

SCRAMBLINGS

BY JOURNAL JESSIE

Wanna go to a swell dance this Saturday evening? Well—there's one in the lower hall of the Slovene Auditorium. The "Gay Fellows," a pleasure club, is sponsoring the affair—and they've engaged the popular Ellis Bros. orchestra to play for financing. As an added attraction, Ann Bradley, WJAY entertainer will sing during the intermission. Admission will be 50c. Try to be there and be gay with the "Gay Fellows!"

Last Sunday evening must have been a great one for the Croats of this city. At the Slovene Auditorium, the Pioneers drew a great crowd to their Fourth Anniversary Dance, and the concert, which was sponsored by the Croatian Radio Club and held at the Croatian National Home was a grand success. Many seeking admission to the concert were turned away on account of the small seating capacity. We're glad both clubs were so successful.

Get all ready for the Cleveland Journal Benefit Show to be held on Sunday evening, Jan. 17, 1932. Oh—it's gonna be a great show! Let you know more about it next week!

The Civic Club of Cleveland will dance to Eddie Simms' music at Mervar's Hall this Saturday night! The Club is cordially inviting the public to attend!

The Rovers, an SSPZ lodge, had a membership drive on—and the bargain made was that the losing side give a party for the winning side. Well—it so happened that the two teams, one consisting of girls and the other of boys, finished in a tie! So—consequently—they're having a big celebration at Spelko's Gardens on the 16th of December. There'll also be dancing to the music furnished by Pete Sokach.

On Christmas Eve, as usual, the Junior Slovene School will present its annual program. The program, which has been planned appears to be quite interesting. And, as in previous years, there will be the distribution of candy by Santa Claus.

The St. Clair Bath House Athletic Club will dance at Grdina's Hall on Dec. 19. The Three Musketeers will furnish the music and admission is only 35 cents.

The Orels are getting all set for their Christmas Day program. The committee promises a unique and very entertaining presentation. Details next week.

"Veleja" is the name of the three act drama, which will be offered by the Anton Verovsek dramatic club this Sunday evening at the Slovene Workmen's Home. Admission will be 50c and 75c.

As usual, there will be dancing after the play

Children's Feature Begins In This Issue

"School News" Which Appears in Today's Issue Will Give Children Chance to Tell School Happenings

WILL APPEAR EVERY SIX WEEKS

Page Will Have Own Staff Working Under Supervision of Teachers and Cleveland Journal

BY FRANK A. SODNIKAR
A new feature is offered school children in today's Journal. It is a quarter page (name to be selected later) and will carry all school news of Slovene elementary school. It will appear every six weeks.

In reality the feature is a paper within a paper, having its own writers and editors, who will work under the supervision of their teachers and the Cleveland Journal editors.

Make Work Interesting
In an effort to give the children a medium, whereby they can tell the public what they are doing in class, the Cleveland Journal is glad to give the children the quarter page for their use.

The staff also hopes that the feature will serve to make school work more interesting and perhaps develop in the children the importance of good English in writing and speaking.

Interesting for All
"School News" should prove interesting not only to the children but to adults as well, who will find in the feature all activities that the children take part in at the schools.

Although today's "issue" contains news from only St. Vitus School, it is hoped that other Slovene elementary schools will also take an interest and contribute to it.

Today's "School News" will be found on page two.

NEW MEMBERS ACCEPTED INTO SODALITY

Some 50 new members were received into the Sodality of St. Vitus Church last Tuesday evening in the church. 55 candidates from the seventh grade of the school were also received. Rev. A. A. Andrej, director of the sodality, officiated. After the ceremonies, a party was given the new members in the school, with initiation stunts and refreshments furnishing the highlights.

STRUGGLERS TO ELECT OFFICERS AT SATURDAY MEETING

Election of officers will be the main item on the program of the Strugglers' meeting to be held Saturday night, Dec. 12. The meeting was postponed from Dec. 2. All members are urged to attend, as any member not present will be fined 50c.

MRS. KUSHLAN PAYS FOR BENEFIT TICKETS

Anxious to help in the Cleveland Journal Unemployment Benefit show to be given at the Slovene National Home, Jan. 17, Mrs. Mary Kushlan, proprietor of the Candy Store in the Slovene National Home, offered to pay for all the tickets needed at the show.

