World Famous Lipizzaner Stallions

Text and Photographs
by STANE KRANJC

BOLTON, Ont. – During my many visits to Slovenia, I visited the town of "Lipica" on several occasions. Unfortunately, I never had an opportunity to see The White Stallion performance.

During the last part of October – 2002 I noticed an advertisement in our local newspaper, "The Caledon Citizen" indicating that The World Famous Lipizzaners will be presenting a special presentation of "The Dancing Stallions." The event was to be held on November 2 at 2 and 7 p.m. at the Center for Sports in Brampton, Ontario.

"WOW" I said to myself, "Lipizzaners performing in my region of Caledon. This is one performance I will not miss." And I didn't. I contacted White Stallions Productions Inc. in Florida and asked them for more information regarding the planned event. They were very kind to send me The Lipizzaner Stallions World Program, some history and a few pictures of their horses.

The White Stallions Acrobatic performance to the beat of Strauss, Mozart and other music was spectacular. Series of battle movements originally intended to be used in warfare, Equestrian Ballet dances, leaps into the air, military drill performed to music, General George S. Patton Salute and many other maneuvers and presentations captivated the audience and will be remembered forever.

A Salute to American General S. Patton was in thanks for saving The White Stallions from German SS and Russian Communist armies during the Second World War. In the United States White Stallions are well known not only because of their many performances but also by the Walt Disney motion picture, "The Miracle of the White Stallions."

Training of Lipizzaners starts when they are 2-years-old and it takes eight years to teach them not only in dressage, but also how to deal with crowds, applause, music, lights, and travel.

White Stallions are born black or brown. They mature white within 10 years. These horses keep working into their 30s, then they are retired and sent to pasture to enjoy their golden years. There are approximately 2,500 White Stallions around the world, and at age of 2, they cost between $20,000 and $30,000 each.

The Master of Ceremonies explained each performance to help the audience understand fine points of White Stallions equestrian artistry and historical background.

It is a well known fact that it was in "LIPA" Slovenia (at that time Province of Austria) that Archduke Karl of Austria in 1580 established a royal stud farm where breeding and the name of White Stallions originated. During the show there was much said about the contribution of Spanish, Austrian and other countries to The White Stallions' rich history. Unfortunately, "Lipica" and Slovenia were never mentioned during the performance or in the program. It is not my intention to blame the performers of the White Stallion Production for this important omission. It is the historians that should correct this part of history. "Lipica" is a small town in Slovenia located in the hills of Karst between the town of Sezana and the Adriatic Sea.

I could not find the explanation of how the name of Lipica was changed to Lipizza. At the fall of the Austrian Empire in 1918, the town of Lipica the region of Primorska in Slovenia became part of Italy. The White Stallion herd was divided between Italy and Austria.

During the 25 years (1918 - 1943) of Italian occupation of this part of Slovenia, many Slovenian towns and people's names were changed from Slovenian to Italian. Lipica could have been one of these towns that was changed to Lipizza. Based on and following the European tradition of naming the breed after its region of birth, in my opinion the White Stallions should be called Lipicaners and not Lipizzaners. Birth place of the White Stallions, Lipica town in Slovenia near the Adriatic Sea should be included in the program and in the history of the White Stallions.

Lipizzaner Stallions sure are a unique horse breed. Their performance was a great and enjoyable experience not only for me but for everyone attending the show. It is unfortunate that Lipica and Slovenia were left out.

Just a little dab of rudeness erases a multitude of virtues.

Folks aren't surprised country music is so popular. Where else can you hear about lying and cheating — outside of politics.

Slovenia Joins Border Patrols

DOBOJ, Bosnia and Herzegovina – Slovenian troops are now among the international peacekeepers helping patrol in Bosnia and Herzegovina, another former Yugoslav republic.

More than 80 Slovenian soldiers arrived Saturday to their new home – for the next six months – in Doboj, two hours west of Eagle Base.

Slovenian troops have been members of a Multinational Specialized Unit, a riot control component of Stabilization Force, for years now. But their arrival in Doboj is the first time Slovenian troops have patrolling responsibilities.

During the welcome ceremony for Slovenian troops, Brig. Gen. John von Trott, commander of Multinational Brigade North, expressed his confidence in the soldiers, who will patrol Lukavac and Gracanica.

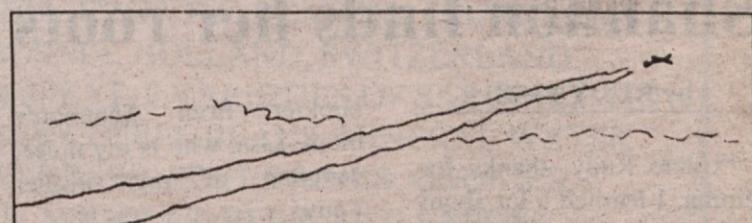

Von Trott pointed out that the Slovenians have a great advantage over the other 11 nations operating in MNB North: the Slovenian language is similar enough to local languages to allow easy communication without interpreters.

While Slovenia, the northern-most former Yugoslav republic, has come a long way since the breakup of the country in the early 1990's, Bosnia is lagging in several areas:

- There are still three different armed forces left over from the war.
- The politics are ethnically dominated.
- Hundreds of thousands of people still live as refugees and displaced persons.
- Many homes lie destroyed and the country's economy is weak.

"Slovenia... is not turning its back on her neighbors in the southeast," said Tadej Labernick, the Slovenian ambassador to Bosnia, during the ceremony.

"She wants to help Bosnia and Herzegovina since only stable and successful Bosnia and Herzegovina can guarantee peace and progress in this part of Europe," Labernick said.

REFLECTIONS BY RUDY

My great niece Shannon Carter

Shannon finds her roots

by RUDY FLIS

"Uncle Rudy, thanks for helping. I learned a lot about my heritage! Thanks again. - Shannon. P.S. - I got an "A."

The above words were on the cover of a booklet my brother Tony's granddaughter gave me. I received this booklet from Shannon's mom, Lisa, who is my niece, daughter of my brother Tony.

About a year ago I received a call from my niece Lisa. Her daughter Shannon wanted to do a report on her heritage and wondered if I would talk with Shannon and tell her about my parents and their journey from Europe to the USA. Of course, my answer was "Yes." I was pleased that she had an interest in her heritage.

Shannon asked me questions and I answered what I could. I told her several stories about my mom. And from that, the report on her heritage was based, and a large poster depicting my mom's journey as an immigrant.

I loved it. But that was not enough for Shannon. As soon as we met, she peppered me with questions about my mom. Shannon's older sister Ali and younger brother Greg sat at the table and also heard about their great-grandma.

Shannon's booklet on heritage contains Slovenian vocabulary and its translation. There is a page of questions, such as "What if my great grandmother never came to America?" Another page had this question, "Should older relatives teach ways of the old country to the younger generations, or should they all learn the new way?"

On the last page of the report, the last sentence was "I'm very glad my great-grandma made that decision so I can live here."

Heritage from our past moves forward with our children and grandchildren. As I met my brother's grandchildren and enjoyed the heritage report of Shannon, I had it all going for me as did my brother Tony. As our stomachs with blue blood Slovenian stomachs carried the precious cargo of Slovenian heritage known as "Rice Sausage" which we both consumed for breakfast.

The prize sausage was from Malensek's in Cleveland, and it made us even more welcome at the Flis home in Upland, Calif.

I knew this would be a perfect visit with my brother Tony. When we arrived, my brother hugged and kissed the rice sausage, my wife Therese and then me. Now that's heritage with a taste.

Life in the Refugee Camps

by ANTON ZAKELJ
translated and edited by JOHN ZAKELJ

Thursday, July 4, 1946

I took measurements of the exhibit space at the theater, then met with Miss Russon for 2 hours.

I attended a meeting regarding refugee employment. Also attending were the UNRRA director, some British military officers, the city mayor, representatives of the Austrian work office and representatives from 3 refugee camps - 14 people in all.

The representative from the Ukrainian camp spoke for 5 - 10 minutes about how poorly the area farmers treat Slavic people. Under Hitler, the farmers around here learned to treat Slavic people like slaves. Hitler brought in "Ostarbeiter," people who were forcibly moved from East European countries to work here as if they were farm animals. The Austrians at the beginning were ashamed, and the British began to understand why none of the refugees want to work on the farms.

Then a representative from the Croatian camp spoke for an hour and said less in that hour than the Ukrainian said in 10 minutes.

I was tempted to talk about the experience our own men had with a farmer near Maria Buch. They worked for 14 hours and more a day, and all they got was the normal food ration. I asked the farmer what our men were supposed to do when they wear out their clothes. The farmer said, "I'll try to get some clothing for them from the government work office." Later, I noticed that farmer had three wagon loads of used military uniforms, but he wouldn't allow our men to use any. I didn't say anything about those military uniforms because I knew that the farmer would be arrested and sent to the Wolfsberg interment camp if anyone told the authorities (the Wolfsberg camp was where the British imprisoned former Nazis). I probably should have said something!

Friday, July 5, 1946

I was at the theater all day, accepting items for display at the show. All together, I registered 276 items from 70 exhibitors.

Miss Russon returned from Italy with some silk cloth, paint, wool and other things. She went to each camp - ours, the Croatians in Murdorf, and the Ukrainians in the city - and personally divided up the materials she had brought.

Saturday, July 6, 1946

This morning, Babnik, Vrtačnik, and Zupan worked with me to set up our display. Earlier, Zupan and Babnik were opposed, but now they are helping.

Director Gilbert opened the show at 3 p.m. with a speech complimenting our hard work. He mentioned that there is always a black sheep in every group, and we must not allow that to affect our opinion of the entire group. I think he may have been talking about his own opinion of Slovenians, which was very negative when he arrived, but is now very positive. It's a shame he will soon leave.

