FOR GOD, HOME AND COUNTRY

By FATHER KAPISTRAN

On one of London's most obscure streets stands a dingy office building with a dingier basement where the U. S. government has set up headquarters for a very humane task.

It is the office of Mr. George Rublee, executive director of the Intergovernmental Committee on Refugees from Germany. This body was formed by President Roosevelt last summer to solve the problem of what to do with the refugees rendered homeless by Nazi occupation.

Mr. Rublee is a Washington lawyer. His London refugee office is kept off the directories, because his work is not with individual refugees but with the groups of refugees which arrive every morning by Channel ship at Harwich, or by continental trains at Victoria Station.

What concerns us is not only the huge number of Jewish children (a half million), but the hundreds of thousands of Catholic outcast children.

It is clearly admitted that the majority of these children are not pathetic-looking.

In most cases they are well fed and well dressed. They are even pleased with the barracks afforded them in England.

The pity goes deeper than the skin and beyond the individual.

This parade of outcasts implies that these clean-looking children are being evacuated. It means wrecked homes.

It means a shattering of all their accustomed channels of religion, education, and livelihood. They are faced with a readjustment in which their souls will suffer most.

Next is the problem of establishing these children where they can stand a square deal in their development in world civilization. This means, they are a social problem.

And that concerns us and them alike, whether they be Israelites or Catholics.

The diplomatic problem for Mr. Rublee arises from the first essential that refugees be allowed some reasonable percentage of their possessions upon leaving Germany.

This is necessary so they can start life anew.

However, the German representatives are too anxious to use the Jewish refugees as pawns or a bargaining commodity on whom to secure a needed supply of foreign exchange.

Then comes the intergovernmental task of finding permanent settlement for the children—British Guiana, Australia, Africa.

Thus the problem is threefold: First, meeting the German conditions of letting the Jews and others go; secondly, transporting and caring for them; thirdly, settling them permanently.

And even at that, we have not asked: "What of their

CANONSBURG JUNIORS TO FEATURE WITH PLAY IN TREAT FOR JUVENILES

Canonsburg, Pa.—The Canonsburg Kay Jay Boosters announce with pleasure the cast of juvenile KSKJ members who will present the one-act Christmas comedy at the St. Jerome's Home on New Year Night, Jan. 1, at 7:30 o'clock. The play, "Mrs. O'Malley's Christmas Eve," is played by a cast ranging from 5 years to the age of 15 years.

Heading the list of characters is Mary Ludwig, who takes the part of Mrs. O'Malley, who is celebrating Christmas in a typical Irish fashion. Taking the part of the landlord, who tries to raise the rent on Mrs. O'Malley at Christmas time, is Vincent Batista, who is better known as Mr. Henderson. Representing the children of Mrs. O'Malley are Jane Bevec, Carl Delost, Frank Novak, Virginia

SPEAK ON JUGOSLAVIA AT LANGUAGE SESSION

For the first time in its history the members and friends of the Slavonic Group of the Modern Language Association of America, the largest scholarly organization in the country, with a membership of over five thousand professors and experts in the various modern languages, will listen to two discussions having to do with Yugoslavia.

First to speak will be the well-known scholar and editor, Anthony Klančar of Cleveland, on the topic: Edward Bellamy and Yugoslav Literature.

Bellamy had a particular influence in Slovenian literature, notably in two Slovenian novelists, Ivan Tavčar's "4000" and Janez Mencinger's "Abaddon." Mr. Klančar will discuss these two works and show why such an influence as Bellamy's famous "Looking Backward" could have an effect on Yugoslav literature, particularly Slovenian and Croatian.

Secondly, the secretary of the group, Dr. Arthur Coleman, formerly adviser on foreign language problems to the United States commissioner of immigration and naturalization, Washington, will, at the suggestion of Mr. Klančar, discuss:

James Gates Percival, early American poet, and the South Slavs. It is not generally known that this American poet, who has a prominent place in the great Dictionary of American Biography, was also able to read Serbian, Croatian and Slovenian, as Dr. Coleman will show with the aid of original manuscript material from the Yale University Library.

As secretary of the group, Dr. Coleman invites all Serbians, Croats and Slovenians, living in the vicinity of New York, to visit the above discussion, and others concerned with the problems of the Slavs. Prof. Samuel H. Cross of Harvard University will be chairman. The sessions will be held 9 to 12 a. m. in Room 301, Hamilton Hall, Columbia University, in the city of New York, on Thursday, Dec. 29.

"Our Page" NEW deadline is 8 a. m. Monday.

souls?"

Last week the Nazi forces recognized Mr. Rublee and invited him to discuss a solution of the "problem" (which is a very euphemistic name for the crime).

