ROMAN

(Roman je bil spisan leta 1941)

Rahela je bila del mojega telesa in moje krvi, mislil sem, da se ne bova nikdar ločila.

V teh lepih dopoldnevih sva bila pri Krampačevih sama. Niti z Berto, niti z Jančijem nisem nikdar govoril o razmerju med menoj in Rahelo. Tako šikogrudno sta šla preko tega, kakor da se vse to ne bi dogajalo pri njima. Vsi smo vedeli, da to in zdelo se nam je samo ob sebi umevno. Drugače je bilo z Rahelino materjo in očcem. Nikdar nista hotela ničesar opaziti. Delala sta se, kakor da o vsem tem niti ne sanjata. To me je bolelo. Raheli nisem tega omenil. Nekako slutil sem, da bi bilo vsega konec, če bi njen oče posvetil le malo pozornosti temu, kar naju osrečuje.

Vedno ista bojazen se naju je polotila obeh z Rahelo vsak dan in vsak hip. "Bo to ostalo zmeraj tako?" Najina ljubezen se je s tem strahom večala. S slehernim dnem je postajala bolj nezadržna in močnejša. Proti večeru sem bil prvi pri Krampačevih. Včasih se niti večerjali niso, ko sem se z otroki že pogovarjal, jih prijemal za lica in nosil na rokah.

Mala Mara je dvignila ročice in stegnila male prste in moledovala: "Na tice, na tice."

"Kaj bi rada?" sem jo vprašal. Berta se je sukala po kuhinji in nosila moko ali mast iz shrambe.

"Mara, pusti strica," se je jezila na otroka. "Misliš, da te je željan!" Mara je držala eno roko še stegneno, z drugo pa si je dala prst v usta in čakala, kaj bom jaz rekel.

"Pusti jo no," sem se smejal. "Če bo Mara pokazala, kako je očka jezen, pa jo bom vzela." Komaj sem to povedal, že je Mara sekala s trepalnicami in takoj nato spet dvignila roko, da ji je bila košata glavica na ramah.

"Na tice, na tice."

Poleg je stal Stanko. Gledal je najprej mlajšo sestrico, nato mene. Berta se ni več zmenila za nas. Mara se je prijelja za moj svetli kolar in s prstki drsela po njem. Stanko pa je sklenil zadaj roke. Bolj resen je bil kakor Mara in se zmeraj pogovarjal tako moško, da nisem vedel, ali ima to od matere ali od očeta. Nikoli ga še nisem slišal jokati.

"Stric, vzemi me na koleno!" mi je dejal.

Oba sta zlezla k meni in mi stala v naročju. Mara mi je šla s prstkom v uho, Stanko pa mi

ANTON INGOLIČ:

MLADA LETA

POVEST

(Nadaljevanje)

Kje je Dora? Kdaj je bila na Potočju in je stikala gmajno, o kateri je toliko govoril v Parizu? Drugo jutro je spet šel na raz-stavo. Šele tedaj je opazil ostali svet ali, "v kabaretu" in "Mo-ak portret." Toda imel je oči za gmajno. Toda kje je Dora? Ves dan je prebil na razstavi dom, čeprav je bil mrzel febru-rijski veter in je sneg škripal pod njegovimi nogami. Končno je vendar vprašal po neki gospodini, ki je prodajala vstopnice. Toda ona ni nič ve-dela.

Tine tiste dni ni študiral, če-z dan je begal po ulicah in zaha-jal na razstavo, zvečer pa je ho-dil iz kavarne v kavarne. Iskal je samo Doro. In slednjič jo je našel.

Ko je sedel pozno zvečer v kavarni, je prišla nenadoma več-ja družba. V njej je bila tudi Dora.

Tine ni vedel, kaj se godi okoli njega, samo Doro je videl.

Družba je sedla blizu njega, se smejala in hrupno zabavala, da je zbujala pozornost vse kavarne. Posebno Dora. Še lepša je bila kakor pred leti. Bolj vit-ka in prožna, oči so ji kar žarele iz ozkega obraza, ki so ga ob-dajali žametasto črni lasje.