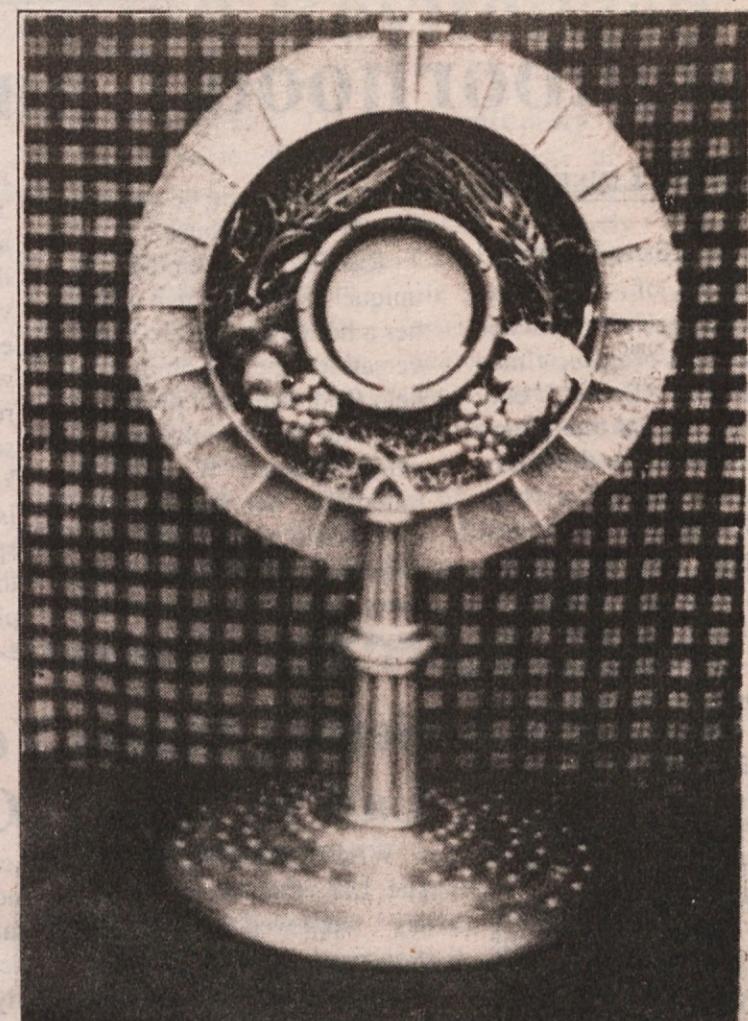

After the director's speech, Franc Zupan led a concert of Slovenian singing, and then people were invited to view the crafts on display.

Soon after the opening of the display, the Croatians threatened to walk out if we didn't remove a painting of King Peter which we had hung on the wall. King Peter and his now-deceased father, King Alexander, are Serbian, and the Croatians hate them. The Croatians complained to the director that politics did not being in our display. We agreed to remove the painting.

We had divided the space in the hall by a lottery. Luckily, the Slovenians got the best and largest space, which was along the left side and immediately in front of the stage. The Croatians got the right corner, and the Ukrainians got the back, in the balcony. The Ukrainians displayed some rugs, and the Croatians displayed their coat of arms and a map of Croatia (which they had obtained from a painter in Austria). Neither group displayed any crafts which they had made in the refugee camp. But the Slovenian section was full of items that were made in our camp: bobbin lace, knitted hearts, aluminum pots, brushes, handbags woven from straw, shoes, paintings, and many other things. We had much more bobbin lace to show, but there wasn't enough room. Our most beautiful item was a chalice and monstrance which Tone Babnik made for bishop Rozman.

This is the monstrance which Tone Babnik made by hand in the refugee camp near Judenburg, Austria for Bishop Gregory Rozman in July, 1946. Most of this monstrance was made from aluminum which the refugees obtained from damaged warplanes. Note the fine detail - grains of wheat to represent the body of Christ, grapes and grape leaves to represent the blood of Christ.

Neighborhood Characters

by JOE GLINSEK

Another of the many 'characters' who populated our area was Florjan, a man I nicknamed 'Rabbit,' only mentally. We got along very nicely, but he was the prototypical example of a 'hen-pecked' husband, and I had sympathy for his plight. Florjan faithfully trudged to his railroad job every day, but his wife nagged him because he was very lazy about home chores. Even as a child, I remember thinking he looked like a rabbit, and it wasn't because he had long ears, though they were prominent. Just the look of his face and the shape of his head reminded me of a bunny. I must confess that I quietly categorized many people this way. It must have been something in my genes, because years later my nicknames for certain people came up in conversation with my mother and she laughed at the coincidence — she had seen them the same way. Dad could not imagine the similarities that we noticed, and in his opinion, 'we were both a little strange.'

Florjan's wife had one of those peculiar Slovenian dialects, and she was discussing him with my mother one day in the backyard. He'd been noticeably missed for more than a week, and we learned that he had been ailing. Her explanation of his illness ended with a punchline delivered in her succinct and rhyming Slovenian idiom; she had told him to "Get well or die!" Mom and I both laughed, but it was not meant to amuse. She had neither the time nor patience to minister to a sick, lazy husband. Her pragmatic three-word Slovenian phrase was added to our conversational lexicon and jokingly repeated if someone had the temerity to be sick for more than a few days.

A near neighbor was undoubtedly a character, or possibly something more serious — we frequently discussed her antics. She lived in a house on a small city lot jam-packed with trees, shrubs and flowers and surrounded by a wire fence. After having walked past the place for over 20 years, I can't describe the house except to say that it was 'wallpapered' and canopied with foliage. She was out with her horse and watering-can from early morning until dusk. She did have a husband, but he must have cooked for himself. After the constant ministering to her flora, there would be no time left for a mere spouse.

Rainfall prompted a unique habit, one that made her a humorous topic of conversation. She felt obliged to help God water her plants by wielding her sprinkling can while it rained. We tried to rationalize her behavior by speculating whether the trees had formed such a dense canopy that no rain could penetrate to the plants below. The frequency of her queer activity would not support this logic, so we just politely winked and smiled at her eccentricity. I don't know why, but she was always referred to as 'Toppy.' It seems unlikely that we didn't know her proper name, yet it is possible. I can't recall her speaking to anyone, other than murmuring to her plants.

Senate Passes Voinovich Law to Protect Great Lakes

WASHINGTON, DC — The U.S. Senate on Thursday approved legislation sponsored by U.S. Senator George V. Voinovich (R-OH) to ban oil and gas drilling in the Great Lakes through 2005, and which he co-sponsored to provide funding to fight Asian carp, an invasive species threatening the lakes' ecosystem.

"The lakes are gems; we've worked so hard to turn them around, and they're among our nation's most important natural resources. There are some things that simply don't belong in them and drilling and Asian carp are two of those things. I'm glad we've dealt them both a serious blow with this legislation," said Voinovich.

The drilling ban and funding to fight Asian carp were approved as amendments to the 2003 Omnibus Appropriations Act which the Senate passed late Thursday night.

The Voinovich-sponsored ban on oil and gas drilling would extend the current ban, which expires in September 2003, until September 2005. In 2001, Voinovich worked with U.S. Senator Debbie Stabenow (D-MI) to introduce and pass legislation to impose the current 2002-2003 ban.

Preliminary estimates indicate that Lake Erie natural gas production would meet only the smallest fraction of Ohio's annual needs.

According to the Ohio Oil and Gas Association, the state consumes 1 trillion cubic feet of natural gas annually, while the Ohio Department of Natural Resources estimates that Lake Erie could only produce 20 billion cubic feet annually.

"Lake Erie has come a long way since the 1980's and is a major source for drinking water for Ohioans. It's a recreational treasure and an important ecosystem that has brought economic benefits to the region. Until a more permanent solution can be found, we need to make sure the current ban is extended to preserve the progress we've made in protecting the lakes," said Voinovich.

To help fight Asian carp, Voinovich co-sponsored legislation introduced by U.S. Senator Carl Levin (D-MI) to provide $500,000 for the continued maintenance and operation of an existing electrified barrier in the Chicago Sanitary and Ship Canal to prevent the movement of Asian Carp into the Great Lakes from the Mississippi River.

"Invasive species like the Asian carp are swimming Pac-Men that eat up native fish and grow to enormous sizes. They'll wreck our fishing industry as well as the health and future of Lake Erie if we don't stop them," Voinovich said.

Bean and Sausage Soup

Jo (Champa) Randlett made this soup on a cold evening for a few friends, and accidentally substituted cans of 3-bean salad for the canned beans. We thought it was an interesting twist, a little sweet. If you use the bean salad, be sure to rinse the beans. Either way, it's a good and easy meal.

Ingredients:

2 slices of bacon	½ t marjoram (optional)
½ C (1 medium) onion, chopped
1 C sliced carrots	¼ t pepper
1 C cubed potato	2 C water
¼ C fresh chopped parsley
8 oz. thinly sliced smoked sausages
16 oz. can of green beans, undrained
16 oz. can of Great Northern or white beans, undrained

Directions:

In a large saucepan, cook bacon until crisp. Drain, reserving 1 tablespoon of drippings. Crumble the bacon and set aside. Sauté the onion in the reserved drippings until tender. Add carrots, potato, parsley, marjoram, pepper and water. Bring to a boil. Reduce heat, cover and simmer about 20 minutes, or until vegetables are tender. Add sausage, beans and reserved bacon. Heat thoroughly.

Chicago Bishop Baraga Association Revitalized

CHICAGO, IL -- It has been a long time since the members and friends of the Bishop Baraga Association in the Chicago area celebrated together to observe a Baraga anniversary. This year it was different.

At the beautiful Lemont Shrine to Marija Pomagaj, we gathered to pray and contemplate Baraga's greatness and spirituality. Mass was offered on January 12th by our pastor, Fr. Metod Ogorevc, OFM, observing the 135th year since Baraga's death.

Fr. Metod referred to his personal attachment to the saintly Frederic Baraga and Deacon John Vidmar reflected on Baraga's talents not only as a noble priest in Slovenia, and a missionary in the United States, but also as a civil rights advocate for the American Indians during the time in the late 1800s when they suffered many indignities.

Baraga's primary goal as a missionary was to baptize as many converts as he could, and it seemed to be a very symbolic coincidence that the very day was the feast of the baptism of Jesus. Anyone who has read the biography of Baraga in our fellow Chicagoan and official Baraga historian, Joseph Gregorich's book, Apostle of the Lakelands, or any of the other many biographies, knows that Baraga dedicated his life to the Native Americans.

