big bundle of shoe strings, with the ends hanging on the outside.

The bird rather seems to be ashamed of its dowdy appearance, and keeps hidden during the daytime under bushes and in the tall cane-like grass. But after dark they sneak out of their hiding places, gather in flocks, and become as noisy as they have been silent, calling out to each other Ki-wi! Ki-wi! at the top of their voices.

Shadows fall softly, and whisper it seems,

Of the sadness I feel in my heart.

In a garden a red rose droops its head,

For its heart is broken with sorrow,

And the evening gathers it in its fond embrace,

And the world awaits the tomorrow.

When a new day dawns the rose is dead,

But in its golden heart, glowing bright,

Is a silvery dew drop, a silvery tear,

A tear of the silent night.

Their legs are considerably shorter than those of the ostrich, but that does not mean they are not good runners, and as they have no wings to get in the way, they can squeeze through thickets with the speed and ease of a weasel, and quickly reach a place of safety. They seem to know that they have no beauty to boast of, so they keep as far away from people as possible, and if they hear the least noise, they run and hide, and keep perfectly still until all danger has passed, and wait patiently until things are quiet again, before they venture out. They are so shy, and so good at hiding, that one might walk for days through forests that they inhabit, without seeing or hearing a single one.

The only successful method of hunting them, is with dogs trained for the purpose. These dogs track them just as fox hounds trail their prey. It is only a question of time, before there will be no more Ki-wis in existence, as without wings

they are at the mercy of well-trained dogs. The lesson that we can learn from the Ki-wi is that we should use the gifts we have—if we would keep them.

Just as the Ki-wi, by not using its wings, has not only lost the use of them, but has actually lost the wings themselves.

O VESELICI SKUPNIH DRUŠTEV

Novo leto nas je pozdravilo v precej ostri zimi, a ni trajalo dolgo, že po teku enega tedna je omililo ter nam prineslo skoro pomladne dneve.

Kakor je že znano, so tukajšna chicaška tri krajevna društva J. S. K. J. priredila skupno veselico v prid mladine.

Cast mi je poročati, da sta se osebno udeležila sobrat Anton Zbašnik, glavni predsednik J. S. K. Jednote ter urednik Nove Dobe, sobrat Anton J. Terbovec. V imenu tukajšnega mladinskega oddelka obema najprisrečnejša hvala za prijazno vdeležbo in priznanje.

Brat predsednik je v kratkem govor označil glavne točke, o katerih se ima razpravljeni na prihodnji konvenciji. Zlasti glede mladine je posebno povedal, da se bo vso potzornost obrnilo v prid mladine, ter nas obdržalo v svoji sredi ter iz nas napravilo temelj bodoče generacije.

Tudi sobrat, A. J. Terbovec se je povolno izrazil glede zanimanja mladinskega oddelka. Potom dopisov in tako dalje. Obljubil je, da bo tudi nam v bodoče naklonjen ter se bo tako z roko v roki določil marsikaj napraviti in pridobiti vse one, ki danes še niso naši.

Mi mladina pa se hočemo potruditi, da postanemo vredni nasledniki ustanoviteljev prekorostenje matere jednote naše.

Prijazjni večer zabavne veseleci mi ostane v trajnjem spominu bodočih dni.

THE CLIMAX

The Christmas season was a peaceful one in most parts of the world, and the old year closed quietly with but one important event — Lindbergh's non-stop flight from New York to Paris, showing his skill, endurance, and heroism. His other flights seemed to bring greater friendship between the United States and foreign countries. Not only is this a great event at the present time, but will remain so for years to come.

Resolutions for the year 1928 are also essential, provided that one would keep them up. These resolutions seem to be frail, perishable things. No attempt is made to keep them up. A person should decide whether or not this resolution can be kept, thus being prepared to do it in a proper way. However, a resolution that I have made and one which I will keep is to write to our beloved paper Nova Doba. Come on members of the Juvenile Department! Let's do our share by contributing to Nova Doba. Then you will be able to say, "I have done my part in making it a bigger and better paper."

To reach the climax, or the most important part, I will mention something about the dance given by the Chicago J. S. K. J. lodges for a membership drive, especially among the Juvenile members. The guests of honor were our Supreme President, Anton Zbasnik, and our Editor, Anton J. Terbovec, thereby giving us the pleasure of meeting these two (—censored by Editor) — men. On account of a delay, our Supreme Secretary, Joseph Pishler, was not present, although I hope that at some future time, he will visit Chicago. His substitute was Bro. Matija Pogorelc. Their speeches were interesting to everybody and was very much appreciated, and I do wish to have another opportunity to hear them soon. Other talks and numbers were given to the rest of the program.