The Cleveland Journal asks that this favor be remembered by the young, as it is a clear indication that she is deeply interested in the doings of the younger set and willing to help in all their ventures.

Ed. Bajec, Former Sokol Is A Cowboy In Mont.

Destined for Alaska, Edward Bajec, Strays off Path and Lands in Montana Where He Works As Cowboy

Bound for Alaska, Edward Bajec, formerly of Cleveland, and a member of the Sokols, landed in Montana, where he learned to be a "modern" cowboy by driving a 1918 model Ford, a letter received from him reveals.

He left Cleveland last August and upon arriving in Joslin, Mont., hired himself to a rancher who needed help. Daily he must care for some 100 head of cattle, which takes practically all the fun out of being a cowboy, he reports.

Although his transportation is a 1918 model Ford, he has had enough to do with horses to find that to ride one is neither easy nor pleasant—for a beginner, of course.

Friends may write to him in care of Mr. Rhyner, Joslin, Mont.

Ken Williams, Brancelj At Yale Every Saturday

Master of Ceremonies at Hard Times Party Held Every Saturday Night at 9 O'clock; Prizes Given Away at Party

Ken Williams will appear every Saturday night at the Yale Theater, East 83 and St. Clair avenue. He will be master of ceremonies at the Hard Times Party held at the Theater every Saturday at 9 p. m. Assisting him at the party are the Red Brancelj Rioters with their music. Included in the party is the distribution of 35 prizes to patrons of the theater. The prizes include large supplies of food. Yale theater also inaugurated a three act vaudeville show which is presented three times every Sunday. The best stars are scheduled to appear on future bills according to the management.

SLOVENE SCHOOL TO HAVE CHRISTMAS PLAY

A Christmas party will be given by the adult class of the Slovene School on Saturday, Dec. 26, according to plans made at the class's meeting, last Friday.

An exchange of gifts, Christmas games and other entertainments will comprise the evening's schedule. The entertainment committee is working on details.

The party will be the class's second affair of the season. The first party, held for Hallowe'en, was termed one of the biggest successes the school has ever had, according to those who were present.

CROONER AT GAYFELLOW DANCE

Anna Bradley, crooner, who has appeared over many radio stations will be featured with the Ellis Bros. Orchestra at the Gayfellow Dance at the Slovene National Home, lower hall, Saturday, Dec. 12.

The radio star is only one of the many entertaining features promised for the evening by the club.

Milavec, Grdina To Sing At Library Tue.

Joint Concert Offered by Slovene Stars at St. Clair Branch Library, Tuesday Evening

A joint concert will be given by Miss Josephine Milavec and Mrs. Mitzi Grdina at the St. Clair Branch Library on Tuesday evening, Dec. 15. The singers will be accompanied by Miss Vera Milavec.

in the neighborhood and have a fine musical reputation.

Miss Milavec has scored a recent hit when she played the leading role in Zarja's last opera "Turjaška Rozamunda," while Mrs. Grdina has just recently returned from a successful concert tour through the States with Anton Subelj, baritone.

Grdina, the wizard will also give a short exhibition of his magic, while Louis Grdina and Ollie Prijatelj are also on the program with a number of songs.

Photographs Good Gifts—Bukovnik

A photograph of yourself makes the most appropriate Christmas gift for loved ones, advises John Bukovnik, photographer whose studio is located in the Slovene National Home building, 6405 St. Clair avenue.

He states that a photograph well done, means more to one's friends than any other gift. It reflects personality and is more lasting than anything else. Above this, photographs are the latest in Christmas presents, being also more economical than the usual articles given at Christmas.

Arrange for your Christmas portraits with Bukovnik's Studio, immediately, as the time is very short, he warns.

Boy Scouts Will Work For Goodwill Industries Sat.

Will Ask People to Send Old Clothes and Furniture to Goodwill Industries Who Employ Unemployed and Give to Poor

Boy Scouts of the Silver Fox Tribe will call at all the homes in the neighborhood tomorrow, Dec. 12, between 8:30 a. m. and 5 p. m. in the interests of the Goodwill Industries and ask people to send their old clothes and furniture to the institution, according to Felix A. Danton, Scoutmaster.