Baraga's life always inspires and amazes us. Can we imagine Baraga's devotion and fatherly attention to them and his strong commitment to his missionary work? He became known as the "Snowshoe Priest" in the vast expanse of Michigan's Upper Peninsula. Slovenians have honored Baraga for many decades, seeing in him the attributes of prudence, honesty, and respect for human life that our Slovenian people possess.

Many years ago, the Bishop Baraga Association was formed in the parish house of St. Stephen's church in Chicago. The year was 1930, and since then many individuals, families and organizations have supported the Cause for his Sainthood through their membership in the BBA. It may seem to many that it is a lost cause, waiting patiently as we have for over 70 years, but many of us still hope that our wishes will prevail and we will live to see this saintly man, Frederic Baraga become beatified by the Roman Catholic Church.

One of the most stunning facets of his career as a missionary and later first Bishop of Marquette, was his ability to counsel the native people of the Upper Peninsula in their civic recognition so that they became farmers and landowners and thereby were not transferred to reservations as had many of the other Indian tribes of the United States. They also became parishioners in churches that Baraga himself built or directed to be built, forming distinct communities (missions)* along the Great Lakes of Superior and Michigan.

Baraga traveled wherever he was needed in that cold, snowbound region to minister to his people and give them a relationship with the church. Through all of this time he incurred hardships that would have stopped any other man and given him some regrets. Baraga trudged on, with utmost conservatism (another Slovenian trait), satisfied with only the bare necessities of life. How much he accomplished without money or few resources is almost impossible to imagine.

Now, to get back to the observation at St. Mary's in Lemont. The church was full and the atmosphere warm and inviting. A copy of the well-known Matthew Langus portrait of Bishop Baraga was placed at the altar area amidst a field of red and white poinsettias. The Christmas Nativity scene, our own "Jaslice," stood in a beautifully lighted Bethlehem night sky near the altar. Many of us had been waiting before Mass for our guests from the Anawim Indian Center of Chicago, as we expected a representative group of American Native Indians due to arrive before Mass. After some time, Father Metod announced: "They must have gotten lost" – and indeed, we later found out, they had. The Mass ended with the congregation praying the Baraga Prayer in Slovenian.

Afterward, we headed down to the Slovenian Cultural Center for lunch, an event we enjoy every second Sunday of the month. This home-cooked meal is appreciated and well-attended. No sooner had we been seated in the banquet hall than the Anawim Native American Indian group arrived, a little nervous, having looked for us all over Lemont. They finally found us, two hours later. Nevertheless, they were warmly welcomed and all introductions were made.

We all agreed that as Baragans we had much in common. The Anawim group was happy to be with us and ready immediately to begin their program of various prayers that are based on their Christian beliefs and respect for God's nature. They expressed these prayers and a special one thanking God for having given them Frederic Baraga who preserved their Indian identity and gave them their language written for the first time in a useful dictionary.

The haunting sound of the flute ended their program, beautifully played by Bill Buchholtz, a Menominee from the Anawim Indian Center of Chicago. Later, they shared with us more stories of their work in the Chicago area, particularly teaching the Chippewa (Ojibwe) language to youngsters and offering many social services to their people. They showed us their well-used copy of Baraga's dictionary, for some of us the first time we have actually seen the book that is so historically significant.

In their generosity, the group led by Georgene Roy set up a display of artifacts and distributed them to many families in the hall. Also, they brought freshly made "Indian Bread" that was served during luncheon. Later, many of us commented on the "bread" was similar to our Slovenian krofi and that Baraga must have brought the recipe from Slovenia!

The members of the Baraga Association are now planning on attending the next national Baraga Days event in Indianapolis in September. Information on that event, various copies of Baraga Bulletins, books about him, and tee-shirts with the Baraga Portrait were part of a nice display that guests were able to view before and after the Sunday lunch at the Slovenian Cultural Center. Featured was a painting of Bishop Baraga by Helen Lukancic Valeruga, of Joliet, Illinois, a gift from the artist to the Slovenian Center.

Now, it seems, all that remains is that we re-organize and re-vitalize the Bishop Baraga Association that was centered for many years in Chicago at St. Stephen's Church, now closed, to St. Mary's in Southwest Chicago – Lemont.

All members are invited to meet occasionally and arrange for future activities. All who are not members as yet may sign up for a nominal $10 per year membership fee or $100 (one-time) Lifetime Membership. You can contact us at the Slovenian Cultural Center in Lemont, 630 243 0670, or feel free to call the undersigned at 773-275 1115 for more information.

Note: More interest has been seen lately in "bringing American Indian literature out of obscurity" (Chicago Tribune, 12-23-02) giving new hope to those of us who value Baraga's literary work to preserve the Native American culture and language, as well as his idealism.

tic missionary work as the first Bishop of Marquette and among those who established the early Catholic Church in North America.* He inspired many missionaries who followed him, some of them in Slovenia, in their work for the greater honor and glory of God.

Dangers of Cruise Control

An individual wrecked her car recently and totaled her Lincoln Town Car. She hydroplaned on Hwy. 135 between Gladewater and Kilgore, Texas. She was not hurt, but emotionally rattled.

She learned a lesson. The highway patrolman told her that you should NEVER drive in the rain with your cruise control on. He said if you did and hydroplaned (which she did) that when your tires were off the road the car accelerates to a high rate of speed (which it did).

You don't have much, if any, control when the car hydroplanes, but you are totally in the hands of God when the car accelerates. She took off like an airplane.

The highway patrolman said you do NOT use cruise control on wet or ICY pavements.

One evening last week I was standing out in the freezing cold pumping gas into my car. My ears were frozen red, my nose was a dripping icicle, all feeling left the fingertips, and my toes were uncommunicative with the rest of my body. The temperature was around 0 degrees (for you Canadians, that's a lot of minus Celsius). Our subscribers in Alberta had send us one of their famous clippers of unbearably excruciating cold storms with snow blowing sideways. Or maybe it was the people in the Upper Peninsula entrusting us with an extreme Arctic blizzard.

Anyhow, I looked past the gas pumps to a fellow on the other side also pumping gas. He was shivering like an uncontrollable jackhammer gone berserk. He looked at me and said, "Why are we out here pumping gas in this terrible weather?"

I thought about it while trying to blink the piercing snow from penetrating my eyeballs and accumulating on my eyelids. "Why, indeed?"

It brought back memories of much more logical time. I was here to purchase gasoline from an oil company who had sold it to a service station (service being the misnomer here). I was spending my money buying their product and yet I was out in this inhumane weather doing all the work myself. The oil company people should have been out in the cold weather pumping the gas, not me. And wiping the snow from my windshield, too!

Whatever happened to service in this country?

Another example is when I go in a grocery store. I remember when the customer would go into a store, hand the grocer a list of items he/she wished to buy, and the grocer would travel around the store finding the merchandise and bringing it to the front of the store where the customer was waiting.

When the fellow who owned "Piggly Wiggly" stores got the idea to make the customers do the work and find and pick out the items and bring it to the counter, service went out the window. We consumers have been the losers ever since.

Check-out system is another lost art. I recall placing food items on a conveyor belt and a lady would pick up each item, read the price and with her left hand behind her, punch the price in the cash register. After all merchandise was placed in shopping bags, you could rest assured that without looking, the woman had deftly charged you the exact, correct price. It was an amazing act of dexterity that I never forgot and to this very day, admired greatly.

Today, they just slide the bar-code over a scanner and it records the price, name and how much you saved buying it here rather than somewhere else. In some stores I noticed they even want you to slide your own groceries over the scanner. Well, that is where I draw the line. I absolutely refuse! There are enough people out of jobs, why pick on the hard-working, weary checkout clerk.

You call a company to tell them the phone is dead or the electricity is out and what do you get? The run-around. Press one, press two, press six. After 10 minutes you may or most likely may NOT get somebody to talk to. If you do, it's somebody on the other side of the Mason-Dixon line who is still seeking revenge from the Civil War during which you weren't even born, or your parents were still enjoying the beautiful Alps in Slovenia.

Want a hamburger? Go get it yourself. Blame the McDonald brothers. Remember when you pulled into a drive-in restaurant? You blinked your lights and a young girl came out to take your order and when it was ready, she brought it to the car.

Hungry today for a burger, pizza, chicken, taco, or ice cream? Drive in to a speaker and start talking. Chances are they won't understand you or you won't comprehend them and when you get your order, you better check it for accuracy.

"He profits most who serves best."

ELIZABETH JARTZ

A Memorial Service for Elizabeth Jartz will be held Sunday, Feb. 2nd at 1:30 p.m. at the Unitarian Universalist Society of Cleveland, 2728 Lancashire Rd., Cleveland Heights.

Elizabeth Jartz, 89, died January 24th at Bruening Health Center at Judson Park where she was currently a resident. She began living there in 1998, after the death of her spouse Louis Jartz, her partner for more than 62 years of marriage.

Elizabeth was active in the Slovene Community for more than 50 years. She worked in Ward 32 Democratic politics, and often served as the Democratic president judge at the polls. Betty, as family and friends affectionately called her, was an active member of Lodge 53 V boj of the Slovene National Benefit Assoc. In the 1950's, she and her husband helped locate the land for the Slovene Home for the Aged. She was frequently found in the kitchen at summer picnics at The SNPJ Recreational Grounds in Chardon. During WWII Betty and Louis were caretakers at the grounds.

Betty dropped out of Junior High School in the 8th grade to work as a housekeeper to provide for her mother and siblings. She worked in several factories in Cleveland and Euclid. While her daughters were growing up, Mrs. Jartz was active in PTA at Oliver Hazard Perry School and as a Girl Scout Leader. She was a member of the Unitarian Universalist Society of Cleveland

International dancing and square dancing was the passion of Betty's life. She and her husband taught dances to young members of SNPJ and at the Lakeshore Golden Age Center where she was a member. If a polka or waltz were played, Betty and Louis were the first on the floor.

Betty is survived by her daughters Louisa Horvath of Cleveland and Eleanor (Ellie) Maniro-Gatti of Amherst, MA and two grandchildren: Aaron Manire of Boston and Kerry Manire of Washington, DC, and many nephews and nieces. She was the last surviving member of her 7 siblings.