Following this, refreshments were served to the Juvenile members, and dancing took the rest of the time, which was about till 2 A. M.

Members, let us all cooperate by securing new members, so as to reach the 20,000 mark before the convention this year, and also by writing to Nova Doba. This is our paper, and it is the only means by which to communicate with one another. Make up your minds, and if your contribution isn't in this issue, make it your duty, to have something for next month's Juvenile page.

Agnes Jurecic (Age 14), dr. Zvezda, št. 170 J. S. K. J.

Burton, O.

I have been reading the children page in the Nova Doba right along, and find it very interesting, so I thought I would write. I am nine years old, and in the fourth grade.

One very cold morning I was awakened to hear my brother Johnnie, calling me. I got up without hesitating and dressed myself, then I went downstairs, washed my face, and ate my breakfast. When I finished, I put on my wraps and went outdoors.

I went to the old shed, where I always kept my sled, but it wasn't there, so I knew Johnnie had taken it down to the pasture for me. I ran as fast as my little legs could carry me to the pasture, and sure enough, Johnnie was there already.

My sled was laid nearby, unused, so I slid down the hill. Johnnie came after me. My sled slowed up and Johnnie's sled caught up till it was right behind me. Soon there was a crash, for Johnnie's sled ran into mine. We both tumbled off our sleds and rolled on some thin ice which our sleds ran into. Before we knew what happened, we were both soaked wet so we got up as quickly as we could, and ran home. We told the others what happened. Then we changed our clothes and went to bed.

Jennie Bouha (Age 9), Lodge No. 71 J. S. K. J.

PICKING PINION NUTS
This is my first letter to the Nova Doba. I belong to the St. Louis lodge No. 78 of J. S. K. J., Salida, Colo. I started to read so many interesting letters, that the other members wrote, that I thought I would write a few lines.

One day some girl friends, and I went into the hills to pick pinion nuts. We dressed in boys pants and caps, and then we started. We came to a ditch, and the water was deep. We tried to jump it, but we fell in and got our feet all wet. We ate our lunch, and then we started to pick pinion nuts. We all picked some and I picked a little sack of them.

On our way home, I fell so many times, I nearly lost all pinion nuts. I was going to send some to the lodge members, for Christmas, but before I got home, there was only about fifteen left. So then I couldn't send them. I was awfully sorry I couldn't send them.

Please don't throw my letter into the waste basket, next time I will write a better one. I also wish my story will be printed in the January issue of the Nova Doba.

Edith Glovan (Age 12), Lodge No. 78, J. S. K. J.

Lorain, O.

Za Božič smo imeli v Slovenskem Narodnem Domu igro "Na Betlehemskej poljanah." Ki so, jo igrali deset do pet najstotin fanti. Bila je tako lepa in je imela tri dejanja. V tej igri se pokažejo pastirčki in angelj tako, kakor je bilo takrat, ko je bil Mesija rojen.

We have a farm and have lots of grains, and we also have apples, pears and potatoes. I tried a few days husking corn, Družino. Nazadnje so prišli še trije kralji. Da ste jih videli, kako so bili lepi. Deklice v lepih oblekah, kakor angelji, so pele "Silent Night." Ena malta, 7-letna deklica, Angeline Kozjan je deklamirala "Christmas Welcome." Tili Strukelj, 9 let, je lepo slovensko deklamirala "Tri miške." Potem so prišle tri male, lepe deklice, v starosti šest let z zastavicami in vse skupaj deklamirale "Three Little Sisters." Najbolj smešna sta bila Penzionista Jože in njegova boljša polovica." Jaz sem bila njegova boljša polovica Jera. (Ah, saj ni bil fant, samo ena moja priateljica, Ana Jacopine. Da ste jo videli, kako je bila "fajn," pa še fajfo je imel.) Om mi je pravil, da sem grbasta in me je klical kopriva. O, al' nisem bila jezna! Kajp! Žena ne prenese take besede. Miklavž je tudi prišel in dal lepe reči otrokom. Pa veliko, lepo dresisce je bilo sredi dvorane. Potem smo šli domov.

CHRISTMAS EVE

'Twas the night before Christmas. The snow was falling rapidly in thick, large flakes. People were rushing madly to and fro as if excited.

Suddenly amid the shouts and cries of the people was heard a faint and pitiful cry, a cry so pitiful that few would refuse to aid the owner.

People rushed madly along with the slightest idea of helping one in need. Suddenly a tall, old man about the age of sixty, stepped forth from the crowd and picked up a shivering, barefooted boy.

He took him into his machine, where he wrapped him in a cozy blanket, and rode home.

Knowing that he was a homeless child, without mother or father, he took him as his own.