Čez čas, ko se je ozrla po ka-varni, je tudi ona zagledala Ti-ne. Za hip se je zresnila. Potem pa se je spet okrenila k družbi in živahno nekaj razlagala. To-da nenadoma je vstala in prišla k Tinetovi mizi.

"Pozdravljen, Tine," mu je stisnila roko in sedla k njemu.

Tine je strmel vanjo. Dora se je smejala in ga ob-sula z vprašanji.

Kaj dela? Kaj študira? Kako se mu godi? Je bil kaj v Parizu? In še in še.

Tine je odgovarjal samo na-pol.

Dora pa mu je povedala, da bo kmalu končala slikarsko akade-mijo v Zagrebu in je sedaj prvič razstavila. Mu ugašajo njene sli-ke?

Da. Zelo. Katere? Gmajna?

Da. A kako je prišla v Potoč-je? In kdaj?

Toda Dora ni hotela povedati, dejala je le, da si je tedaj pri Lužarjevih kupila terpentina in firneža, suha gospa ji je postre-gla. Moj Bog, kaj ji je vse po-vedala o Tinetu.

Tine je zardel in ni vedel, kaj naj reče.

A tedaj se je Dora poslovila in odšla.

Potem jo je videl še dvakrat. In vselej se mu je tako čudno nasmejala, da ga je spekle v sr-cu, in vse tiste dni je hodil ka-kor omotičen okoli. Knjige ni ves mesec odprl, da je nazadnje moral izpit odložiti na poletje.

Ne, Dore ni pozabil in je ne bo nikoli! Še vedno ga vabi in omamlja iz dalje.

In ko mu je najtežje, mu tako sladko pošepetava.

TRETJI DEL

Pričela se je šola. Tine, Mar-ta in Martica so se odpeljali na Oglenšak. V Tihoncih jih je ča-kala služkinja Marija.

Spravili so iz vlaka težke kov-čege in zaboje. Na vsakem domu sta nekaj dobila. Pri Tinetovih fižol, čebule, masti, nekaj klo-biza in kruha, pri Martinih sla-dkorja, riža, moke in raznih dru-gih malenkosti. Saj razen nizke Martine plače nista imela nič-esar, doma pa so imeli kljub sla-bim časom vsega dovolj. Tine je pred kolodvorom sestavil lesen voziček, ki ga je zadnji teden sam napravil, in naložili so vanj prtijago, na vrh vsega pa posa-dili Martico.

Počasi so se pomikali dalje, cesta je bila blatna, na lesena kolesa se je sprijemalo blato, da so morali od časa do časa usta-viti in jih osnažiti. Po ravnem je še nekako šlo, toda ko so prišli v hrib, se voziček ni in ni hotel premakniti. Marta je morala vzeti Martico, Tine in Marija pa sta vlekla z vsemi močmi.

Ko so prišli do srede poti, je začelo deževati. Marta ni mogla več nesti Martice, in tako so sta-li tam med njivami vsi štirje pod dvema dežnikoma, hiše pa no-bene v bližini.

Marto je že minila dobra vo-lja:

"Zakaj smo vzeli ta neumni voziček; ali bi si ne bili rajši najeli voznika?"

Tine pa se je smehljaj:

"Nikar ne obupajmo, bomo že prišli. Osemdeset dinarjev si pri-hranimo."

Toda ni šlo. Komaj so se za-vlekli do gozda in posedli pod smreke.

Marta je jokala.

Peto leto že hodi v hribe. Tri-krat je prosila stran, pa je niso premestili, njene tovarišice pa imajo tako lepa mesta. In spet se bo začelo to bedno življenje, ko včasih ne bodo imeli niti kru-ha, mesa pa niti vsako nedeljo ne. Sedaj so ji že zopet odtrgali od plače, da dobi samo nekaj nad tisoč dinarjev, kilogram mas-ti pa stane 18 dinarjev, za sta-novanje mora dati 150 in prav toliko služkinji. Niti toliko ji ne ostane, da bi Martici kupila ka-lko oblekico.