Friends called at Zele Funeral Home, 452 E. 152 St., Tuesday, January 28th, 6-8 p.m.

Memorial contributions may be made to the SNPJ Scholarship Fund, 247 W. Allegheny Rd., Imperial, PA 15126 or the Judson Park Retirement Center, 281 Ambleside Dr., Cleveland, OH 44106.

Give us the man of integrity, on whom we know we can thoroughly depend, who will stand firm when others fail; the friend, faithful and true; the adviser, honest and fearless; the adversary, just and chivalrous; such a one is a fragment of the Rock of Ages.

8 Mlakar Travels Down Memory Lane

by RAY MLA KAR

Well, I am back, all 131 pounds for the chow is not getting any better but let's get on with the jokes and it will take my mind off the food. Here goes, ready or not. Our daughter, a sophomore at Northern Arizona University in Flagstaff installed an answering machine on the phone that she and her roommate shared. "Hello," the greeting began, "You have reached the room of Jennifer and Laura. We're out studying but if you leave your name and number, we'll get back to you as soon as we return." A few days later, the roommate had a message from her dad who lives in Tucson, "Yeah, right," he said, "and I'm out shoveling snow."

Ready for the next joke? Called for jury duty, a woman asked to be excused on the grounds that she opposed "Capitol punishment." "But this is a civil suit," explained the judge. "A woman is suing her husband. It seems she put money aside for six years for a special vacation, but he took it, blew it all at the track." "Hmm... in that case," she replied, "I could change my views on Capitol Punishment."

Well, let's get back to Ft. Dix for I do not want to be marked AWOL (Absent Without Leave). Winter was here and believe me it gets plenty cold with its share of snow in the New Jersey area. Unfortunately, I had no great amount of leave time coming since I blew that when I first hit stateside, but did enjoy my trips to be picked up by Pac Wilson's folks every other weekend and now Christmas was just around the corner and Ray would miss another Christmas at home.

I hope that Ma and Pa told Santa that I relocated temporarily at Fort Dix which is just a hop-skip and a jump when you are traveling by reindeer. Anyway, I dug up the nerve to ask the First Sergeant if I could get a three day pass to go to New York City over the Christmas Holiday. Surprisingly, he granted me a three three-day pass. I had my motives for ever since I was in the service, a Mrs. Barjansky, my old German Teacher from John Marshall, would write to me on a monthly basis, guess mainly to write in German to insure I would not lose sight of reading and writing in German. In her letter in November she stated that she would be visiting New York City at Christmastime and so I wrote her a letter half in German and half in English just in case she was rusty in her English, and told her I would meet her at the Taft Hotel on Christmas Eve, have dinner (hoping she would treat me) and then go on to Midnight Mass at St. Patrick's Catholic Church.

Well, I got to New York, showered and shaved, put on my pressed class "A" uniform and looked like General George Patton. However, I did not have any stars on my shoulder, only two stripes on my sleeve indicating I was a corporal. Went to the dining room on the main floor of the Taft Hotel where I was staying for the night. I munched on water and bread waiting for Mrs. Barjansky for I wanted to hold off ordering until she came for just maybe she would spring for the meal.

Well, history repeated itself, Ray was stood up. No Mrs. Barjansky, and I guess I looked like a lonely guy who lost his meal ticket. Low and behold the waiter came over with a stand that held champagne and said, "Corporal, this is being sent over by that couple there in the back with their blessings for a Happy Holiday."

Odd damn, life was looking up. He poured a glass of the bubbling champagne and I raised my glass in a toast to the young couple and they smiled and said, "DO tank heartily," and next without ordering, the waiter brought over the top meal, Standing Rib Roast with all the trimmings, and said the young couple was treating me. There were too many people in the dining room for me to fall on my knees in a prayer of thanksgiving to the Lord for he did not bring Mrs. Barjansky, but he did provide me with hospitality that was out of this world.

At the conclusion of the meal I walked over to the couple in the back to thank them for their gracious hospitality and they said, "Think nothing of it for I know how lonely the holidays can be when you are away from home for Christmas." They asked what I had planned for the rest of the Christmas Eve and I said I was going to the Midnight Mass at St. Patrick's Cathedral and then back to the hotel for a good night's sleep for I had to return to Fort Dix by midnight the following night.

"Fine," they said, "but we will go together, for we are going to the Midnight Mass, too." Well, we went and for the first time I was able to get on my knees thanking God for making my Christmas a happy one after all, but that was not the end. They said, "We are going to our apartment which is in the heart of New York City." They said I am sure you miss decorating a Christmas tree. Holy smoke, I must have died and went to heaven for this would have been three years since I had decorated a Christmas tree. Well, she brought out all kinds of goodies to nibble on and he was filling my glass with more and more champagne. What can I say, "Lord, even your last supper did not have all these treats and surprises."

Before long, the tree was trimmed like something out of a story book and I told them I had to return to my hotel and need to call a cab since only God and they knew where I was. He said, "Have no fear; I will have my driver bring you back to your hotel, but before you leave, we have a few presents for you that Santa left." Well, I had not even left word with Santa that I would be in New York City. They gave me a fancy wooden box that contained champagne as well as glasses to go with it and also a new pair of dress black gloves and a scarf.

What can I say. God had mercy on me. I found out through the evening that he was the head man for General Motors. We exchanged addresses and for well over 10 years after that I had always gotten Christmas cards from them. This was truly a Christmas to remember. "Hear me God; I am still grateful."

Well, time to close and get back to Fort Dix I will not have thought that all that transpired was a dream. Two things I want you to remember, "There is a Santa Claus and there is a God and both of them will listen to your wishes." May the Good Lord bless and watch over you and make your Christmas in the future as happy as mine was in December, 1950.

Life is the game that must be played. —John Mercina

Football joke

A guy took his girlfriend to a football game for the first time. After the game he asked her how she liked football. "Oh, I really liked it," she said, "but I just couldn't understand why they are killing each other for 25 cents."

"What on earth do you mean?" asked the boyfriend.

"Well," she explained, "I saw them flip a coin and one team got it and then for the rest of the game they kept screaming: 'Get the quarter back,' 'Get the quarter back.'"

Zmeda glede govora Janeza Drnovška na Svetovnem ekonomskem forumu v Davosu končno le pojasnjena

Preteklo soboto je bil slovenski predsednik Janez Drnovšek udeležil plenarnega zasedanja vsakoletnega Svetovnega ekonomskega foruma (tj. World Economic Forum oz. WEC) v švicarskem Davosu. Na njem je imel tudi govor, vendar so njegove dejanske besede v zvezi z morebitnim ameriškim napadom na Irak in vpliv le-tega na izid nacionalnega referendumu o članstvu Slovenije v NATO povzročile zmedo in zaposile slovenske novinarje kar nekaj dni. Pomagalo jim je dejstvo, da je bil tekst Drnovškovih besed parkrat spremenjen. Kar je zbudilo pozornost novinarjev so bile Drnovške besede, da bi "enostranski" (angl. unilateral) napad ZDA na Irak utegnilo zelo negativno vplivati na izid referendumu v Sloveniji (verjetno 23. marca) o pristopu severnoatlantskemu zavezništvu.

Končno je bil javnosti posredovan magnetogram Drnovškovih dejanskih besed in sicer: "Zagotovo ne bi bilo dobro, če bi ZDA na koncu morale ukrepati same, enostransko. To bi spodbudilo še več reakcij v svetovnem javnem mnenju in zagotovo ne bi pomagalo partnerstvu ter zagotovo ne meni in naši vladi v Sloveniji, da bi dobila referendum o NATU."

Drnovškovo mnenje po vsej verjetnosti odgovarja dejanskemu stanju javnega mnenja v Sloveniji, tamkajšnji novinarji se čudijo predvsem, zakaj je njegov urad za stike z javnostjo ne le vzel toliko časa za zanesljivo pojasnilo, marveč je celo dal v obtok različne verzije izjave. Sedaj se zagovarjajo, da je napačno razumevanje nastalo pri samih organizatorjih javnih stikov pri WEC in da so že zaradi tega dobili ustrezno opravičilo.

Odločitev komisije za ureditev vojnih grobišč objavljena

Bronasti valj, s katerim bo mogoče zvoni (projekt ljubljanskega podjetja Gigodesign), bo pomnik na prikritih grobiščih v Sloveniji. Tako je sklenila komisija za ureditev vojnih grobišč, ki jo vodi Peter Kovačič Peršin. Vseh 27 predlogov za spominska obeležja bodo razstavili februarja. Za zdaj še ni odločitve državnega zbora, kakšen bo napis na pomnikih. Če se poslanci do junija, ko naj bi začeli obeleževati grobišča (okoli 200 naj bi jih bilo), ne bodo sporazumieli o tem, bo komisija sama odločila o napisu.

Novih 3500 volivev

Po zadnji odločitvi Ustavnega sodišča bodo odslej imeli pravico glasovati na državnih referendumih (po pošti ali na diplomatsko-konzularnih predstavnosti) tudi državljanji, ki začasno ali stalno prebivajo v tujini. Tako bo tudi na referendumih o vstopu Slovenije v EU in NATO lahko glasovalo okoli 3500 državljanov v tujini, ki se ponavadi udeležijo volitev. Število tistih, ki bi lahko glasovali, je seveda veliko večja.

Tristo let ljubljanske stolnice

Eno najzahtevnejših restavratorskih del bodo začeli v ljubljanski stolnici sv. Nikolaja (leta 2007 bo stara 300 let). Pri delih, ki so vredna 188 milijonov tolarjev (prispevki kulturnega ministrstva je 85 milijonov tolarjev), je zagotovljeno sodelovanje tudi italijanskih in nemških strokovnjakov, saj je obnova baročnega stropa (550 kvadratnih metrov poslikav italijanskega mojstra Giulia Quaglia med letoma 1703 in 1709) izredno zahtevna.