Scouts will not collect the clothes but will ask if you have any old clothes and wish to have a Goodwill truck call for them. He will give you a card to sign.

Scouts will be identified by a green tag and the familiar plaid neckerchief.

The Goodwill Industries are part of the Community Fund. They employ poor people to repair the old clothes and furniture received; then sell the goods at their stores or give it to persons too poor to pay for them, by having them work for the goods.

Needy Children Get Gifts From Miklavz

Six New Donors Also Announced for Cleveland Journal Undernourishment Fund for St. Vitus Children

Over 135 packages of clothes were distributed by Miklavz to the needy children at St. Vitus School last Monday afternoon.

The needy children also received many new donations during the past week. Those giving to the Undernourishment Fund this week are:

Mrs. John Alich, 6722 Bonna presented a large raisin cake. Joseph Dezelan sent in more cookies. Louis Princ, Norwood road grocer, sent a bushel of apples, cakes and candy. Grdina's Shoppe donated six pairs of children's stockings. The Community Welfare Club gave eight large boxes of graham crackers and coffee cakes. Mrs. D. Gercevic, 1194 East 71 street sent clothes. The sisters as well as the Cleveland Journal thank the new donors.

RELIEF COMMITTEE BUSY AGAIN

The Unemployed Relief Committee, which last winter cared for the destitute families among the Slovenes of Cleveland, will again take a leading part in the neighborhood's charity undertakings, it was decided at a meeting held recently.

The question before the members at the meeting was whether to discontinue the work and turn over the remaining money to the Community Welfare Club or to continue this winter.

To assure continuance of the work, a total of $70 was donated to the Committee at the first meeting.

The Unemployed Relief Committee will also be one of the recipients of the proceeds from the Cleveland Journal Unemployed Benefit to be held at the Slovene National Home on January 17, 1932.

Big Door Prize To Be Feature At Benefit

Valuable Door Prize Planned for Cleveland Journal Unemployed Benefit in Slovene National Home, Jan. 17

PROGRAM ALMOST COMPLETE

All Details of Show Will be Announced in Next Issue; Show Promises to Exceed All Others

BY FRANK A. SODNIKAR

A valuable door prize will be given at the Cleveland Journal Unemployed Benefit Show to be held in the Slovene National Home auditorium on Jan. 17. This will be only one of the many features in this show.

The program is almost complete at present, and the announcement of it will be made in next week's issue. It will be a program entirely different from any produced in the neighborhood in the past, containing celebrities who have never before appeared in the neighborhood and the names of whom are famous throughout the country.

Only Show

The Cleveland Journal Benefit Show is the only show given by the young and for the young. It is the younger set's donation to the Unemployed Relief in the neighborhood.

Tickets for the affair will be put on sale in the near future, the places where they will be obtained to be announced soon.

Exceeds All Others

The entire financial part of the show will be handled by the Community Welfare Club and the Unemployed Relief Committee, who will also be the recipients of the proceeds.

Official endorsement for the Benefit Show was already given by the Community Welfare Club.

Tickets for the show will be priced low, in order to give everyone an opportunity to see this show which will exceed all others in brilliance, talent and novelty.

SLOVENE CONCERT ORCHESTRA ROUNDING INTO FORM

New members and six weeks of practice are making the Slovene Concert Orchestra a well-trained and well-balanced unit, report the members.

Seven musicians have been added since the first practice, six weeks ago, making an orchestra unit of 28 pieces. Every department is represented in the make up of the group at present. Eight violins a cello and a double bass comprise the string section. The wood wind instruments include the clarinet and a flute. Four trumpets and a trombone are used in the brass section, with a piano and drums in the percussion division.

LAUDS CLEVELAND JOURNAL

One has to be a good writer to merit comment from Jake Falstaff, columnist of the Cleveland Press who is noted as a real critic of literary work. Therefore Frances Gerbec is good, for in last Thursday's paper Mr. Falstaff passed comment on an article written by Gerbec, for its excellent style. He also confided to Miss Gerbec that the article was exceptionally well written. Congratulations, Frances!