Tine jo je miril. Poznal jo je: sedaj bo vse spravila na dan, ko pa jo bo malo pobožal in ji govo-ril kake pol ure, se bo razjokala in nazadnje smejala ter vse volj-no pretrpela.

Toda sedaj se ni dala potola-žiti. Ko bi Tine hotel, bi bila že davno premeščena, toda on je tako trmast in noče pristopiti k tisti stranki, ki je baš tedaj na vladi, ko Marta vlaga prošnjo za premestitev. Zakaj pa drugi tako delajo in vse dosežejo! In tudi z njegovo službo še ni nič, ker ne mara iti h kakemu pos-lancu, ki bi ga priporočil pri ministru. Ne, ona bo morala ostati večno na Oglenšaku, več-no v tisti samotni med viničarji in težaki, da bo nazadnje oto-pela ali se pa končala.

Your Health Center

(This is another of a series of articles on Newton D. Baker Health Center and its services)

If you walk by the Newton D. Baker Health Center, at 1465 East 55 Street on a Tuesday or Friday morning you will see a procession of baby carriages on their way to the Well Baby Clinic at the Center. Let's follow one of these carriages inside and see what happens. In the first carriage there is Tommy Jones, a bright-eyed young man of four months. This is not his first trip to the Clinic—he has been coming in for a check-up since he was six weeks old. Each month Tommy's weight is checked by a nurse and he is examined by a Clinic pediatrician. A report of his progress is given to his mother at each visit.

During a visit the doctor may prescribe a new formula for Tommy and recommend additions to his diet. Tommy's mother will also receive some valuable suggestions from the doctor on child care and can ask any questions that puzzle her. Tommy's parents happen to need financial assistance at this time, and so milk is provided—as well as Vitamin D and ascorbic acid upon the doctor's prescription.

This is a special day for Tommy—he is four months old and he will be started on his immunization schedule. Today he will get the first of a series of three shots which will protect him against diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough. At five and six months he will receive his other two shots. When he comes in for his third shot he will also be vaccinated against smallpox.

Tommy is well on his way to becoming a normal, healthy and happy child. Every infant from birth until he is two is welcome at the Well Baby Clinic nearest his home.

SNPJ NEWS AND COMMENTS

J. F. Fifolt

Comrades Bowlers' Dance—Friday, March 24th

Bowlers' Dance sponsored by Lodge Comrades will be held Friday, March 24th at the Slovenian National Home, St. Clair Avenue, with music by Joe Lasicky and his Mercury Recording Orchestra. Joe has an up and coming band, which is rapidly rising in popularity. Cards have been mailed to all members requesting their cooperation in putting in an appearance. Bowlers themselves have been asked to dispose of at least five tickets. If everyone does their bit, we should have another successful event.

National Bowling Tournament

The National Bowling Tournament to be held in Johnstown, Pa., April 28, 29 and 30th should draw a good number of entries from Cleveland. If you are interested in going be sure to notify Pauline Ross. Bus reservations are being handled by Agnes Stefanic. If you intend to have a place to sleep, get going on your hotel reservation. Don't wait until the last minute.

Bowling

As the various leagues are heading for the home stretch, the race is getting tighter and tighter. Any week can result in a team changing two or three notches. Writer stopped by to watch the ladies league in action last week, also to distribute the prize money won at the Eastern Invitational. While there we had time to wish Fran Preseren a happy birthday. A glance at the results of the prize winners at the Eastern showed our pros on top. This is something that we'll have to contend with unless changes are made. Eventually the tournaments may have to go to a 100% handicap basis, in order to give the weaker bowlers an even break with the best. The National Athletic Board will probably discuss this problem at their next meeting. In the meantime some of the SNPJ members might have something to contribute on this problem.

General

Among the thousand of the gentle sex, writer attended the recent Spring Style Show put on by Caro Fran Bridal Shoppe, Vi Martin Style Shoppe and Kindig Fur from Barberton, Ohio, at the Slovenian National Home on St. Clair Avenue, last Wednesday. The attendance surprised everyone, the hall was packed. The display of breath taking bridal and formal gowns, dresses, suits, unmentionables that the ladies wear, furs, etc. was taken care off by local girl models who did an excellent job. Local florists including Comrade member Mike Suhadolc, Cerne Jewelry, participated in the show. Many Comrade members were present including Mickey Moze, right in the front row, who soon will take the fatal step. Carol Traven and Vi Martin, wife of genial Heine Martin, long time member, deserve credit for a job well done. The show also demonstrated that our Slovene gals need not take a back seat for any group when it comes to pulchritude. In view of the success of the show the affair could well become an annual event.