Turk, Jennie Tomsic, Jane Lewis, Jimmie Cadez, Eddie Kocjan and Junior Bevec. Celebrating Christmas at O'Malley's are a number of guests, which parts are played by Josephine Mikec, Albert Tomsic, Buddy Bevec, Josephine Ludwig, Frank Kirn and Gertrude Turk.

These characters all take a very important part in the play which Christmas celebration at first seems to be turning from better to worse, but finally turns out to be the best Christmas Eve ever celebrated by Mrs. O'Malley and her children. The scene is staged at Mrs. O'Malley's cottage.

Included in the program is the group singing of Christmas carols and duets by the Ludwig sisters. Climaxing the evening's program will be the presentation of a tableau depicting the birth of Christ in Bethlehem.

All KSKJ juvenile members of both the Queen of May Society and the St. Jerome's Society will be given their Christmas treat at that time. They will be permitted free to the show. As in the past, this treat is again being given by the local Booster Club. No treats will be delivered to the homes.

The fathers, mothers, brothers and sisters will have an opportunity to see their younger ones produce a play full of Christmas spirit and joy. A real entertainment is assured for all. Come out and give this future KSKJ group encouragement and pep to continue their good work under the sponsorship of KSKJ.

THINK THIS OVER!

Are you an active member—The kind that would be missed?

Or are you just contented That your name is on the list?

Do you attend the meetings And mingle with the flock?

Or do you stay at home To criticize and knock?

Do you take an active part To help the work along?

Or are you satisfied To only just belong?

Do you ever go to visit A member that is sick?

Or leave the work to just a few And talk about "the clique"?

Think this over, member—You know right from wrong.

Are you an active member, Or do you just belong?

LORAIN LODGE HUMS AS PLANS FOR EASTERN PIN MEET FORM

Lorain, O.—With Lorain chosen as the site for the Eastern KSKJ bowling tournament, our local lodge is humming with plans and activities to make this event the real McCoy.

After the smoke cleared away at our recent meeting we had scheduled a dance at Lorain's Coliseum, to be held early next year, as a highlight of the lodge's social year. The well-known Jimmy Dulio and his orchestra will supply the music. This dance will act as a sort of get-acquainted affair before the tournament. At this dance we'll all have a good time, while on the alleys it'll be every man for himself, and we'll fire away at each other. Lorain also plans to send a team to the Midwestern bowling tournament at Joliet. Steve Cerne, Steve Strong, Andy Kristoff, Steve Stojic and John Tomsic will make up this team. Just for advance press notices, Kristoff teamed with Hank Andorka recently to beat one of the best doubles teams in Cleveland, comprised of Joe Bodis and Jimmy Sturm. The final score read Lorain 1409, Cleveland 1369, with both Lorain bowlers averaging near the 230 mark per game. So beware you out-of-town kegglers, Lorain does have some crack bowlers.

Lorain fans notice: A meeting to further discuss our bowling plans will be held Jan. 1 in conjunction with the regular monthly meeting. Until then watch the papers for further announcements.

GUILD PLANS PLAY; PARTIES MEMBERS

Waukegan, Ill.—The Mother of God Actors' Guild at its regular monthly session, Dec. 19, discussed plans for a production to be given the latter part of February.

Ed Svete chairmans the play committee and will be assisted by Ann Cankar, Marge Papesch, Mary Gosar, Jack Repp, Joe Miholic, John Grom and John Miks, who will direct the drama.

The group has decided to go to the Chicago NBC studios and see one of the radio plays. Joseph Zorc will give a report of plans at the meeting on Jan. 16.

The annual Christmas party followed the meeting. Mary Zalar, who was in charge of the entertainment committee, presented a skit, "Little Sister Helps Out." Assisting Miss Zalar and taking part in the skit were Albin Miks, the typical old-fashioned father who insists on finding out where Sis's boy friend works and if he intends to marry her; Dick Yarc, "the bashful boy friend," who is put on the spot; and Sylvia Bertic, "the little sister," who tells all the family secrets. The playlet was very original and pleasingly performed. Following the entertainment, Santa Claus, played by Mr. Yarc, distributed comical gifts to each of the guests.

Marge Papesch, chairman of the refreshment committee, was aided by Misses Ann Cankar, Marie Grom, Millie Gerchar, Edith Cankar, Mary Gosar, Joe Govekar, Dick Yarc and John Grom.

Table decorations were carried out in the traditional red and green Christmas colors, with a pop corn lei for each member and striped candy canes as place cards, with a decorated tree for the centerpiece.

Games, under the direction of John Miks, John Gerchar and Mary Gosar, followed the refreshments.

Julie Zelenik played the piano and accompanied the group in the carol singing. Al Cepon closed the evening's entertainment with a few selections played on his accordion.

I hope da bo everybody have-u a very Merry Krizmus, in pa enga very pleasant, happy, healthy and peaceful Novo Leto to 1939. So-long, friends; pa I hope you ain't feeling too plavu after reading this prav dober literature. Gut-bye.