Slovenija predseduje CEFTI

Slovaški veleposlanik v Ljubljani Roman Paldan je ministrici Tei Petrin simbolično izročil predsedovanje CEFTI (8 držav, več kot 100 milijonov prebivalcev). Slovenija je CEFTI predsedovala že leta 1997, ko je bilo v njej le pet držav (še Češka, Madžarska, Poljska, Slovaška, leta 1997 se jim je pridružila Romunija, leta 1999 Bolgarija, čez en mesec bo osma članica postala Hrvaška).

SOMAŠEVANJE OB 25. OBLETNICI KOPRSKE ŠKOFLJE — 11. januarja je bila slovensost ob 25. obletnici ustanovitve koprsko škofije. O tem je poročilo v današnji AD. Ob slovesnosti je v koprski stolnici somaševalo 13 škofov, med njimi (z desne) koprski škof Metod Pirih, apostolski nuncij v Sloveniji, nadškof Giuseppe Leanza, ter ljubljanski nadškof in slovenski metropolit dr. Franc Rode.

JEZUIT JANEZ A. SEVER, DOMA IZ CLEVELANDA

Od podporočnika z West Pointa do jezuita

- Ivan Merljak -

Kdo sem? To je prapočelo vseh drugih vprašanj: kaj sem, kam grem? Odgovor nanje si prej ali slej vsakdo terja. Janez Andrej Sever se je rodil leta 1965 kot sin slovenskih staršev v ameriškem Clevelandu, kjer je velika slovenska skupnost. Janezov očec je v Cleveland prišel z Ježice v Ljubljani, mati pa iz Ribnice na Dolenjskem. "Moj prvi jezik je bila slovenščina, saj smo doma govorili slovensko. Živelj smo zelo po slovensko; mama je kuhalila po slovensko, pekla potice in celo kruh. Obhajali smo slovenske cerkvene praznike in navade. V bistvu sem živel dve kulturi, eno doma, eno pa v šoli in na ulici ..."

Je bilo težko živeti tako dvojno življenje?

Ja, seveda ... Ko zdaj gledam nazaj, razumem težave, ki sem jih imel: moje ime je Janez. Tudi v šoli so me tako klicali in se šalili na račun imena. To je povzročalo konflikte, ki si jih nisem želet.

V nekem obdobju sem se jim želel izogniti in se bolj asimilirati v ameriško družbo. A sem videl: bolj ko sem šel v "ameriško smer", manj sem se pocutil "doma".

V noviciatu v Sloveniji sem imel čas za razmislek in sem spoznal, da so bili vsi konflikti logič-ni, ker sem živel dvojno življenje. Imena pa nisem nikoli želel spremeniti. Ime je to, kar sem. In če bi ga spremenil v anglo-ameriško ime, bi v srcu čutil, da sem nekaj zatajil.

Po osnovni šoli ste šli ...?

Po osemletki sem šel v gimnazijo, ki traja štiri leta. To sem končal leta 1983 in se že tisto polete vpisal na vojaško akademijo, na West Point; tam sem bil do leta 1987. Na vojaški akademiji učni program temelji na matematiki in inženirskih predmetih. Tisti, ki želijo v bolj humanistično smer, lahko študirajo jezike ali družboslovne predmete, vendar imajo še vedno tudi inženirske predmete. Jaz sem tako študiral španščino in rusčino, pa tudi "sovjetske zadeve".

Čeprav sem šel bolj v humanitaro smer, je moja diploma vseeno "Bachelor of Science", kar pomeni osnovno inženirsko izobrazbo.

In čakala vas je bleščeča vojaška kariera!?

Seveda! Že ko končuješ zadnji semester vojaške akademije, izbereš, v kateri rod vojske boš šel in na katero postojanko. Jaz sem izbral Anchorage na Aljaski.

Ampak za vami ni vojaške kariere. Kdaj ste se odločili za spremembo?

Vojaški poklic sem opravljal do leta 1992, ko sem odslužil pet let v vojski, v skladu s pogodbo o študiju. Zadnje leto sem začel razmišljati o smislu tega, kar počnem. Zašel sem v osebno krizo in začel hkrati spoznavati vrednote, ki sem jih hotel v življenju poupariti

Iskal sem to, kar mi daje smisel v življenju. In spoznal sem, da me zanima Rusija, ki se je začela odpirati z Gorbačovom. In ker so bile "ruske zadeve" zame vedno mikavne, je postal še bolj zanimivo, ko je Sovjetska zveza razpadla.

Najprej sem nameraval tja kot podjetnik, a sem ugotovil, da so v podjetništvu še čisto na začetku. Uvidel sem tudi, da mi nihče ne bo ponudil službe, saj je še za Ruse nabolj dovolj!

Spomnil sem se, da sem bral članek o tem, kako je nadškof iz Anchorage poslal duhovnika v Magadan na daljnem ruskem vzhodu, da bi skrbel za tamkajšnjo majhno katoliško skupnost. Navezal sem stik s škofovskim uradom in naslednji dan me je poklical sam nadškof, ker je slišal, da znam rusko in se zanimam za delo. Sprejel je mojo ponudbo, vendar s pogojem, da bom v Magadanu najmanj eno leto. Tako sem se odjavil iz vojaške službe, šel na počitnice v Cleveland in avgusta 1992 v Rusijo.

V Magadanu ste bili torej kot laik?

Da, tja sem šel kot laik. Ko sem med službovanjem v vojski začel v krizo, sem šel na duhovne vaje, pri katerih sem razmišljal in v molitvi spraševal, ali naj postanem jezuit. Odgovor, ki je takrat prišel k meni - od Boga, bi rekel - je bil, da ne želi, da postanem jezuit v Rusiji.

Takrat sem razumel, kakor da Bog sploh ne želi od mene, da bi postal duhovnik ali jezuit, marveč samo, naj grem naprej. Zato sem šel povsem svobodno, kot laik. Pa me je tisto leto v Magadanu čisto spremenovalo: me spet potisnilo v stik s poklicem duhovnika in mi dalo pravo razlagi odgovora, ki sem ga dobil med duhovnimi vajami.

Odločitev postati duhovnik je bila torej dvostopenjska in končna odločitev je "padla" na Dalnjem vzhodu?

Da, bila je kar večstopenjska! Poklic se začne, kot piše v svetem pismu, že v materinem naročju. Tega sem se zavedal šele v noviciatu, ko sem gledal nazaj v svoje življenje in videl, kje že me je Bog klical. Rekel pa bi, da se je "revolucija" res zgodila v dveh stopnjah.

V Rusiji ste preživeli leto ali več?

Tisto prvo obdobje kot laik sem ostal leto dni. Ker me je življenje tam čisto spremenovalo, sem spoznal, da bi moral postati jezuit in delati za Cerkev v Rusiji. Zato sem predstojniku jezuitov v Rusiji povedal svoje želje in pripravljen me je bil poslati v noviciat.

Po premisleku sem želel iti v Slovenijo, da bi prišel v stik s svojimi koreninami in v okolje, ki je nekoliko podobno Rusiji, kar se tiče jezika in tradicij.

V Slovenijo sem prišel avgusta 1993, ko sem formalno vstopil v noviciat v Mariboru. Dveletni noviciat še ni resen študij, marveč nekakšen uvod vanj, da vidiš, ali

Janez A. Sever - "Rad bi duhovno objel ves svet!"

ZA BOLJŠI JEZIK ...

Sveti Martin

Ljubljana – Jezik ima v praksi svoje zakonitosti, ki se prav nič ne menijo za logiko, kakršno bi mu radi naložili. Kaka nepravilno skovana, okorna beseda se bo v kratkem času močno razširila in je zlepa ne bomo mogli pregnati. Kako drugo, ki se slovničarjem zdi zelo ustrezena, pa bodo zaman ponujali. Današnja slovenščina je polna takih ponesrečenih izdelkov, ki jim doslej še nismo še noben purist ni prišel do živega.

Zakaj o nekaterih besedah ali besednih zvezah pravimo, da niso pravilne? Vzemimo za zgled pridevnik "prisoten" ali "navzoč". Po Pleteršniku vemo, da je navzoč tisti, ki je na očeh, pred očmi, in da se tako govorji o osebah. Zato ne moremo pisati, kakor sem našel natisnjeno v znanstvenem spisu, da je bila nekje "navzoča velika zmeda", temveč bomo stavek zasukali pač drugače, na primer "Tam je vladala velika zmeda" ali kaj podobnega. V našem tisku pa lahko najdete nešteto stavkov, kjer je navzočnost ali prisotnost uporabljen za predmete. In navadno so taki stavki zelo čudni.

Ampak naj za začetek povem dva primera, kjer so se dobri nauki, kakor kaže, vendarle prijeli. Oba primera sta z radia ali s televizije. Svoje čase so eni in drugi oddaje "zaključevali", zdaj pa jih končujejo ustreznejše, bolj slovensko: "Oddajo bomo sklenili z menuteom ..." In prav tako so se dopisniki in poročevalci poprej "javljali", zdaj pa imajo boljšo verzijo: zdaj se "oglašajo". Če drugega ne, je ta beseda bolj povedna od "javiti" ali "javljati", ki sicer že dolgo v slovenščini.

Ko smo že pri teh dveh medijih, naj se ustavim pri rabi, ki me že dolgo moti. Ko uredništvo glasbenih oddaj na televiziji prevzema tuje oddaje, izvir raznih oddaj skoraj brez izjeme podaja v slovenščini, kar je seveda prav.

Izjema pa je glasbeno središče, ki ga pri nas stalno navajajo kot "Saint Martin in the Fields". Slovencu, ki ne zna angleško, to ime seveda nič ne pove in ga mora sprejeti kot še eno tukko v bogatem sporedu, s katerim mu drugod polnijo ušesa. V resnici je to lepo, poetično ime, ki bi ga prevedli kot "Sveti Martin na polju". Ali bi imel kdo kaj škode, če bi to storili? Zadovoljni pa bi bili poslušalci, ker bi ime razumeli. Nekoč, pred davnimi leti, sem pisal uredništvu glasbenih oddaj, naj bi ime prevedli. Enkrat ali dvakrat so to celo storili, navedli so ime v slovenščini, s poskusom pa očitno niso bili zadovoljni in so se vrnili k angleški obliki, to moramo tudi zdaj še kar poslušati, pa naj znamo angleško ali ne.