This lad grew up to be a kindhearted man like his father and always helped one in need.

He also helped his foster parents for what they done and after their death he practiced their works.

There are many such people as those that passed by him with the slightest idea of helping one in need and may the Christmas spirit change their minds as that of the tall old man's.

The town clock struck twelve and the noise in the streets stopped.

Far off in the distance could be heard the echoes of some chimes which seemed to say "Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men."

Mike Matjasic Tomazin, Lodge No. 6, J.S.K.J., Lorain, O.

MY HOBBY

I am especially interested now in collecting pictures which is my favorite and most interesting hobby.

I collect all the magazines that we get during the year and hunt for pictures.

There are so many interesting pictures that it is easy to get interesting ones. I also get some from the Rotogravure Section of the paper that we get on Sundays.

I keep my pictures in a book twelve by eight inches, with one hundred and forty pages in it. This gives me plenty of room to keep them neat.

The first group is "Typical Scenes of The World." These are interesting, because they are places which I might not never be able to see.

The second group consists of "Costumes of All Kinds" suitable for rehearsals, masquerades and school work.

The third group consists of "Pretty Girls in all Walks of Life." This is rather interesting because it shows good health of some of the people.

The fourth group consists of pretty homes and gardens. Also the pretty flowers which grow in them.

The last group is pretty rooms in all reflection colors to the future of our younger people on cleanliness, decorations and art.

All these pictures I keep to look at in my later years. Now don't you think my hobby is pleasant and profitable? Try sometime yourself.

Cornwall, Pa.

I am a girl nine years old and this is my first letter to the Nova Doba. I go to the Cornwall School and I am in the fourth grade. My teacher is very good to me.

We have a farm and have lots of grains, and we also have apples, pears and potatoes. I tried a few days husking corn, and when I got home, I was all played out. Some of the corn ears were 15 inches long. The farmers must work hard, but they are more independent than the people that work for the companies.

I believe I am the first one in this section that wrote to the Nova Doba. I hope I will hear soon from someone else from around here. I wish that Cornwall would get on the map.

Josephine Meze, Lodge No. 159 J. S. K. J.

A LONG WALK

Once on a very foggy morning in August my mother, brother, sister and I and another man and his two sons went picking blueberries. We had to walk about six miles before we got to our right patch.

At last we reached and we were all soaked and wet from the fog. Our leader, which was the man, made a very big bonfire for us to get warm and dry. After our clothes were dried we put our lunch and blueberry boxes down on the ground. We took our pails in which we were to pick, everyone going in different direction.

After we had our pails filled we went and dumped the berries into the big berry boxes. We started off again all of us taking large pails, for we wanted to go out a little farther and find a better patch of berries.

While we were walking together my brother was startled by a noise, he looked in front of him and saw a deer laying under a shady tree.

We hardly each had a look at the deer and he was off like lightning. We then started to pick some more blueberries for we were in a good patch.

When we got our pails full we went back to our resting place and took a rest and then we went home.

Stanley Debevez (Age 11), Lodge No. 20, J. S. K. J., Gilbert, Minn.

A QUEER DREAM

I was walking in a beautiful garden one day when I spied a big tree with many juicy apples on it. I ran to this tree and picked my apron full of apples.

I was just going to go home and show the family, when all of sudden an elf popped up before me. He asked me two questions and they were:

"Who gave you permission to come into this garden? and Why are you taking those apples?"

Albert Godec (Age 13).

Moon Run, Pa.

This is my first letter to the Nova Doba. I hope that my first letter will not go in the waste basket. I'm eleven years old and in sixth grade. There are seven children in the family and we all belong to the J. S. K. J. lodge. Out in Moon Run it was a very good Christmas.

Out here theye are giving clothing and food to the men that are out of work.

Those who really need clothing or food get some of it. I have nothing else to say. Next time I will write more.

Anna Matyaz,

Ely, Minn.

This is my first story to the Nova Doba. I hope it will not be thrown in the waste paper basket. It is fairy tale.

The Devil's Tower.

"On!" exclaimed one of the girls. "The top ladder is gone."

"How shall we get down?" cried another.

I said nothing for I was in deep thought. We walked from one place to another, looking for a place to get down.

It was getting late and yet no place was found.

Finally we heard a call.

"Come! Come!" cried one of the girls, jumping up and down.

"I have found a place to get down."

Sure enough there were some indentations in the air which reached farther into the air it gazed upon imaginary boiling fire coming from smaller vases. This fire glowed upon hundreds of various precious stones. There were thirty-six different lights that is nine different lights from each of four corners shining upon these gems which made them more beautiful.

Around the tower, nearing the top were fireworks going off. A gorgeous sight!