Slovene School To Have Santa, Two Plays, 24th

Two Plays and Miscellaneous Program Will Be the Vehicle of Entertainment While Waiting for Santa to Come

ONE PLAY AND OPERETTA

Orders for Santa's Gifts May Be Left at the Office of the Secretary of the Slovene Home

BY FRANK T. SUHADOLNIK

Two plays of the interesting program which will be given by the Slovene School of the National Home will contain more than 50 players in a novelty playlet and operetta. The program will be the regular annual Christmas presentation of the Slovene School.

The first play titled "Dete je bolno" will present the youthful players in a delightful play which concerns itself with domestic troubles of a juvenile household with the members of the classes giving convincing performances in parts which they are casted.

The second play, "Miklavz prihaja" is in reality an operetta with some very interesting parts sung by the members of the play. The play itself will be touching and full of interest for the youth as well as recalling pleasant memories for the older people. Opening with the scene with a boy and a girl deciding what to include in the letter to Miklavz the second shows him in his workshop with his little helpers getting his ever full sack ready for the long trip to the chimney sides of all the good children. It is the second scene that includes most of the singing with all the members of the household singing their parts and telling the part they play. Even angels and devils are to be represented. The play was written by Ivan Lah.

Between acts and between plays the faculty of the Slovene School has included a miscellaneous program of singing, music and tap dancing. The particulars will be given in the next issue of the Cleveland Journal.

In talking over the program of the Slovene School the teachers have suggested that since Santa Claus will distribute gifts to the children already he may just as well distribute the gifts which he will eventually bring at the home fireside. They request that as many orders as possible for gifts for Santa Claus be left with the secretary of the Slovene Home who will be sure that Santa gets them in time to give them to the children.

SLOVENE SCHOOL

Quietly and without much ado the Slovene School of the National Home, junior division, is doing great things for instilling the love of the Slovene into the hearts of the young children who are most willing readers and learners. The children are carrying away lessons of the customs and the thoughts of the older Slovenes and making them a part of themselves to use when they come into contact with the old people in knowing how to interpret their thoughts into American ideas. The children will be able to take their places in the shoes of the old generation and be able to carry on in this same spirit which urged those going before and who will eventually relinquish their positions. Whatever success they will have will depend directly to the training they received at the Slovene School.

The Slovene School is operated by the Slovene National Home on its own expenses and is aided by whatever help it can get from interested friends who patronize their performances and picnics. It is very little that the Slovene School asks in the support of the idea behind the school. This year the Slovene school will have another interesting program on Christmas Eve at which the great children's attraction, a Christmas tree, plus high class juvenile entertainment will be the medium for showing what the children learn and a means of replenishing coffers so that the work can continue.

Anything that anyone can do in the interest of the School will be more than appreciated by the members of the Slovene School. It may be of interest to the reader that every year Santa Claus distributes gifts to the children at the foot of the giant Christmas tree which occupies the center of the stage. This year with a great economy of finance it is certain that many houses will not have Christmas trees, so why not leave the orders for gift deliveries with the Santa Claus as he comes to the Slovene School entertainment and in that way get a hall full of people who will morally and financially give it support. It is a good idea. Give it a thought.

SILVER AND TROUBLE

Recurrently advocates of the silver stabilization action which is receiving much attention in national politics and national business, claim that the stabilization of silver is the cure-all for practically everything that ails us in the depression. The main argument which the advocates of silver stabilization advance is that the purchasing power of the large populous countries, dependent on the silver standard, has been crippled when they buy from gold standard countries. Several countries, namely, England and Scandinavia have abolished the gold standard in an effort to get a balance of trade.

In a previous editorial we have stated our opinion of the trouble with the silver industry and what was behind it. To date there are figures available from the Department of Commerce that indicate that the advocates of silver standard are wrong in their supposition. Figures show that there has been a sharp decrease both in exports and imports of practically all nations with two or three notable exceptions. China, a large populous nation, having a silver standard which was supposedly ruined by the silver standard is one of the nations with which exports have shown an increase.

The silver producers will be forced to see their own way out of the difficulty of depression in their own industry. Stabilization of silver is a method of government subsidy for private interests.

Doneghy, Dagmar (Mrs. Jos. Warren Beach) — The Border; a Missouri Saga

The story of the adventures of a young mother and her six small sons on the Kansas-Missouri border during the Civil War.