Rekel bo kdo, da je to malenkost, zaradi katere ni vredno izgubljati besed. Lahko pa si tudi rečemo, da je škoda, če v vsesplošni povodnji angleških besed in imen ne prevedemo tako lepega imena.

Od starejših tujk, ki so že daljši čas v slovenski rabi, se je zadnji čas silovito razmahnila raba besede profiten, neprofiten, vse je naenkrat profitno, ko bi lahko bilo donosno ali pridobitno. Človek si kar odzadne, ko sliši po televiziji, da so Dunajski dečki nepridobitno podjetje.

23. vsakoletni tarok turnir v Lemontu

WESTMONT, Il. – 11. januarja 2003 se je zbralo v Lemontu 28 tarokistov na že 23. vsakoletnem tarok turnirju. Igralci od 17. leta tja do čez 70 smo imeli en res lep popoldan in večer.

Tarok tudi med letom prijetno in družabno poskrbi za več članov našega Slovenskega kulturnega centra – "Doma". Prav vsako nedeljo po maši in kosišu se razvedrimo vsaj za nekaj ur ob taroku. Pozimi notri, poleti pa v hrastovi senci tarokiramo na hribčku – tam, kjer drugi balinajo. Ta zabava nas osveži, da deloven teden lažje poteka.

Veselilo bi nas, če bi se kdo od bralcev, ki tarok pozna, nam pridružil. Poleg igranja boste deležni dobre volje, preskrbljene večerje in pijače – vse to za $5.

Letošnji prvak je bil Marc Nichols, druga Nandi Puc, tretji Karl Zorjan in četrta Mara Hanak.

V glasilu "Doma" lahko berete o našem naslednjem turnirju, ki bo v soboto, 22. marca. Če pa tega "glasila" ne prejmete, pokličite Nandi Puc na 630-963-4540 in boste postreženi z vsemi informacijami. Razočarani ne boste, če boste prišli!

Vsem bralcem blagoslova polno in srečno leto 2003! Nandi Puc

(NADALJEVANJE s str. 10)

Bi lahko rekli, da je Janez Sever duhovno objel ves svet?

Tako narediš, ko se okleneš Kristusa: objameš celo vesoljstvo. Ampak, to je bolj teoretično ... To si pravzaprav želim in čutim v sebi, ker me skrbi zaradi krize v ameriški Katoliški cerkvi. Čutim se tudi zelo blizu tega, kar se dogaja s Katoliško cerkvijo v Rusiji, ki ni v najboljših odnosih s Pravoslavno cerkvijo. Vedno bolj sem tudi povezan s Cerkvijo v Sloveniji ... Vse to čutim kot neko celoto.

Je vaša nadaljnja pot določena? Greste v Rusijo, na Daljni vzhod?

Določeno je le, da grem zdaj v Ameriko na študij biblične teologije v Boston, spet za dve leti, ker to potrebujem za nadaljnje delo in osebno dozorevanje. Nameravam pa, ali bolje – želim se vsako poletje vračati v Rusijo in Slovenijo, ker hočem korenine, ki so se zdaj nekoliko okrepile, vsako leto vsaj malo zavlivati, da ne usahnejo!

Korenine torej imate – kje?

To je dobro vprašanje! Ali pa, kaj je moja identiteta?! Vedno bolj spoznavam, da so korenine – slovenske. To je tisto, kar je najgloblje v meni; tisto, kar je bilo prvo v meni in s čimer sem rasel in se "nahranjeval".

Vendar nisem samo Slovenec, sem tudi Američan, tudi po mišljenju, po obnašanju, po tem, kako vidim stvari ... To pa, se mi zdi, samo obogati te korenine. Tisto, kar je najgloblje v meni, pa je res – slovenskost! To je to, kar je domače, kar je zadnja stvar, ki me bo zapustila v življenu!

Lemont, III.

LEMONTSKI ODMEVI

Šestdeset dni po božiču, po Jezusovem rojstvu, 2. februarja, obhajamo praznik Jezusovega darovanja – svečnico.

Slovenska pesem poje: "Seveta Devica v tempelju je šla, / s sabo je nesla Jezusa / ter darovala večnemu v dar / svojega Sina ljubljenega. / V templju je starček pobožni živel, / čakal Maziljence božjega. / Bog Sveti Duh pa mu je razdel, / da bo dočakal Zveličarja. / Starček je Dete božje spoznal, / v svoje naročje ga sprejel / in ves vesel je hvalil Boga, / Detetu pesem hvalno zapel: / Zdaj pa lahko odpustiš, o Gospod, / v miru služabnika svojega, / Ker so že videli moje oči / Odrešenika poslanega." (Filip Terčelj je spesnil, Vinko Vodopivec pa uglasbil.)

Na god sv. Blaža, škofa in mučenca, 3. februarja, goduje p. Blaž Čehmazar.

Rajni sobratje tega meseca: p. Beno Korbič (2. febr. 2002); p. Leonard Bogolin (3. febr. 2000); p. Paschal Esser (3. febr. 1957); p. Aleksander Urancar (9. febr. 1958); p. Alfonz Miklavčič (10. febr. 1931), p. Kalist Langerholc (16. febr. 2002); br. Fidelis Jagodic (23. febr. 1934); p. Bonaventura Sovinske (27. febr. 1930). Naj uživajo božjo Luč.

Na Sveti večer je v teh krajih pričelo snežiti za bel božič. Tudi to je pomagalo, da smo v Lemontu pri Mariji Pomagaj božične praznike lepo in slovesno obhajali. Velike jaslice so bile ob Slomškovem oltarju. Bogoslužni prostor, prezbiiterij, je bil izredno lepo okrašen. Pred cerkvijo, pred samostanom je bilo nešteto lučk.

Nekaka zgodnja polnočnica je bila ob devetih zvečer v angleškem jeziku, opolnoči pa slovenska. Po dolgoletni navadi, je zbor kot uvod v polnočno mašo pol ure prepeval domače priljubljene božične pesmi. Ko je opolnoči izvenela najblažja božična pesem "Sveta noč, blažena noč je p. Metod Ogorevc blagoslovil jaslice.

Med sv. mašo je poleg slovenskih božičnih pesmi zbor izvajal Hladnikovo "Missa Solemnis in hon. Ss. Trinitatis". Orgelsko spremljavo je oskrbel Filip Arko, ko pod njegovimi prsti naše razmeroma male orgle postanejo ali nežne in tihe, ali pa velike in mogočne, kakor zahteva skladba in skladateljev navodilo. Številnejši pevski zbor je vodil p. Vendelin Špendov. Za polnočnico se je cerkev napolnila in skoraj ni bilo pravnega mesta v klopeh.

Slovenski božični program v okviru "Christmas around the World" v "Museum of Science and Industry" v Chicagu je bil v nedeljo po božiču, 29. decembra 2002. Program je letos imela na skrbi Ivanka Markun. Krajši nastop je obsegal petje božičnih pesmi in prikaz slovenskih plesov. Slovensko božično drevo in predstava slovenskih božičnih običajev v tem okolju ima že skoraj 50-letno tradicijo. Tudi v drugih slovenskih naselbinah pripravijo lepe programe slovenskih božičnih običajev. Upamo, da bodo nadaljevali!

O božičnih praznikih so nas nekajkrat veselo presenetili koledniki, tako mala skupina mlajših kot večja starejših. Obe skupini sta obiskali veliko število rojakov, zlasti bolnih in onemoglih in jim z obiskom in petjem pripravili božično veselje. Koledniki, Bog vas blagosoli, in ob letu na svidenje!

Od starega leta 2002 smo se poslovili na Silvestrovo ob šestih zvečer z zahvalno mašo in zahvalno pesmijo. Zazrli smo se je v letu, ki se izteka: 1) pred letom dni, februarja 2002, je Bog poklical k sebi dva naša sobrata. Prvi je bil p. Beno Korbič (rojen 1914), naslednji pa p. Kalist Langerholc (rojen 1911).

2) V juniju, na Telovo, smo obhajali zlato mašo p. Valerijana Jenka, ki je pred 50 leti prejel mašniško posvečenje v Chicagu, sedaj pa že dolga leta deluje med slovenskimi izseljenci v Avstraliji. Zlata maša je bila povezana s telovsko procesijo. Že nekaj let nismo videli toliko rojakov za to procesijo kot letos. Pri tem pa smo občudovali nenavadno zbranost med molitvijo in petjem – brez nepotrebne govorjenja.

3) Zadnjo nedeljo avgusta je v sezoni zadnje tradicionalno romanje in "medeni piknik". Letos je bilo romanje povezano z zahvalno sveto mašo ob obhajanju 90-letnice ustanovitve "Komisariata – kustodije slovenskih frančiškanov v Ameriki".

Zanimiva je statistika slovenske župnije pri Mariji Pomagaj v Lemontu, "Versko središče bi Antona Martina Slomška", ki jo je posredoval voditelj župnije p. Metod Ogorevc: v letu 2002 je bilo 6 krstov, 1 poroka in 11 pogrebov.

Januar je Baragov mesec. Bog je zvestega služnika odpoklical 19. januarja 1868. Tretja nedelja meseca je zato Baragova nedelja, ki naj bi nas opomnila k molitvi za beatifikacijo velikega slovenskega misjonarja, prvega škofa indijanskih rodov ob "Velikih jezerih".

Letos je podružnica chicaške Baragove zveze (pod vodstvom Corinne Leskovar) priredila Baragovo nedeljo 12. januarja. Poleg cerkvene slovensnosti so v dvorani Kulturnega centra člani indijanske kulturne organizacije izvedli in predstavili njihove običaje.

V Euclidu, Ohio, je 29. novembra 2002 Bog poklical k sebi 91-letno Mary Gerl, rojeno Yanchar. Bila je zvesta farranka fare Sv. Kristine v Euclidu, kjer je bila dolgoletna organistinja in v za Tvoje delo njemu vprid:

Slovenska soba, krušna peč domača!
Tu pristnost kmečka še cveti!

Kako domače tu diši
klobasa kranjska in pogača!