The beautiful moon in the star-sprinkled sky was also reflecting this wonderful tower.

At the very top was seen a large star consisting of only diamonds. What a beautiful scene!

Stefania Dolinar (Age 14), Lodge No. 31 J. S. K. J., Bradford, Pa.

Ely, Minn.

This is my first letter to the Nova Doba. I hope it will be accepted.

"Skating."

Here we were for our first time on this road with skates.

Everyone of us was afraid to start.

One of the boys said:

"Who will try his luck first?"

(Dalej na 6. strani)

it was not very cold, so we all went to the church. We also went to the midnight mass on Christmas.

There are four (4) of us in this society and my father is there also. We all like this society, because we get money for our stories or letters sometimes. I will write another story the next time.

Louis Nemgar (Age 11), Lodge No. 25, J. S. K. J., Eveleth, Minn.

Salida, Colo.

This is my first letter to the Nova Doba, which I hope don't go into the waste basket. I have been reading all the stories and letters that have been published in the Nova Doba and am interested in them very much. So I thought I would write a little story. I am

ture, ne trka si na prsi, ne gori ji luč pameti, pa vendar ve, kdaj ima dosti in kdaj mora v
posteljo.

Nekaterim ljudem luč pameti
sploh nikdar ne zagori.

Meni je zagorela na stara leta. Zgodilo se je in zdaj mi ne diši več jed ne pijača, kakor mi je dišala njega dni. Nego se me je lotila pamet. Pregle-dal me je zdravnik in tudi on je rekel, da je bolj pametno, ako postanem pameten.

Od dne do dne napredujem v
pameti in se mi široko odpirajo oči, kako nespameten sem
bil preje in kako nespameten je okoli mene svet.

In sicer sploh!

Na primer zastran žensk.
Kakšno reč počenja brez pamet-ni ta svet zastran žensk! In ženskam sploh ne pravi ženska, ampak nežni spol ali mucek
sladki ali piška zlata mojega srca.

Kje je tod pamet?

O, jaz nisem tak, nisem več
tak in sem za seboj sežgal vsa pisma iz one dobe moje brezpameti!

Preljube moje sestre, ne od-drekam vam pravice živeti, ni-kakor ne! Toda povejte same, ali ni smešna in nespametna
vsa ta prazna slama, ki se mlati zaradi vas v besedah in dejanjih!

Kako nespametno je tisto poljubovanje in ne le nespametno, nego tudi skrajno nehigijenično
— razen ako si bi oba popreje
in pozneje šečeli ustnice z dvoodstotnim izolom. Toda si jih ne očedita nikoli!

Ali ni človek končno le človek in nič drugega in je vseeno, ali je ženska ali je moški in ali je star ali je mlad. Čemu te-daj toliko nespameti zaradi vas
in vaših oči in las in usten.

Potem so nekateri moški, ki
ženskemu svetu ne reko le mučka moja sladka in piška zlata mojega srca, nego vežejo cele dolge stavke čudnih besed in jih vežejo tako, da se na koncu vrste rimajo in jim pravijo leposlovje.

O, kako so nespametni!

Jaz nisem več tak. Spametoval sem se. Tako sem pameten, da niti, če bi hotel, ne bi mogel spisati taki rimanih
reči.

Ko človeku pričenja goret-luč pameti, vidi, kako nespamet-no je vse to in tako početje.

Jaz sem sedaj že precej pameten.

Pa še čutim, da v pameti na-predujem.

Kadar bom čisto pameten,
bom pa nemara umrl. Prepameten bom za ta svet. Prepameten, da bi sploh še jedel in pil, prepameten za ženstvo. Pa tudi prepameten, gospod ured-nik, da bi še pisal takele listke.
O kako nespametni so ti moji listki! (Ampak zastran honoraria naj vse ostane pri sta-rem!)

Smrt je vrhunc človeške pa-meti.

Dragi mi bratje, mile mi se-stre, kako se mi smilite! Kaj vam naj povem? Mladi ste, zdravi ste, ne bi radi umrli...
Ako hočete živeti, nikar ne hrepenite po pameti!

Vrhunc pameti je smrt!

In je pamet resnično lepa reč
in povhajena. Ampak kratkočasneje je brez nje.

Dragi mi bratje, mile mi se-
stre, tako je reč taka, da nevem, ali je to, čemur pravimo pamet, resnično pamet, in ali ni starost in betežnost.

In še to vam naj povem,
predragi mi bratje, premile mi
sestre: kar se mene tiče, skoro bi bil rajši nespameten, kakor da sem tako zelo pameten. Toda bodi potoženo vam in večnemu Bogu — ne morem, ne morem, joj meni — ne morem...