"Th's is Miss Doneghy's first excursion into fiction says her publisher. Then she is indeed a skillful and imaginative storyteller of the first rate. Her style is easy, graceful and plentifully supplied with the warm, vivid tones which make irresistibly for drama. She has conceived a tale bathed in the epic sweep of great events."

Garland, Hamlin — Companions on the Trail, a Literary Chronicle

Continues the record of the author's literary life, begun in Roadside Meeting. This volume covering the year 1900 to 1914, is based on fourteen volumes of actual daily comment and characteristics kept during this period.

"Mr. Garland's interests were naturally predominantly literary, but his book records the vivid delight he took in following the trail in the West, his concern for and knowledge of the Indians, and his excursions into the field of psychic phenomena. It is the record of a busy and industrious life, rich in contacts, and quick with friendships. It suffers, if truth be told of its virtues, for the very multiplicity of personalities it introduces gives to its narrative an episodic and fragmentary character. It is, indeed, almost a collection of brevitates. But they are interesting brevitates."

NEWLY ORGANIZED BOXING CLUB TO STAGE DANCE

Skariatina, Irina (Mrs. Victor F. Blakeslee) — A World Can End

"The story of a young Russian woman (of noble family) born to wealth and extravagant luxury. The simple courage which brought her through, the terrible events which have been called the 'ten days which shook the world' and through the months of privation and suffering that followed is shown in her Diary. This Diary was brought out of Russia by Dr. Frank A. Golder of Leland Stanford University, who, with Dr. Herschel C. Walker, head of the Petrograd division of the American Relief Administration, saved the author from prison and starvation."

"Rarely does one encounter, either in fiction or biography, a personality so altogether delightful as the one which unselfishly reveals itself to us in Irina Skariatina's 'A World Can End'. Every line of Skariatina's book is enthralling. The brilliant values of 'A World Can End' inhere not in her commentary on the Revolution itself but in the color and flavor of every phase of life which this youngest scion of the house of Skariatina savored and here sets down for us. She writes with a joyous narrative sense and an instinct for form and style that are a delight: and she has things to say."

STYLISH BOXING CLUB TO STAGE DANCE

The St. Clair Bath House Athletic Club, which has just recently been organized, is to stage a benefit dance at the Slov. Nat'l Home, Saturday Dec. 19, 1931.

The club has for its trainer and part manager, "Chuck" Costello who is considered as one of the leading amateur featherweights in Ohio. "Gingy" Kostelec is business manager and the club has to thank Mr. Felnie Martin for his co-operation in being able to give them suitable training quarters and also for advice which was helpful in starting the club. The membership consists of about fifteen members, most of them being beginners in the pugilistic field. The outstanding would-be champion is Johnny Morqus, who is staging a successful comeback and who has his eyes on the Golden Gloves championship.

The purpose of the dance is to raise funds which will be used to equip the boys with boxing paraphernalia and other necessary needs of the club.

SLOVENE IS ESSAY WINNER

Third prize of a bronze medal and $5 in cash was won by Bernadine Gerish of Chisholm Minn., in the essay contest conducted by the Highway Education Board.

GETS THANKS

The pupils of Room 17 received a letter of thanks from the Rev. J. F. Vigveron, Lemmon, S. D., for the generous supply of stamps they have sent to him recently. Besides stamps they also sent other useful articles.

The children collected stamps from every source. They were then sorted according to these divisions; air mail, commemoratives, precancelled, special delivery, old issue, all foreign and U. S. stamps above two cents, including one half and one and one half cent stamps.

Two and one cent stamps are sent to Techny, Ill., for their Mission in Patna, India.

For every ten pounds of stamps a rosary is sent to the child who collected the highest number.

If any readers care to save stamps they can give them to the sisters, who will gladly accept them.

DRAMATIZE THANKSGIVING

The Fourth Grade dramatized "The First Thanksgiving" in the classroom last Wednesday afternoon. The children furnished their own costumes and stage property. The players and characters represented were: Frank Luzar, John Alden; Mary Hrovat, Priscilla; Eugene Lauric, Miles Standish; Anthony Fortuna, Squanto, Indian chief; Daniella Homovec, Mother; Mary Centa, Betty; Joseph Kozlevcar, Edward; Mary Gornik and Anthony Stampfel, Orphans; Donald Gorsky, Michael Tomc, Joseph Okorn, Indians.