Sick and ailing: Hermine Legan and Elsie Jeglich. Frank Usnik all set again. We're glad to hear that Mr. Skok and Mr. Vehar, recently hospitalized, are on the mend again.

Dues collection: Saturday, March 25th. Make a memo of this.

BUSINESSMEN'S BOWLING LEAGUE A GREAT SUCCESS!

Every Wednesday afternoon a lively group of business and professional men engage in a bowling session. It's a real treat to see the young and old, some good, some not so good, but all enjoying the games which range anywhere from 69 to 236.

The deans of the league are Messrs. Anton Anzlovar and Joe Zalokar. They bowled 20 years ago in the old Merchants League at Joe Pozelnik's Norwood Alleys. Both these venerable gentlemen haven't bowled since then. Now they're back in the groove along with Mr. Anton Malensek displaying the same spirit as their younger contemporaries.

There are more than 40 participants who meet Wednesday afternoon at Grdina Rec. Included are dentists, undertakers, florists, Supreme Officers of Fraternal Organizations, hardwaremen, bankers, tavern and restaurant keepers, bakers, furniture dealers, windowwashers, butchers, grocers, truck-owners, and machinery dealers.

To keep law and order even a policeman is enrolled with this fine group.

Plans are in the making for next Fall to add four more teams to make it an even twelve. Anyone interested can enroll now for next season by calling Grdina Recreation, EN 1-9398. One doesn't necessarily have to have an office in the St. Clair area to qualify.

Before the close of this season the Businessmen's Pro League will decide upon a date for a dinner and possibly a picnic in summer.

Eddie Cantor Comes to Cleveland Sunday

It will be Eddie Cantor's first visit to Cleveland in more than twenty years. "My Forty Years in the Show Business" as he calls the newest phase of his career and has stated that he received his most enthusiastic reception since the Ziegfeld days and couldn't recall when he had so enjoyed doing a performance.

Cantor remains on the stage throughout the entire evening and offers an inspired concoction of the humorous, the dramatic, the nostalgic and the melodic—the supreme output of his forty years in the show business.

As the creator of the March of Dimes and Gift for a Yank campaign and the director of numberless fund-raising drives, Cantor is well equipped to develop his theme: the power of show business. He related his experience with presidents, kings, prime ministers, and the greats of the show world. Once again you will hear songs like "Mandy," "My Wife's Gone to the Country," "Margie," "If You Knew Susie," and lots more.

Wedding Bells

Last Sunday, March 19th, Miss Bertha Erste and Dr. Hinko Lobe were married in Immaculate Conception Church, Madison, Ohio.

Miss Erste, the daughter of the well-known Mr. and Mrs. Louis Erste, 6209 Schade Avenue, and proprietors of a winery at 6802 St. Clair Avenue, is popular for her stage appearances in the past in the Slovenian National Home on St. Clair Avenue.

The groom, born in Zagradec, studied in Ljubljana, where he completed law studies. He came to America in June, 1949.

The couple have gone to Pueblo, Colorado, where the groom has relatives.

Congratulations!

Vacationing

Greetings arrived this week from Mr. and Mrs. Matt Beros of the Beros Studio, 6116 St. Clair Avenue, who are vacationing in St. Petersburg, Fla. Enroute to Florida they stopped in New Orleans, La., to visit relatives they hadn't seen for 37 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley and Mary Pluth send greetings and best wishes to all friends, from sunny Florida, where they are vacationing. Stanley is secretary of the Slovenian Society Home on Recher Avenue. His wife, the former Mary Vidmar, is employed at the St. Clair Savings & Loan Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Zakrajsek of the Zakrajsek Funeral Home, St. Clair Avenue, are vacationing in St. Petersburg, Fla.