Za nas si, Polde, vedno mlad, za skupnost dragocen zaklad.
Povrne naj Ti Mati sveta!
Zahvaljen, dragi, tisočkrat!
Ostani zdrav, ostani mlad!
Bog živi Te na mnoga leta!

KOPRSKA ŠKOFIJA ...

Najmlajša in najstarejša

Trinajst škofov in 150 duhovnikov proslavilo srebrni jubilej koprsko škofije – Nuncij Giuseppe Leanza prinesel papeževe pozdrave

Koper – "Motivi za obnovno te zelo stare škofije so predvsem pastoralni in ekleziastični. Kot predstavnik svetega očeta v Sloveniji vam prinašam njegove tople pozdrave, spodbudne besede v vaši veri in njegov blagoslov." S temi besedami je apostolski nuncij v Sloveniji, nadškof Giuseppe Leanza, 11. januarja nagovoril zbrane v koprski stolnici, kjer so praznovali 25. obletnico obnovitve in razširitve najmlajše in najstarejše slovenske škofije hkrati.

Pred 25 leti, natančneje: 17. oktobra 1977, je papež Pavel VI. z bulo Pricribus saeculi (V prvih ieth) spet ustanovil razširjeno kopersko škofijo. To je Sveti sedež odločil šele potem, ko sta nekdanja Jugoslavija in Italija sklenila Osimske sporazume in se dokončno dogovorili za mejo med državama, saj si Vatikan menda prizadeva, da s svojimi odločtvami ne bi prejudiciral meddržavnih meja.

Tako je bila Slovenija prvič v zgodovini združena na v enotno (ljubljansko) cerkveno pokrajino, kar je bilo po razlagah cerkvenih krogov dobra podlaga tudi za slovensko državno samostojnost in samostojno škofovsko konferenco.

Slovesno razglasitev je opravil tedanji apostolski nuncij v Beogradu Michele Cecchini v koprski stolnici v navzočnosti vseh slovenskih škofov in večje množice vernikov kot na sobotnem (tj. 11. jan. 2003) srebrnem jubileju (mnoge je tokrat zadržalo slabo vreme).

V koperski škofiji se spominjajo, da je tudi slovenska oblast izredno dobro sprejela potezo Svetega sedeža, zaradi česar je bil ta dogodek menda prva novica o Cerkvi, ki je v tistih letih prišla v televizijski dnevnik.

Po informacijah koprsko škofije pa so imeli kameramani določena pravila, saj menda niso smeli snemati vernikov. Nenavadno je tudi, da se je posnetek zgodovinsko tako pomembnega dogodka izgubil v televizijskih arhivih.

Na slovesni maši 11. januarja, na kateri sta združena koprski in novogoriški cerkveni zbor prepevala pesmi samo primorskih skladateljev – Ščeka, Trošta, Premrla in Vodopivca – je somasevalo 13 škofov. Med njimi je bil tudi zagrebško-ljubljanski pravoslavni metropolit Jovan Pavlović, ki je pozdravil zbrane.

Maševali so še: ljubljanski nadškof in metropolit dr. Franc Rode, ljubljanski škof Andrej Glavan, trije mariborski: Franc Kramberger, Jože Smej in Anton Stres, koprška Metod Pirih in dr. Jurij Bizjak, stički opat Anton Nadrah in trije hrvaški škofi: krški Valter Župan, poreško-puljski Ivan Milovan in reški nadškof Ivan Devčić.

Slednji je v pozdravu poudaril: "Slovenci, Italijani in Hrvati, ki živimo ob severnem Jadranu in smo vezani s skupno vero, imamo dolgo skupno zgodovino in veliko vrednega v njej. To bi morali tudi v prihodnosti gojiti in navkljub mejam živeti in ohraniti dobro sosedstvo."

Med gosti pa sta bila koprški župan Boris Popović, njegov novogoriški kolega Mirko Brulc in dr. Andrej Bajuk, predsednik NSi.

Koprška škofija je na slovenskem ozemlju najstarejša, saj je bila zagotovo ustanovljena že v šestem stoletju. Prvi pisani dokumenti o tem so tri pisma papeža Gregorija Velikega iz maja 599.

Odtlej je škofija živila zelo burno zgodovino, bila večkrat spremenjena in tudi odpravljena. Leta 1828 so jo pridružili škofiji Trst, ki se je odtlej imenovala tržaško-koprška.

Po drugi svetovni vojni so dele nadškofij Gorica (severna Primorska), Reka (predvsem območje Ilirske Bistrice), Trst (Kras, Pivko in Postojno) in stare koprške škofije združili v samostojno apostolsko administraturo, ki je pred četrt stoletja posala najmlajša slovenska (obnovljena in razširjena koprška škofija).

Njen prvi škof je bil pokojni dr. Janez Jenko. Sedanji škof Metod Pirih jo vodi že 15 let, pred tremi leti pa je (prvič v zgodovini) dobila pomognega škofa dr. Jurija Bizjaka.

Škof Metod Pirih je povedal, da so uspešno povezali različne usmeritve in tradicije, iz katerih je nastala škofija. Pa tudi sicer ima vrsto značilnosti in posebnosti, ne le bližino hrvaške in italijanske meje.

Predvsem gre za dokaj razprostranjeno območje med Triglavom in morem, na katerem živi 260 tisoč prebivalcev. Premore 205 župnij, med katerimi je sto zelo majhnih (manj kot 500 prebivalcev). Na tem območju dela 163 duhovnikov (dodatnih enajst jih še študira).

Pred temi leti oživljena pobuda za delitev na dva dela ni več aktualna, saj so tudi v najvišjih cerkvenih vrhovih spoznali, da to ne bi bilo sprejemljivo niti iz gospodarskih, še manj pastoralnih razlogov.

Če so imeli še pred leti 40 tisoč vernikov, ki so obiskovali nedeljske maše, se je to število zdaj znižalo na 36 tisoč nedeljnjkov, od tega jih je skoraj dve tretjini na Goriškem. Prav tako je vsaj tri četrtine duhovnikov z Goriške. To pa pomeni, da se del škofije sam ne bi mogel ohraniti.

Razveseljivo je izjemno povečanje števila v Cerkev organiziranih laikov, ki delujejo na mnogih področjih – od Karitasa do pomoči za odvisnike ali za obnovo cerkva. Računajo, da jih je v škofiji več kot tisoč.

V LJUBEČ SPOMIN ob štiriindvajseti obletnici

*Na zasneženi poljani
V božično okrašenem grobu
Tvoje zlato srce sniva*

Dr. Martin Scancar

Hrib in dol, vasico sneg odeva,
Zvon z gore v dolino slovesno oznanja
Skrivnosti polno Svetost Malega Božiča.

V tišini gozda tajinstveno mežika Zvezda;
Nebroj lučk miglja, jo spremija,
V noči si narod z bakljami pot svetli, utira.

Vrh gore mala božjepotna cerkvica
Jaslice, ovce, pastirčke revne čuva.
V jaslih Dete Božje pesem angelska uspava.

Možje bradati, Trije Modri z Vzhoda
Ob jaslicah kleče, poklanjajo darila:
Darila svetosti, ljubezni, usmiljenja.

V kristalni lepoti zasneženega gozda
Pod škripajočem ledu korak zastaja;
V ples snežink drsi, zapleše noge.

Spomine nepozabne riše stopinja:
Dvainštideset let družinske sreče vrsta ...
"Ob drevesu se je Tvoja duša radovala
Krasil si ga, nežno božala ga roka
Speče Dete Božje v jaslicah oboževala;
Pesem vso srečo in veselje je izražala
Ljubezen, z bogastvom Tvoje duše je kipela ...
"Končana je s Tvojim odhodom," šepeta snežinka.

Dobri možek, zlati očka ljubiva te

Vedno tvoji

Za Slovenijo zastoj deleža menjave z naslednicami

Ljubljana – Lanski primanjkljaj blagovne menjave se je sicer v enajstmesecu zmanjšal na 0,45 milijarde evrov. (Ur. AD: Zadnje čase večkrat uporabljajo poročila v slovenskem tisku nova evropska valuta "evro". Trenutno je evro kot denar vredna ok. 231 SIT, ameriški dolar, ki je na najnižji stopnji v zadnjih treh letih, pa je vreden, zoper trenutno, komaj 214 SIT. To za približno razumevanje, kolikšno je razmerje med evrom in SIT ter tudi US dolarjem.) Vendar je lanska enajstmesečna blagovna menjava z Evropsko uni- jo (EU), z neevropsko OECD in CEFTA povzročila že za 1,56 milijarde evrov primanjkljaja, ki ga Slovenija zdravi zlasti s presežki, vknjiženimi na račun držav naslednic bivše SFRJ.

A je septembra in oktobra lani delež slovenskega izvoza v bivše države nekdanje SFRJ nehal naraščati, z novembrom pa se je celo nekoliko zmanjšal, kar kaže, da je tudi tam prodaja težja, plačila pa počasnejša.

Usihanje konkurenčne sposobnosti Slovenije v menjavi z razvitejšimi zagotovo ni obetavno za ob-stoj novih državnih porok, ki se jih država loteva. To usihanje bi bilo v zadnjem času po deležu še nekoliko večje, če ne bi začel malce usihiati tudi delež menjave z državami bivše federacije.

Medtem ko je ta "federacijski" delež slovenskega izvoza v devetmesečju 2002 po sprotnih začasnih podatkih dosegel 17,79 odstotka, se v desetmesečju ni več povečal, v enajstmesečju pa je nazadoval na 17,77 odstotka.

Po začasnih podatkih slovenskega statističnega urada je bil v prvih enajstih mesecih 2002 v primerjavi z enajstimi meseci 2001 slovenski bla-

Zunanji minister Dimitrij Rupel

Spoštovali bomo odločitve Združenih narodov

Ljubljana - "Slovenija je proti vojni, to je popolnoma jasno. Smo za to, da se vse uredi s pravili v okviru Združenih narodov. Iraku je OZN pred 12 leti na koncu zalivske vojne naložil nekatere naloge, ki jih ni napolnil. Gre za verolomno ravnanje, ki zahteva sankcije. Irak mora spoštovati mednarodni red tako, kakor ga moramo mi in vsi drugi," je dejal slovenski zunanji minister Dimitrij Rupel.