THANKSGIVING SHOWER

Room 20 surprised teacher with a fruit shower the afternoon before Thanksgiving. Sister's desk was overflowing with fruit and other goodies. The afternoon was spent pleasantly by singing Thanksgiving songs and viewing slides correlating with their work in geography.

SAVE STAMPS

Sixth grade pupils, during the past few weeks were as busy as bees collecting canceled postage stamps for the Catholic Missions. The total number of stamps amounted to 10,000.

In this contest, Eva Jelencic, the class president was in the lead. Her total number amounted to 4,065 stamps.

DRAW BOATS

Some time ago during the art period we were asked to draw fairy boats. The children worked very hard. Some drew boats from history, as the Santa Maria, Nina, Pinta and Golden Hand. Others drew steamships, schooners, sailboats and sloops. The boats were then attached to the board and the children cast votes to see which was the best. The best was a Viking boat drawn by Joseph Hrovat.

WHO WILL SUGGEST A NAME?

Any pupil of St. Vitus School may win a year's subscription to the Cleveland Journal by suggesting a title for this section. The rules are simple:

1. The title should not include the name of St. Vitus School.
2. All entries must be in the hands of the Journal editors by Jan. 7, 1932.
3. They may be left at the Journal office, addressed to — "School Contest" or with the sisters.
4. Judges will be announced later.
5. The winner will be announced in the next issue of this section.

GLEANINGS

ROOM 8

Although the boys and girls are trying to have perfect scores in all their written work, the following have been successful: Anna Blatnik, Theresa Veber, Dorothy Prebel, Jeanette Lokar, Eleanor Andolek and Anna Kovacic.

ROOM 18

Team 8, was the best winner in a series of contests which ended last Friday. The best workers of the team were: Edward Bruss, John Pataki and Jean Perovsek. Alphonse Germ was captain.

ROOM 22

The class had a gay and festive time at the Thanksgiving party on Nov. 25. Singing, recitations and selections played on the accordion by Joseph Pozelnik occupied the major part of the afternoon. We must not forget the refreshments which consisted of fruit, candy and cake.

All the pupils wrote letters to their teacher, Miss Mary Zamejc, who is confined to her bed at her home. The letters were most original and interesting, and, no doubt, afforded Miss Marie much pleasure.

The pupils are displaying great enthusiasm over a speed race contest being held in class. Both sides are progressing rapidly and competition is very keen. Which side will win?

Room 22 lost its flag, a reward given to the room maintaining the highest average in spelling, to Room 2, whose average was 97%. Congratulations, Room 2!

GIVE TOYS

Several classes have contributed toys, nick-nacks, marbles, dolls, rosaries, medals, beads, etc, in order to provide Father Marcellus, a Franciscan priest in Lukachukai, Ariz., with Christmas gifts for the Indians.

We hope that many other boys and girls help us fill another box for the Indians. — "Dick" Slapar.

LEARN BY RADIO

The radio was brought into Room 16 recently and the pupils listened to Walter Damrosch's "Music Appreciation Hour." The program was "Legends in Music," consisting of the Preludes to Lohengrin by Wagner and "Elsa's Dream" from the same opera.

The music began with the violins which played very high and quietly. Gradually they played louder and then faded away. This represented the appearance and disappearance of the Holy Grail.

Our teacher told us about Ignatz Paderewski, the Polish pianist, so I brought the record "Minuet in G" by Paderewski. We played it on the victrola. All the children sat very quietly and listened to this beautiful selection.

SPELLING CHAMPIONS

The following pupils of the sixth grade succeeded in keeping a perfect record in spelling since September: Mary Baraga, Dorothy Grum, Eva Jelencic and Frances Novak.

The following deserve honorable mention for having a perfect score during one month: John Mervar, Stanley Kaiser, Engelbert Mismas, Sophia Kasic, Justine Mervar and Julia Zecaric.

FIFTH GRADE

The children of Rooms 11 and 12 have had several weekly contests in spelling, arithmetic and reading.

Joe Zallnik and Albert Barton of Room 11 are leading at present. Josephine Kuchar and Matthew Nussack are leaders in Room 12.

Teachers of these classes are noting a marked progress in the studies since the contests began.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The Mission Club, sixth grade, extends acknowledgement to Mrs. Frances Mervar and Mrs. Julia Frank for their kind assistance in rendering their mission party a success.

HISTORY PROVES INTERESTING

The history periods in Room 16 are made interesting by giving floor talks. The boys give an account of the adventures of discoverers and explorers. The method used is most novel.

The speaker faces the class and tells the story of some explorer, concealing throughout the name of the man he is talking about. When he finishes, the class is asked "Who am I?" The one telling correctly gets the next turn. The class also decides what mark the speaker receives.

The following children portrayed their characters most excellently: Joseph Gornik, Alphonse Bruss, Henry Hrovat, Malensek, Olga Grebenc, Frances Dolenc, Angela Erbeznik, Josephine Miklavcic, Agnes Skerbec, Frances Vidmar and Mary Strukelj.

LETTERING

During the art period our class tried very hard to learn lettering. We first learned letters that are made with straight lines, then we attempted the oval shaped letters. As a test we lettered a poem, on teeth, which is rhymed to "Farmer in the Dell."

FRANCES T. GERBEC

The Food We Eat

Bacteria is one of the vital factors we have to deal with concerning food.

Crackers and flour, for example, and other dry food substances, as well as meat that has been dried, are not as readily susceptible to decay as are the ordinary foods that contain moisture.

In the winter especially, dried fruits, such as apricots, raisins, and prunes together with vegetables like roman and lima beans, serve on our menu list extensively since they are cheap and just as nutritive as the fresh foods.

The dry foods may be kept in the home, in the cool and dry cellar, or pantry, and because they do not spoil readily, may be purchased in bulk and thereby also play an important part in the housekeeper's budget.

IMPORTANT COLLINWOOD EVENT

Sunday evening, December 13, the Eastern Stars S. D. Z. are scheduling a private dance at the Slovene Home on Holmes avenue.

Refreshments will be served, and the waltzes, fox trots and snappy polkas will be furnished a la Jack Zortz duo, (a popular drawing card) and according to Mickey, "the fellows that make grandmaw feel young."

The club itself is composed of a large number of the prominent Collinwood young folk, who are well reputed for their hospitality and the gift of making all of their guests feel "at home."

So, forget your troubles Sunday night. It will be worth it. (Admission is only 35c.) Meet at the Slovene Home and make the evening a merry one with the popular Eastern Stars.

A Menu Suggestion

Here's the German way of preparing cocoa. The ingredients are one cup of milk, one heaping teaspoon of cocoa, and one heaping teaspoon of sugar.

Mix a small portion of the milk with the cocoa and sugar until the paste formed is smooth. Then add to it the rest of the milk that has been warmed.

To insure a good flavor, stir the mixture to a foam with the egg beater.

By the way, cocoa is very rich in food value.

BILLY BURNS WINS WELTERWEIGHT TITLE IN INTERNATIONAL TOURNEY

In an International boxing tourney held in Buffalo, Cleveland fighters emerged with two titles, earned by Billy Burns and Joe Barry. Billy Burns, local lightweight pride, came thru with smashing victories over Jack Harlan, of Pittsburgh, who is a protege of Tommy Loughran, and Charley Raynor, one of Canada's best amateur boxers. Billy, being a few pounds overweight in his class, was forced to step into the welterweight division, but it made no difference, he just went out and emerged victorious.

Joe Barry, an amateur never heard of until the night of the fight, subbed in the lightweight class for his friend Mazer, who was over the weight limit. Barry a deaf youth, scored decisive victories over McClain, a negro star of Buffalo and Harley Stonehouse of Toronto.

JOHNNY MORDUS SCORES VICTORY OVER KORCHAK

Johnny was the semi finalist, on the show fight held jointly by the Royal Purple Boosters club and the Tenth Ward Community Club. He met a tough battler in Korchak, but was in good shape and staggered his man all through the fight, lacking a knockout punch.

Billy Sommers, another local fac, in trying a comeback, after a long layoff, met a hard puncher in Neubauer and lost on a technical kayo.

F. Blake had an easy time against Lang, winning handily. Other results are:

Mesnik beat Smith, 3 rounds. Spacek beat Hudak, 3 rounds. Pike kayoed Reed, second rd. Abraham beat Bonius, 118 lbs. Rivers won on foul from Pace, second round.