"Ne gre za vojno, ampak za izpolnjevanje mednarodnih obveznosti," je po seji vlade 23. januarja odgovoril Rupel na vprašanje Dela, kakšno je načelno stališče Slovenije do verjetne vojne v Iraku.

Zunanji minister je na tiskovni konferenci predstavil stališča vlade do morebitnega sodelovanja Slovenije pri reševanju iraškega problema. Vlada je izrazila načelno pripravljenost za sodelovanje v skladu z ustreznim mandatom varnostnega sveta OZN.

Slovenija bo pripravljena omogočiti prelete letal in prehod vojakov čez svoje ozemlje, izmenjavati obveščevalne podatke v okviru boja proti terorizmu na območju jugovzhodne Evrope in poslati častnika za zvezo v osrednje poveljstvo (Centcom).

Misijonska srečanja in pomenki

1462. Danes vas iskreno povabim na kosilo

Misijonske Znamkarske Akcije v Clevelandu, ki bo v nedeljo, 9. februarja, v avditoriju pri Sv. Vidu. Kosilo bo obsegalo juho, govejo ali kurjo pečenko, prikuho, solato, kavo in pecivo. Cena kosilu je $10 za odraslo osebo in $5 za otroka. Nakaznice se bodo dobile pri vhodu in kosilo lahko vzamete tudi domov.

Kot vsako leto bodo tudi stojnice tako za ročna dela, za mačka v žaklu in za pecivo. Gospodinje lepo prosimo za domače pecivo. Ves dobiček tega dneva gre v sklad za vse naše misijonarje, ki po različnih državah rešujejo različne probleme in navdušujejo za božjo Ljubezen, ki ti edina da pravi mir in te osreči.

Misionarka, salezijanka s. Milena Zadravec, ki živi v Jeruzalemu, je poslala naslednje vrstice:

"Predraga! Iskrena hvala za poslanih $400; resnično, vsak prispevek je še tako dobrodošel! Pomislite - s tem prispevkom lahko držimo enega otroka celo leto v šoli in družini ne bo treba nič plačati. Da si ga boste lažje predstavljeni, vam pošiljam sliko; tisti, ki sem ga zaokrožila (Ur.: Če ni na posnetku popolnoma jasno, gre za dečka v prvi vrsti, drugi z desne.) Ime mu je Andrej, reben je in skozi nekaj bolehen. To je en razred otroškega vrtca: nekaj kristjanov, večinoma muslimanov, ampak verujemo v moč vzgoje; vzbujamo jih za mir, za sožitje, za dobroto in medsebojno spoštovanje. Ko odrastejo se bodo kdaj spomnili, saj seme, ki pade v teh letih, obrodi sadove."

Kako ste kaj pri zdravju? Vaši sodelavci in sodelavke? Kako vreme imate? Jaz sem, hvala Bogu, še kar na varnem in razen obveznih bolečin, ki so vezane na utrujenost in delo, grem naprej. Kot veste, naša situacija je tukaj uspešen pogoj za malodušnost in nestropnost, seveda, če ne gledamo vse skupaj iz kotička vere. Tokrat sem si dala za geslo celega leta: imeti pogum upanja!

Na božično noč sem šla malo prej do betlehemske cerkve. Pogovarjala sem se z nekaterimi mladinci, ki so klavirno gledali, kako dežuje, in tistih bore malo ljudi, ki so se zbirali pred cerkvijo. Kako žalostne in potrte pogovore so dajali na moja vprašanja: 'Ne, nič ne čutimo toplino Božiča. Včeraj so oedpeljali našega bližnjega. In bogve, koliko so jih zaprli in bogve, kdaj se bodo vrnili in v kakšnih kondicijah se bodo vrnili. Zakaj se vse to nam mora goditi? Nimam vstopnice, da bi šel v baziliko, pa tudi, če bi jo imel, ne bi šel. Otopel sem v veri, nič mi ne pomeni več, ne Betlehem, ne Kalvarija.'

Kaj naj jim rečem? Če zagovarjaš ene, niti v resnici, bolje je biti nevralen. Ampak Bog je tudi pravičnost in brani svoje ljudstvo. "Pravičnost pa se lahko gradi samo na odpuščanju. Le to je pa huda stvar za te naše ljudi, da bo potrebna ena velika 'bomba' božje milosti, da se pride do resničnega obojestranskega odpuščanja. Moramo priznati, da vse do sedaj nismo bili sposobni popolne zavesti te skrivnosti božje in njegove ljubezni v našem kraju (Terra Sancta = sveta Dežela) in isto tudi nezmožni priznanja, da smo bratje in sestre med seboj," je reklo naš patriarh Mishel Sabbah med božično pridigo.

"Jaz verujem, da je ljubezen tista, ki bo rešila vse nadaljnje probleme; je mogoče torej, kot nam zapoveduje Kristus, ljubiti tudi tiste, s katerimi živimo, vse naše brate in sestre muslimanske izpovedi, Hebrejce, Druže in kristjane in celo izraelske vojake, ki nam nalagajo zasede, copri-fuoco in poniževanje."

"Če kdo reče, da ljubi Boga in sovraži svojega brata, je laživec. Betlehem je zaseden od vseh strani, tako tudi druga mesta in vasi Palestine. Božič je prišel v težkih časih. Ne samo vrata mesta, ampak vrata življenja so zaprta. Kako torej živeti to zapoved ljubezni? Kako praznovati Božič? Povem, naj vsem, da praznik pomeni molitev in le ta nas postavi v božjo navzočnost in ne razstavo ljudem. Težave nas ne smejo pripeljati do obupanja z vsemi posledicami le tega. Mi verujemo v Boga in v njegovo ljubezen in v dan, v trenutek, ki ga On sam hoče in bo navdihnil vsem njegov ljubezen in njegovo pravičnost. V pričakovanju te ure imejmo potrežljivost in kljubujmo..."

Upanje naj nam vsem pomaga, da bomo lahko živel v veri, gradili mir, uživali veselje, darovali vsem ljubezen in to v vsakem trenutku.

Izročite to čestitko in te moje želje vsakemu od dobrotnikov. Za to moli za vsakega posebej vaša misijonarka s. Milena Zadravec."

Misionarkin brat je na zadnji strani Družine objavil, kar je sestra po elektronski pošti poslala pogovor med štirimi svečami in je zanimivo:

"Gorele so in dogorevale: štiri sveče. Od vsepovsod je zvenel mir, to pa tako blagodejno, da sem povsem razločno slišala pogovor, ki se je spočel med svečami. Prva je rekla: "Moje ime je MIR. Ne razumem, zakaj mi ljudje ne dajo živeti? Zakaj me ne marajo? Čemu me kar naprej preganjajo? Zakaj z mene tragojela bela oblačila in mi z glave pulijo zlate lase? Zakaj ugašajo plamene moje ljubezni in dobrote? V temo sovraštva sem oddajala luč upanja. Vsemu navkljub pa me ne sprejemajo. Ne vzdržim več. Vem, kaj bom storila...ugasnila je.

Druga sveča je rekla: Moje ime je VERA. Kaj naj za božjo voljo storim, ko se mi nihče več ne nasmehne; od vsepovsod čutim le prezir, posmek, poniranje? Za tukko me imajo. Čemu torej goreti, čemu oddajati svetobo, ko pa me pošastno duši to ozračje nenaklonjenosti. Otožne so bile njene besede; lahna sapica je sveči odpihnila zlate plamene. Moje ime je LJUBEZEN, je potrta in žalostna rekla tretja sveča. Izgnanka sem. V srcih ljudi sem prebivala, zdaj se je tam naselil moj nasprotnik - ime mu je sovraštvo. Starši med seboj, očetje in matere ter otroci, narodi se med seboj sovražijo. Ne potrebujejo me več. Izgnali so me. Čemu bi torej gorela? Zbogom - in je ugasnila. Pravljično lepa plavolaska se je poslovila; pa je bila podoba lepote, ki se je napajala iz samega božjega osrčja.

Tri ugasle sveče so utihnilo. Nastala je tema. Tedaj je pritekel otrok: nebogljén, nežen, je zastopal: Za božjo voljo, zakaj ste ugasnile, ve vendar morate goreti! Grozno me je strah. Otrok je planil v krčevit jok. Oglasila se je tedaj četrta sveča. Njen glas je bil nežen, sočuten, blag in usmiljen. Ne boj se, otrok moj, moj plamen oddaja luč vsemu navkljub. Vzemi me v roke in prižigaj vse druge sveče, ki so ugasnile; z mano lahko prižgeš vse ugasle sveče na svetu, kajti moje ime je UPANJE. Milina se je razlila čez otrokovo obliče, debelo solzo si je utrl z oči. Tiho je pristopil k sveči, jo vzel v roke ter prižgal vse druge sveče, da so spet oddajale svetobo - v temo tega sveta!"

Ko sestra Milena opazuje življenje okrog nje, ni čudno, če se ji je zdelo, da sveče predstavljajo mir, vero, ljubezen in upanje. Ko vse odpove, ostane še upanje, katerega ne smeš ugasniti. Molimo za to deželo, da ji da Nebeški Oče milost spoznanja, da smo vsi ustvarjeni po Njegovi Dobroti, torej, bratje in sestre.

postal finančni
direktor župnije

Odstavek "Poročila pastoralnega sveta":

Januarski sestanek Sveta je bil v sredo, 15. januarja. G. župnik (tj. Rev. Jože Božnar) je poročal, da je fara sv. Vida imenovala za finančnega direktorja g. Staneta Kuharja, ki bo odgovoren za upravljanje denarnih zadev in programov skladu Josepha in Antonije Mihevc; prav tako vsakega drugega farnega fonda, kakor tudi drugih finančnih zadev, ki se tičejo fare.

G. Kuhar je bil izbran zaradi njegovega dolgoletnega dela v fari, posebno v zadevah, ki se tičejo farnih financ. Na to novo delovno mesto prihaja po skoraj 26 letih službe pri Keybank.
